IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

THE HOME FOSTERING CHRISTIAN IDEALS

LESSON TEXT—Deuteronomy 6:4-9; Luke 2:51, 52; Ephesians 2:22, 23; 6:1-4.
GOLDEN TEXT—Be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you—Ephesians 4:32.

"Juvenile delinquency" is an expression often heard in our day. It speaks of the awful way in which our boys and girls have gone astray spiritually and morally in recent years. Fortunately, we are beginning to realize that most of the blame falls on the parents. It is parental delinquency in the matter of proper rearing of the children which needs our earnest attention. The home is the right place for the fostering of Christian principles of living, but all too often even Christian people have put that whole load on the Sunday school and church. They can help, but they cannot do the job which should be done in the home.

Home should be a place where:
I. God's Word Is Accepted (Deut. 6:4-9).

The Bible teaches us the truth about God and that is information of the highest value and usefulness in the home. He is our God, and He is one God. There is no other God, and at the same time this infinite and eternal One is very close to us—our God. How precious! The acceptance of the truth concerning God draws forth our love toward Him. He is not like the heathen gods who cause only cringing fear. He loves us and we love Him, with all our might (v. 3).

This Word of God and the truth concerning Him should be the normal and natural subject of conversation in the home.

Any time, night or day, and anywhere, in the house or on the street, it should be as easy for a boy to talk to his father about God as to discuss his school work, or sports, or any other thing.

Let's make it a natural, normal, accepted thing that God and His Word are talked about in the home.

II. Growth Is Expected (Luke 2:51, 52).

In the well-ordered home the child finds his place as Jesus did, as an obedient, well-mannered, co-operative member. There, too, is the natural place for normal, well-balanced development. There must first be growth in wisdom. The mind and will must be in control, lest the physical get out of hand. They must develop, even as the body grows. Thus the growth of the body becomes not just an animal development, but one amenable to proper restraints, cultivated and poised for full usefulness.

But the home fails if it does not at the same time give the child a chance to grow "in favor with God and man." The boy Jesus continued to grow in gracious personality, with both God and man as the interested recipients of the fruits of His spiritual development.

Every home should be a Christian home and every Christian home should be a center of normal growth for children. This should give us cultured Christian men and women for the next generation.

III. Love Is Expressed (Eph. 5:22, 25).

Love is not just a warm and tender feeling hidden away in the heart. It shows in the homely details of daily life in the home.

A Christian wife expresses her affection for her husband by giving him his God-appointed place as head of the house. There is a graceful and voluntary submission to God's plan for the home which makes for order and unity. Happy is the woman who seeks that peace and lives in it! Her life will be blessed!

A Christian husband will learn to control that natural masculine tendency to dominate. He will study the gentle art of courtesy and kindly affection. He will love his wife as Christ loved the Church, and that means a willingness to both live and die for her.

Christianity really should show forth at its very best in the home. But, alas, so often just the contrary is true! Let us get that thing straightened out and keep it right!

IV. Rights Are Respected (Eph. 6:1-4).

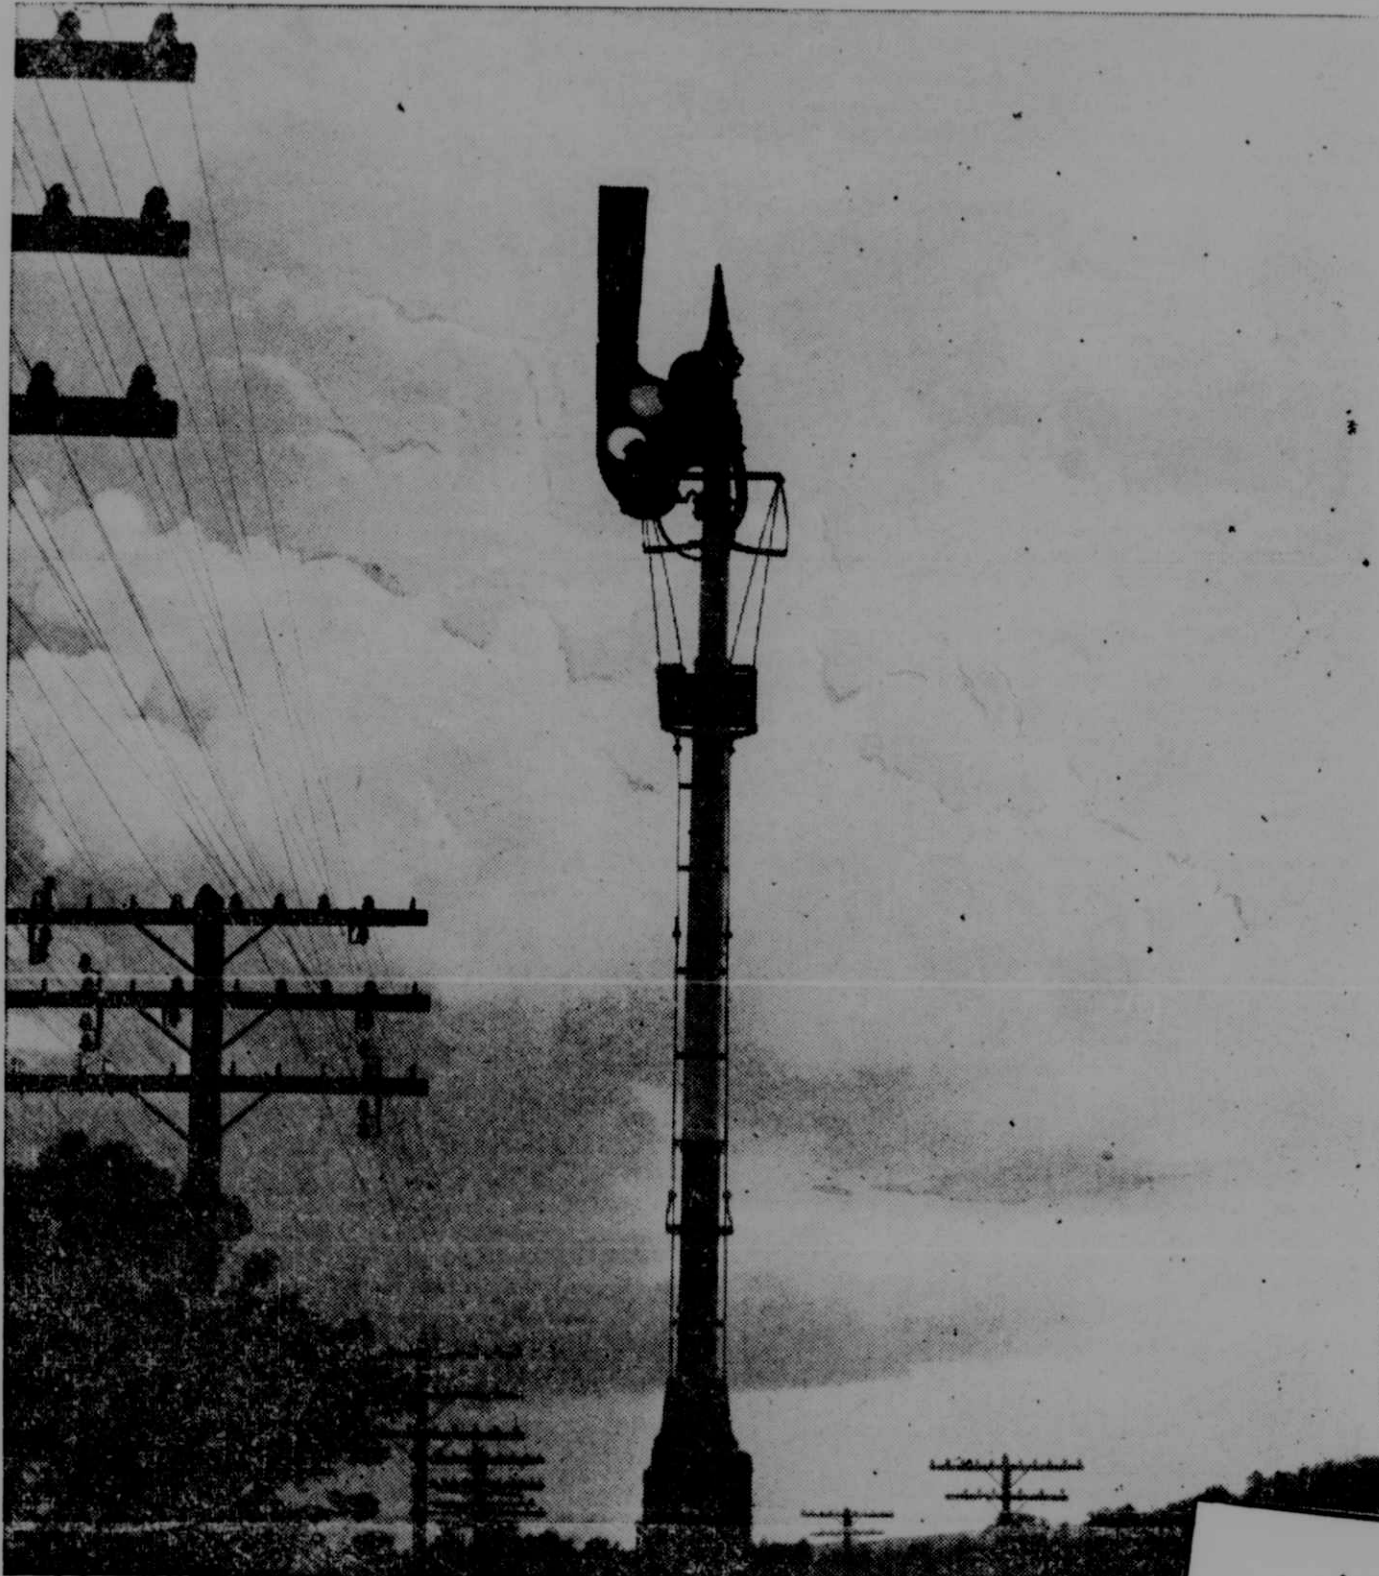

Mutual devotion between husband and wife, and mutual trust between parents and children—there we have the basis of a real God-honoring home.

We must give attention to the matter of a fair and full recognition of the rights of others. The parent who rides roughshod over the wills of his children need not profess to be a true follower of Christ. Likewise, children who are disobedient and insolent to their parents have no real testimony for Christ.

This business of being a Christian is real. It calls for right living everywhere, and that must begin at home. In the home the parent and child must both learn and live the high standards of Christ.

V.

The Navy drew plans for its post-war fleet and allocated a secondary position to aircraft carriers. This stand was criticized by many air-navy men.

CLEAR AHEAD!

There was a day when trains crawled; and engineers grew gray worrying about the rails ahead. Every curve was a threat of death . . . for who could be sure that the track was clear!

Then came the automatic signal . . . and with it safety and speed.

But along the rails of life many are still crawling . . . fearing . . . wondering what disaster may lie ahead. How can a man have faith in the future? How can he know that the paths he has chosen are safe and certain? How can he be sure he is on the right track?

Centuries before men spanned the continents with bands of steel, the Church was pointing humanity to the signals that cannot fail. And still, today, in its preaching and instruction the Church is revealing the precepts and warnings by which God guides and protects men.

It is sheer folly to "run blind" over unknown rails! Let the Church help you discover the road that is clear ahead.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the Church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Church on Sunday.

THE EDITOR'S COLUMN

When the war began, Swift & Company adopted the following wartime policy:

"We will co-operate to the fullest extent with the U. S. Government to help win the war. We will do everything possible to safeguard the high quality of our products. Despite wartime difficulties, we will make every effort to distribute available civilian supplies to insure a fair share for all customers everywhere."

Under the present conditions, meat packers know that there is no profit advantage in shipping meat long distances as compared with selling it nearby. OPA regulations set prices, by zones and areas, that meat packers may charge for beef, lamb, veal and pork. The United States is divided into ten zones for beef, lamb and veal and five for pork. Each has its own base price for each kind of meat. Additions to the base price are allowed for transportation and local delivery. These allowances are the very minimum and in many instances do not cover the actual cost of transportation, icing, and shrinkage.

Consequently, meat packers are better off when they sell close to their producing plants.

In general, the net money they receive is greater the closer to the plant the sale is made. But despite this, Swift & Company has voluntarily adhered to its wartime policy of fair distribution. Starting in July 1945, all meat packers were required by OPA regulations to distribute their meats to the same areas they did the first three months of 1944.

"IDLE" LAND IN SOUTH PRODUCES BEEF

The beef cattle population in North Carolina has nearly doubled in recent years. And even so-called "idle land" is being put to profitable use, particularly in the Coastal Plain. Pasture feeding trials conducted by the Agricultural Experiment Station and cooperating agencies demonstrate that even reeds can be pastured the year 'round, provided protein supplements are added during the winter months. The result of one of these trials is interesting—400-pound steer calves were turned into a reed area that was not grazed during the summer. They were fed a supplement of 4 pounds of cottonseed meal per head daily. From November to May these calves made an average gain of 120 pounds. In May they were turned into another reed pasture, and they made an additional average gain of 140 pounds by November on reeds alone.

In another North Carolina 80-day feeding trial, 90-pound pigs, self-fed shelled corn and a supplement of equal parts of cottonseed meal, peanut oil meal and soybean oil meal, plus ground limestone and salt, made an average daily gain of 1.77 pounds and gained 100 pounds for each 415 pounds of feed consumed.

GOOD YEAR TIRES

Respect Owners' Rights . . .

FARMERS and other property owners seem to be more indignant this year than ever before about the lack of respect by so-called "sportsmen" for the property over which they hunt, and these farmers are expressing their indignation more than ever before by posting their land.

Most of the criticism seems to be aimed, not at Garrett County persons, but the hunters from Allegany County and other parts of the State.

"They seem to take it for granted they own the entire county and can tear down your fences, walk over your fields, break down gates or leave them open, and come right to your front door with a loaded gun," one farmer remarked yesterday. "We are all getting tired of it," he continued. "If they can't respect our property rights and be fair about it, they'll find most of the Garrett County farm people solidly against them."

Some dissatisfaction has been voiced each year as the hunting season progresses, but there is no doubt that it is more intense this year and more determination to keep out "foreign hunters."

Most farmers are quick to remark they don't object to their neighbors or people who come to them and get permission. They are fairly certain that such persons will be careful and cause no damage to property.

Bringing this to the attention of the public should be sufficient to correct the evils of these practices. Farmers will be more than fair to visiting hunters if the latter will assume a sense of fairness themselves.

The county as a whole benefits from these visitors and they shouldn't be driven out. But the farmer is not to be blamed if what they say is true. The frequency of the complaints seems to be sufficient evidence that there is a definite lack of sportsmanship among these out-of-county "sportsmen."

Garrett WAC Named Captain in Pacific

A year after she left the United States, Elizabeth Browning Catucci, of Sang Run, has been promoted to captain in the Women's Army Corps. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Browning, she is now in the personnel section of Lieut. Gen. W. D. Styer's Manila headquarters, army forces, Western Pacific.

A former student of journalism in Washington, she enlisted in the WAC in December, 1942. Following basic training at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, she was a member of the first class of the WAC Army Administration school, Nacogdoches, Texas. The following May she was selected to attend officers' candidate school. After commissioning she was on recruiting duty in Baltimore and Cumberland.

When the WAC was changed to the 8th service command in Dallas, Texas, as WAC public relations officer, she was promoted to first lieutenant in July, 1944, before receiving her overseas training at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. Transferred to Oro Bay, New Guinea, she became administrative officer in the special service section of that base in August, 1944. One of her most memorable experiences overseas was her flight to Hollandia in an ATC freight plane with a number of other officers and enlisted personnel during which time she acted as co-pilot for two hours of the trip.

At Hollandia she was assigned to the personnel section where she now serves. Arriving in Manila in April, the captain has been in charge of all enlisted personnel assignments in the Army Service forces, Western Pacific in addition to assigning those replacements arriving from the United States.

Captain Catucci interviews and reassigns combat-fatigued and wounded men to the service forces in the assignment for which they are best fitted. She has 49 points and 2 campaign stars for New Guinea and Luzon.

Two brothers are also in service. First Lieutenant R. Condon Browning, USMCR, has returned from the Pacific as a pilot recently. John Browning is a naval air corps gunner at Floyd Bennett Field, Florida.

Medical Care Program To Begin November 1

The medical care program for indigent persons in Garrett and Allegany counties is expected to go into operation November 1. Dr. Winter R. Frantz, acting county health officer, announced.

The state has appropriated $200,000 to carry out the program with Garrett county's share estimated at $90,000.00 or $750.00 monthly.

The program was presented to a Garrett county medical board at a meeting on September 18 and the program has been approved, according to Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, member of the committee. Dr. Frantz is chairman of the medical boards in both counties.

He announced that letters are being prepared to be sent to all doctors, dentists and pharmacists in both counties, describing the services which will be offered under the program.

Services to be provided by physicians include home and office visits, emergency medical and emergency surgical hospital care, and both home and hospital obstetrical care.

Those to be provided by dentists include acute and elective dental care. The latter type refers to dental work which is not absolutely necessary, but which may be authorized at the dentist's discretion.

Physicians and dentists will send their bills to the county board of health, which will pay the bills from the state appropriation. County pharmacists who fill prescriptions under the program, and physicians who dispense drugs costing more than fifty cents to indigent persons, will also bill the board of health.

Grass Fire Extinguished

The Oakland Firemen were called yesterday afternoon to extinguish a grass fire which had gotten beyond control in rear of the property of Mrs. Earl Durst, on Oak street.

There was no damage.

Returns to Practice

Dr. A. E. Mance, who spent almost five years in the service in the army medical corps as a captain and major, has been honorably discharged from the service and has returned to Oakland to resume his medical practice.

The Mance building, corner of Third and Center streets, has been occupied for several years by the U. S. Employment service and this office is being moved to the Joseph Hinebaugh building, formerly the Broadwater building, on Third street, so that Dr. Mance may reopen his office in his own property.

Dr. Mance spent thirty-nine months with a medical detachment at Fort George G. Meade, then was overseas with the 157th general hospital for a year, returning to the States on August 11. From that time until his discharge on September 30th he was stationed at the Northington General hospital in Tuscaloosa, Ala.

Parents Have Lively Discussion On School Problems

A more lively discussion than usual with a number of parents participating was in evidence at the opening meeting of the Oakland Elementary Parent-Teacher association held Tuesday evening in the school auditorium, according to Emerie Dusic, president.

Both topics came in for their share of the discussion which concerned continuation of the hot lunch program and the inadequacy of playground equipment.

The difficulties under which the association had worked in previous years in furnishing hot lunches for the school children in unsuitable quarters was outlined, and a committee was appointed to confer with the County Commissioners to see if any improvements could be made. The committee includes Mrs. Drake Naylor Bennett, William W. Naeve, Walter DeBerry and Mrs. Richard Glatfelter.

The need for additional playground space was also pointed out and a committee consisting of the president, C. A. Phillips and Mrs. Mary Linn Warfield was named to investigate the possibility of purchasing the McComas lot adjoining the present playground.

Credit Available But Not Farms At Reasonable Prices

Qualified World War II veterans who want to buy family-size farms in Allegany and Garrett counties will have little trouble getting adequate credit but may have trouble finding farms which can be bought at reasonable prices, William H. Babylon, County Supervisor for the Farm Security Administration, said today.

Babylon said that the "GI Bill of Rights" makes veterans eligible for Bankhead-Jones Farm Purchase Loans on the same basis as tenants. These loans, made through FSA, may be for as much as $12,000 and are repayable over 40 years at three percent interest.

"The veteran's big problem will be to find a farm which can be bought at its long-time earning capacity value," Babylon said.

He said there are plenty of Allegany and Garrett county farms for sale, but that prices are far from fair. The County FSA Advisory Committee, which Babylon said must approve all farm purchase loans, had indicated it will turn down any application to buy a farm at more than its earning capacity value.

Babylon said that he and members of the Committee, all local farmers, are helping veterans search for good farm purchase opportunities. "So far the pickings have been slim," Babylon said.

Grows Prize Taking Potatoes

Snyder Neville is exhibiting some prize-winning potatoes which he grew on a little plot of ground in the rear of his home on Third street.

Fifteen potatoes which he brought to his shop yesterday weighed thirteen pounds, the largest one of the lot weighed 1 1/2 pounds. They are the Mason variety.

His crop totals about 30 bushels, he stated. This makes him not only the "best hunter" but the best potato raiser in the county," he jokingly remarked.

O. H. S. Parent-Teacher Association To Meet

The Oakland High school Parent-Teacher association will meet next Wednesday evening, October 24, at 8 o'clock, for a get-acquainted meeting. This is purely a social meeting, according to Mrs. Leo Helbig, president, and there will be refreshments.

CELEBRATION ON HALLOWE'EN TO BE BIG AFFAIR

Will Reach Old-time Proportions With Large Number of Prizes Offered For Paraders

A Halloween celebration on the old-time proportions is being planned for Wednesday night, October 31, it was announced this morning by Alva G. Gortner, member of the band committee of the Oakland Fire department, with one hundred or more prizes to be offered for participation in the mammoth mummies' parade.

The celebration was announced several weeks ago, and since that time many prizes have been contributed by merchants and business men. There are to be awards for organizations, groups, bands and fire companies, and for a large number of individuals. Many of the prizes will be cash awards. A complete list of the prizes and what they will be given for will be announced next week. Mr. Gortner said. In addition, a $50.00 war bond will be given away.

The parade of merry-makers will get underway at 7 o'clock, followed by games, dancing, etc., on Second street. Weather permitting, there will be both round and square dancing and places will be roped off in the business section for these events. Prizes will be awarded immediately after the parade.

The band committee of the Fire department includes T. Joseph Stanton, Richard Glatfelter, Emory Bolden, L. M. Fraley and Mr. Gortner, and they are working with a committee from the Oakland Band which includes William Hesen, James Smart, William Lambert, Jack Liller and Earl Fauler.

This will be the first Halloween celebration of any consequence since the war began. Formerly such occasions attracted 500 or more persons to take part in the parade and hundreds of others as interested spectators. The planned celebration in former years was always an aid in reducing mischievous pranks and vandalism throughout the community.

Md.'s Victory Loan Will Open Soon

Schools Again Play Part; Executive Committee Announced

The Victory Loan Drive, summoning the nation to "finish the job," will open in Maryland this month (October 20) to raise a state quota of $170,000,000 in Victory Bonds.

S. Fane Nelson, President of the Savings Bank of Baltimore, is the newly-appointed chairman of the Maryland War Finance Committee for the Victory Loan. In accepting the appointment, Mr. Nelson strongly urged the full support of every individual and corporation in the State "from school children buying war stamps to large organizations investing heavily in Government securities to put the country's last war bond drive substantially over its quota."

"The Victory Loan is an absolute necessity for Government financing at this time," Mr. Nelson continued, "and I feel confident that every Marylander will be ready to buy bonds needed to purchase vast supplies of medical equipment for our war wounded, to supply and maintain our occupation forces in Germany and Japan, to cover veterans' benefits and to meet the many costs of reconstruction from war to peace."

Maryland schools will again play an important part in carrying out the war bond program in the State. Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., State Education Chairman for the Victory Loan, has announced that students of public, private and parochial schools have been asked to finance completely equipped "Victory Loan units" for 472 Army, Navy and Air Force veterans as their part in the Victory Loan.

A pre-drive campaign already has been launched in city and county schools to start the sale of bonds for the hospital facilities and will continue after the Victory Loan ends on December 8 until the schools close for Christmas vacation.

Several county schools have announced their quotas for the drive. Catonsville High School will work towards a goal of four $3,000 "units," which will cover complete medical and hospital care for four wounded veterans. Oak Grove School in Upper Marlboro, Prince Georges County, has opened a campaign to buy enough Victory Bonds to finance a hospital bed and wheel chair.

Franklin High School, at Rockville, Md., is planning to make the first week in November "Victory Loan Week" and Victory Loan activities will be particularly emphasized during that time. The Sixth District Comprehensive School at Freetown, will sponsor a Victory Loan program on October 18.

Nanticoke High School at Nanticoke, Wicomico County, has set aside the dates between October 25 and October 31 to hold an "all out" effort for the Victory Loan. Allegheny High School at Cumberland is staging a Victory Loan poster contest in the art department of the school.

Governor O'Connor and Mayor Theodore R. McMillin of Baltimore will serve as the only honorary members of the State Executive Committee during the Victory Loan. Among those who will serve as active members are:

Valter N. Ruhl, executive vice-chairman; Major General Philip Hayes, Commanding the Third Service Command; Mrs. Sydney M. Cone, Women's Division; and Helene D. Baker, of Frederick, county activities.

Dr. Thomas B. Symons, Dean of the Agricultural College of the University of Maryland, chairman of agriculture; the Reverend Doctor Leo J. McGonick, state superintendent of parochial schools; Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, state education director; and Dr. David E. Weglein, director of Baltimore schools, all representing state schools in the drive.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS . . .

By FRANK R. KENT.

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

CAUSE AND EFFECTS

Washington, Oct. 13.

Echoes of the London Foreign Ministers' Conference still reverberate through Washington. As he says, the President may not consider the conference a failure. But nearly everyone else does. In Mr. Truman's position, perhaps, one has to be optimistic and cannot speak frankly. Other conferences must be held. The great cause of world peace cannot be allowed to sag. We cannot afford to "get mad." The goal is so great and it is so vital to achieve it that almost any sacrifice short of complete national self-respect is justified.

Nevertheless, there is no sense in not facing realities. More is to be gained than lost by candor. There is no point in minimizing either the cause of the conference breakdown or its effect. From our standpoint—and that of the British, the French and the Chinese the cause was the recalcitrance of the Russians. Secretary Byrnes has made clear that that is the way he feels about it. That is the way, too, the Senators of the Foreign Affairs Committee, to whom he reported, feel and that is the general feeling as reflected in the dispatches from London and the editorials at home.

Of course, the Russians do not feel that they were recalcitrant at all. Their quite natural view is that they were right and the recalcitrancy all on the other side. Without arguing the merits of the conflicting positions, the facts seem to be that the Russians took our stand at first, then reversed themselves, took another stand and stuck to it. We, with the British, French and Chinese disagreed but offered various compromises. Russian rejection of these ended the conference—with a complete lack of achievement it was found impossible even to issue a communiqué—which was without precedent.

This is a simple statement of the reason the conference failed. It does not enter into the argument of whether the Russians are right or wrong in their general idea that all decisions should be made by the Big Three; that the role of the other nations should be that of observers without a vote; that this was in accord with the Potsdam agreement. Our side did not agree and in the course of the discussion there seems to have been some personal bitterness engendered. This, however, will not last, certainly will not interfere with future meetings and can be dismissed as relatively unimportant. The things at stake are much too big to be decided by matters of personal likes and dislikes.

Now as to the effects of the conference failure in this country—they were mostly—but not altogether—unfortunate. It is true the Russians have sacrificed considerable good will. They easily may regain it, but at the moment there is a general disposition to regard them as almost too difficult to deal with. A second effect has been to drive the British and ourselves into a closer union. Plainly before this it is to be seen that our conception of democracy is identical with theirs and our international objectives, as well as our methods, the same. This bears out the conviction of so many experienced men that in any international conference it is inevitable that the British and Americans should act together.

One beneficial effect was the demonstration that in foreign affairs there seems to be very little party politics in this country. Though this is a Democratic Administration, the course of the Secretary of State in London and his speech following the adjournment have not been criticized by Republican politicians or journalists. Rather, they have been approved. Partly, this was due to the foresight of Mr. Byrnes in taking to the conference Mr. John Foster Dulles, as a colleague and adviser. Mr. Dulles, a Republican and close friend of Governor Dewey's, was similarly employed at both Dumbarton Oaks and San Francisco. He says the conference was not a complete loss by any means, though he is not very convincing about that. However, his cordial cooperation with Mr. Byrnes is reason for feeling that our foreign policy may eventually get upon a really non-partisan basis.

A final effect is the diminishing chance that we shall lend the Russians the six billion dollars which they seek. Some weeks ago the New Deal and CIO Senator Claude Pepper, of Florida, came back from Moscow after a talk with Marshal Stalin, aflame with enthusiasm for making this loan. Perhaps, he is still flaming, but public sentiment for the loan, never very strong, undoubtedly has lessened. On the other hand, the favorable feeling in Congress for the British loan has increased. There will not be much dispute concerning the effects above cited. On balance, they seem not too bad. One can argue that the cause of peace has had a setback for one can argue that the failure and the bitterness at London are really for the best; that the atmosphere is clearer; that each side knows more about the other; that the next conference will see real progress. In any event, there seems nothing in the situation to make that impossible.

WHO'S UNFAIR TO WHO?

FOR THE RECIPE FILE

With local fruits and berries scarce for jams, preserves, and jellies, many of us will be turning to orange marmalade for our winter spread.

Following is a recipe which substitutes honey for some of the needed sugar.

HONEY ORANGE MARMALADE
2 oranges, medium; 1/4 grapefruit, medium; 1 1/2 lemons; 4 1/2 cups water per pound of fruit; 3/4 pound sugar per pound of fruit and liquid; 1/4 pound honey per pound of fruit and liquid.

Cut the fruit into very thin slices, cut each slice into eighths, remove the seeds, the pithy inner portion, and about 1/2 of the orange rind. Add the water to the fruit and let stand in the refrigerator 24 hours. Remove. Boil steadily for about 1 hour, or until the rind is tender and slightly translucent. Weigh the fruit and liquid and add the required amount of sugar. Boil slowly until it reaches 214 degrees F., add the required amount of honey, and cook to 218 degrees F. Remove from stove and seal in sterilized glasses. Yield: Approximately one quart.

HONEY OATMEAL COOKIES
1/2 cup shortening, 1 cup honey, 1 egg, 1 1/2 cups sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1 2/3 cups of oatmeal, 4 tablespoons sour milk, 1/2 cup chopped peanuts, 1 cup raisins.

Cream shortening. Add the honey and blend. Stir in the egg. Sift together dry ingredients and add oatmeal. Add dry ingredients alternately with milk to shortening and honey mixture. Stir in nuts and raisins. Drop by spoonful upon a greased pan or baking sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 15 minutes. Yield: 3 dozen cookies.

Your Help Vital

THE NEED of the National War Fund for finances is actually greater than ever this year. There are vast troop movements over thousands of miles. Help and entertainment must be carried farther than ever, and these men and women need more than food and a place to sleep to enable them to keep up their morale until they are all returned home.

What they receive through the USO, United Seamen's Service and War Prisoners' Aid are things that help sustain them.

The need for aid in liberated countries is pressing. This is going to be a fatal year for millions of men, women and children if we do not help them. The need at home is still great.

Garrett County citizens are asked to raise $4,800. For the past two years they have passed the six thousand mark. We can put over the final war fund campaign if every one of us realizes that the actual end of the war did not end the necessity for the USO and other war fund agencies.

Give generously to this worthy cause and don't let it be said that the people at home turned their backs on the ones still in the service in their final need.

MURDER CHARGE ISSUED AS LOMAN WILT SUCCUMBS

A warrant charging Herman Ray Fazenbaker, 23, of the Bittering section, with murder, was issued in Oakland yesterday by Magistrate H. A. Loraditch. The formal charge was brought by Sheriff George E. Codrington, after Loman Wilt, 42, of near Bittering, who was shot last Wednesday night, passed away in Memorial hospital, Cumberland, about 11:30 yesterday morning.

Fazenbaker had been held without bond in the county jail since last Thursday morning pending outcome of Wilt's wound. He will be given a formal hearing sometime next week, according to Neil C. Fraley, State's Attorney.

Neil C. Fraley, state's attorney, said he was informed that Wilt and Allen Stanton were hunting together in the woods earlier in the day and were walking homeward on a back road when they heard a shot fired. They spotted Fazenbaker in the woods by a carlight light on his hat and turned a flashlight on him. Fraley said Fazenbaker promptly fired.

The shot from the weapon struck Wilt in the abdomen, groin and right arm. Stanton took the injured man to Cumberland hospital and he underwent an operation shortly after being admitted.

Fazenbaker admits firing the shot, Fraley said, and added that the youth told him the light from the flashlight scared him. According to Fraley, Fazenbaker told him he was hunting deer out of season. He said his first shot was fired at what he thought was a deer.

Grantsville Boy on Super Destroyer

Super destroyer was the name given to the USS Brush, launched at Staten Island, N. Y., a year ago last spring, and which has operated in the Pacific for over a year. Harley McKenzie, Jr., of Grantsville, is a member of the crew.

Recently stationed off Japan with the fleet guarding the Occupation Forces, this destroyer was war-designed and built to drive the Japanese planes out of the sky with its six five-inch guns, many four millimeter and twenty millimeter guns. Under direct air attack six different times—div bombers off Luzon, night bombers off Iwo Jima, "Suicides" off Okinawa, and all types of Tokyo—bombs beat them off without losing a single man. "Passers-by" afforded many targets and those unlucky Japs received a destructive hail of lead!

The crew of the Brush has won stars for the Leyte, Luzon, Iwo Jima and Okinawa campaigns plus the Philippine Liberation ribbon with a star. Not a single man was lost in combat.

Injured In Car Wreck

Joseph Hinebaugh, Jr., miraculously escaped serious injury on Saturday night when he overturned his father's automobile while returning to Oakland, at a point near the Youghiogheny River bridge at Crollin. He was alone at the time.

Hinebaugh was thrown clear of the wreck and sustained a number of cuts and bruises about his face and body but no bones were broken. The automobile was badly damaged, almost beyond repair.

New Residents Are Advised to Declare Intentions to Vote

New residents in the state were advised this week by W. D. Casteel, chairman of the Republican State Central committee for Garrett county, to declare their intentions of becoming a voter of Maryland, before November 5.

If they declare their intentions before that time they will be eligible to register later and vote in the 1946 election. Otherwise they will not be able to exercise their right of franchise.

Persons may declare their intentions by appearing at the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court or by filling out a form that is available at that office.

Warns Against Destructive Trends Around Hallowe'en

With more than the average amount of pre-Hallowe'en vandalism occurring in Oakland, Mayor Lawrence M. Fraley this morning issued a warning that destruction of property, damage to automobiles and auto tires, use of soap and other things to damage automobiles and properties, would not be tolerated and that any offenders would be prosecuted.

He called attention to the fact that some group had gone so far as to tamper with a mail storage box on Second street, which is a federal offense and would not be treated lightly. Breaking of light bulbs was another offense, he said, that would cause additional trouble to young people, if caught.

He declared the Firemen were arranging the Hallowe'en celebration to give the young people an outlet for their energies, and that these destructive tendencies were not going to be allowed. Extra policemen are being assigned.

Inducements For Enlistments Given

Special inducements are being offered to individuals who enlist in the armed forces at this time, according to Lt. Harry C. McKinley, from the Cumberland Recruiting office, 111 Union street.

If the enlistment occurs within 20 days following discharge of a veteran, advantages are given with the person retaining his rank at time of discharge except a private is advanced to private first class automatically. If enlistment occurs within three months the person is entitled to $50 extra per year and 30 days furlough for each year of prior service. If enlistment is within twenty days all pay continues as at time of discharge.

Those enlisting now can retire after 20 years at one-half base pay, plus longevity, or at 30 years at 75 percent of base pay, plus longevity.

On three-year enlistments the choice of service and theatre of operations is granted.

Game Commissioners Give Recommendations

At a meeting of the State Game and Inland Fish commission in Baltimore last week some action was taken of interest to Garrett counties.

1. Recommendations to the State employment commissioner to increase salary scale of Maryland's district deputy game wardens from $1,500, $1,875 annually to $1,700-$2,152, and regional wardens up to $2,500.

2. Decision to continue the present bag limit of wild turkeys at one per day and one per season.

3. Authorization of state game warden to establish deer-checking stations in Garrett and Allegany counties. These stations are to be set up at practical points which should simplify reporting of deer kills.

Ralph Pritts was painfully injured last Saturday night when he crashed into the rear end of a truck which one of his workmen was testing, on route 219, just north of Oakland.

Pritts was following close behind the truck in his automobile. When the truck driver applied the brakes, Pritts was unable to bring his car to a halt before crashing into the truck, smashing the hood and engine. Pritts suffered injuries to his chest and one knee.

Crop Insurance Is Taken Out By 81

Eighty-one Garrett county farmers have taken out wheat crop insurance for 1946, a report from Joseph H. Blandford, chairman of the crop insurance program and head of the State Agriculture Conservation committee, shows.

Blandford said that the 1946 sign-up has resulted in more than thirty percent of the wheat farms in the state taking out crop insurance. A total of 4,424 applications covering 5,041 farms were signed during a sales campaign. It was the first time any farmers in this county had signed.

The insurance is issued on eighty percent of the total average wheat yield per farm. If a man has ten acres in wheat and has an average yield of twenty bushels to the acre, the total yield would be 200 bushels. Under the terms of the crop insurance, the farmer is reimbursed if his yield falls below 160 bushels.

Local Dealer Attends Preview

C. E. Sharps, Chevrolet dealer here returned from Pittsburgh last Saturday where he attended a preview of the new 1946 Chevrolet at the company's zone headquarters.

He expects the formal announcement and public showing of the car to be at an early date.

Following the same policy as in former years, the new Chevrolet will be displayed simultaneously in dealers' showrooms throughout the country, Mr. Sharps said.

Throughout the war period, car owners have been forced to get along with their old automobiles. At the same time dealers have expended every effort to service these cars, and to keep them rolling for the duration. Mr. Sharps stressed car care, with the warning that motorists should not expect great quantities immediately.

MAN IS FATALLY INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY AUTO

Jacob Fazenbaker, 52, Killed On Route 40, Near Grantsville, Sunday Morning

Jacob Nelson Fazenbaker, 52, of Bear Creek community, was killed instantly Sunday morning at 12:05 o'clock when he was struck by a car while crossing Route 40 in front of Ashby's Tavern, two miles west of Grantsville.

According to Troopers Glen D. Folk and Blair J. Buckel, who investigated, Fazenbaker was struck by a car driven by Andrew Schlossnagle, Accident.

The state troopers said Fazenbaker had alighted from his car parked opposite the tavern and was attempting to cross the highway when he was struck by the car being driven west on Route 40.

Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, county medical examiner, reported Fazenbaker died as a result of a crushed chest wall and punctured lung and other injuries suffered when he was struck by the car.

Fazenbaker also suffered fractures of the left leg and arm and bruise burns over the body as a result of the impact, the troopers said.

The force of the impact, which threw Fazenbaker's body to the right side of the road, damaged the front of Schlossnagle's car, state police said.

Charged With Manslaughter At a hearing before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch in Oakland on Tuesday afternoon, Schlossnagle was charged with manslaughter by automobile, and was held under bond of $1,000 for action of the March term of the Grand Jury.

Neil C. Fraley, State's Attorney, who entered the charge against Schlossnagle, said the latter asked for a jury trial when he appeared before Loraditch. He posted the bond and was released.

A native of the Bear Creek section, Mr. Fazenbaker was a son of the late John and Susan Bittering Fazenbaker. He was sometimes employed as a logger and was unmarried.

He is survived by five brothers, William, George, James, Joseph and Martin Fazenbaker, all of the Bear Creek section.

Funeral services were conducted on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Bethany Brethren church near Grantsville, with interment in the church cemetery.

Reductions Made In Real Estate And Income Taxes

In announcing the further reduction of the State real estate tax to 10 cents per $100 of assessments, the second reduction this year, Governor Herbert R. O'Connor emphasized his desire to eliminate entirely this impost upon real property holdings in the State.

In only one period in the last 100 years, namely the several years prior to the Civil War, has the State property tax been reduced as low as it is at the present time, Governor O'Connor pointed out. He voiced extreme pleasure over the State's financial position, which made it possible thus to lighten the burden of taxes on more than 400,000 property holders of the State.

Coupled with the Governor's "good news" to State tax payers with regard to real estate taxes, was the equally gratifying announcement that individual income tax payers were now authorized to deduct 50 percent from their payments for the calendar year 1945.

Esso Dealers Have Meeting

Forty local Esso Dealers attended a dinner and meeting at the William James Hotel, Oakland, Tuesday night, October 23rd.

J. M. Price, Jr., district manager of Esso Marketers, at the first post-war meeting of the Company's Dealers stated "the small businessmen in the Oil Industry performed magnificently during war time, helping to keep the nation's transportation system working through the use of such maintenance programs as Care Saves Wear Campaign."

"These Service Station Operators carried on through the War despite labor shortages, curtailment of supplies, and increased paper work brought on by the Government's rationing program."

Mr. Price called for continued cooperation from the Dealers during the forthcoming months. He pointed out that America's cars now average eight and one-half years of age. Replacements of tires, batteries and other materials are still in allocation. The motorist must receive every assistance in keeping his car running until new cars and parts are available. The company's plan for assistance to small business, according to Price, provides for the improvement of methods of distribution, a comprehensive advertising program, and a broad educational program for better marketing and service to the public.

Dealers were shown a number of moving pictures at the conclusion of the business meeting.

Postwar Agriculture

Demands

THE RIGHT TRACTOR FOR THE PARTICULAR JOB

THE proverbial Jack-of-all-trades was master of none. The modern world of science and technology passed him by.

The same principle applies to farm tractors. The tractor that does a wide variety of jobs unsatisfactorily can't possibly produce the greatest results at the least cost in any job.

But that's what the farmer—particularly the small operator—has got to do to meet postwar competition: he's got to produce the most food possible with the least effort and, consequently, at the lowest cost.

The farmer with 10 acres in truck crops needs one kind of tractor. The farmer with 100 acres in wheat alone needs another kind—or, as is usually the case, two or more different tractors. The tractor which does a good job on the Great Plains may be useless in the rice territory. And so it goes.

Conditions of climate, the lay of the land, and the character of soils in the different parts of this vast country, together with wide variations in the nature of crops and the size of operations, combine to produce wide differences in the requirements for tractors. Harvester's policy is to meet all these requirements.

That is why Harvester's postwar line includes a great variety of Farmalls and other specialized tractors and attachments rather than a single tractor with a single system of tools. Every tractor in the line was developed after scientific research and testing under actual operating conditions showed the specifications needed for efficiency and economy.

Every Harvester-built tractor is the right machine for its particular job.

Hybrid Corn Can Mean to You . . .

*Bigger Yields *Greater Savings

*Sturdier Plants

Hybrids are superior to open-pollinated varieties of corn seed only if they are bred for and adapted to the climate in which they are to be grown. . . . That is why Southern States has developed an Open Formula Hybrid Seed Corn for your use.

Southern States Open Formula Seed Corn means:

. . . Up to 25 more bushels per acre than ordinary open-pollinated varieties.

. . . Up to 3 more acres planted per bushel of seed because of careful grading, increased vigor, improved germination and livability of Southern States Hybrids.

. . . Sturdier plants with large, vigorous root systems, bred to resist disease, drought, and extreme heat and cold.

. . . Easier harvesting due to stiff stalks and ears borne at a uniform height.

"These are My Jewels"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the Church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake of his community and nation. (2) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Church on Sunday.

A touching story is told of Cornelia, the daughter of Scipio Africanus, the general who defeated the Carthaginians in the Second Punic War.

Cornelia, good mother that she was, was particularly proud of her two sons. One day there came to her home a noble Roman lady who, in the course of her visit, took pains to display rather ostentatiously the jewels she was wearing. At a pause in the conversation she suddenly turned to Cornelia and said rather abruptly, "Now, let me see your jewels." Proudly Cornelia called to her side her two sons, who were playing in the yard, and replied, "These are my jewels."

How difficult it oftentimes is to remember that the chief values in life are not things but persons. The wealth of any nation is not in its stocks and bonds, its magnificent buildings or its natural scenery. Its wealth is in its people. No nation can be strong unless its people are truly great. And no people can be great without God and the spiritual strength that God alone can impart.

The Church and the Sunday School exist for all people but especially do they fit the needs of the growing child, the most valuable "jewel" that God has ever made.

We have several nice farms for sale and they are listed in our local Republican, but far be it from us to set a price on the other fellow's property, as that would be taking away his right. The buyer knows what he wants, and what he is entitled to, as every one knows. He also knows his ability to produce and pay off his debts. "Who is he that can tell a man what he can do and what he cannot do, if he is honest and will work?"

Eternal Handouts?

A MONTHLY informational letter from the chairman of the Maryland State Agriculture Conservation Committee, College Park, sent to the community and county triple A committeemen, caused me to stop in wonder and amazement the other day, suddenly realizing the extent to which government handouts were being made to farmers.

Something for everybody seems to be the Administration's plan, and as Frank R. Kent stated yesterday, "without counting the cost or considering the effects."

Under the subjects, price supports, farmers were to get help in corn, wheat, tobacco, hogs, chickens, turkeys, milk, butterfat, soybeans, potatoes and sweet potatoes. But this wasn't all. Dairy feed payments continue to be made. There were also sheep and lamb payments. Then in case the farmer might have forgotten something, they were asked to check to make sure they were getting all the handouts that were being pushed at them by the government—in the hope, no doubt, that in the future they would vote to keep these things coming.

Somehow we have faith enough in the farmers of this county and the nation that they will remain sane and see through this plan of attempting to make them helpless and dependent entirely on government. If that time ever would come there would be perpetuation in office of one group, for with the unions and farm groups on one side there would be no chance for any other.

We have a definite feeling somehow that all the farmers really want is a chance to make an honest and decent living, without all those handouts from government agencies. They take these handouts now—sure. But they will not be spoiled for the future. They are too well grounded in Americanism for that.

O'Connor Calls Extra Legislature Session

Will Be Convened November 5 to Deal With Financial Problems of Baltimore City

Governor Herbert R. O'Connor issued a call for an extraordinary session of the Maryland legislature to convene on Monday, November 5, to act principally on the problem of Baltimore's anticipated deficit in next year's municipal financing.

In announcing the special session, Governor O'Connor said "it is my present opinion that the best way in which the city's situation can be handled is for the General Assembly to vest general taxing powers in the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore to meet the present emergency."

He added: "Inasmuch as this action is for an extraordinary purpose, I would suggest that the enabling legislation continue only until the general session of the legislature in 1947."

Called at Request of Baltimore
The session was called at the request of Mayor T. R. McKelvin and the Board of Estimates of Baltimore, who informed the Chief Executive that unless the city is given means to increase its revenue, an unprecedented increase in real estate taxes would result, O'Connor said.

The Governor said he was proposing the appointment of a non-partisan commission to "undertake at once a comprehensive survey by which the entire relationships between the state and the local subdivisions will be explored and the various sources of revenue reviewed to the end that a system of equitable distribution be made and overlapping of taxes eliminated."

The city was reported as needing over six million dollars.

Under Maryland law, a special session may be called to deal with a specific problem but once the lawmakers assemble in Annapolis they may consider any subject they please.

Apparently discouraging any digressions, the Governor declared that "if the special session is limited to the general grant of taxing powers to the city of Baltimore, it would be possible to enact such a measure in brief order, thus eliminating expenses and other items of expense for the session."

"In addition," he concluded, "legislators from all over the state will be spared the inconvenience of a lengthy session."

Members of the Assembly receive no additional compensation for extra sessions.

Four Purposes Outlined for '46; Second Meeting Scheduled for Monday Night at Point View

The nucleus of a Deep Creek Lake association was formed on Monday evening by a group of business men, property owners and summer residents meeting at Cabin Lodge, on the lake.

Four purposes were outlined for '46: the printing of a road map showing points of interest on and near the lake, and the location of association members' homes and properties; the placing of an official information booth next spring on route 219 to direct motorists and to assist visitors in finding accommodations, lots, etc.; assistance in policing the lake properties; and assistance in securing further equipment and manpower for the rescue squad at the lake.

Membership in the association will be open to all residents and property owners on and near the lake.

A second meeting is to be held Monday evening, November 5, at 8 o'clock, at Point View, on route 219. Permanent officers will be elected. Earle Glatfelter, who was elected temporary chairman last Monday, will be in charge. Other temporary officers elected were Tom Scott, vice-chairman; Hal Draper, secretary; and Harold Beckman, treasurer.

Mr. Draper said the road map was becoming a vital necessity and would be distributed throughout the surrounding states to auto clubs and hotels, etc. Mr. Draper said the property owners were of the opinion that the lake was a great attraction and source of revenue for the county and that an association to protect the interests of the people was a vital need, giving a united voice in regard to any postwar plans and improvements coming in the future.

Dairy Meetings Are Planned Next Week

Several dairy meetings have been arranged by John H. Carter, county agricultural agent, with the cooperation of the agriculture instructors in the high schools of the county.

Meetings are to be held in the agriculture room at Accident on Tuesday afternoon, November 6, at 1:30 p. m.; Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, in Oakland High school; and Wednesday evening, November 7, at 8 p. m., Grantsville High school.

George Hyatt, extension dairyman, university of Maryland; L. S. Hartley, agricultural agent, Baltimore and Ohio railroad, will lead the discussions. Mr. Carter urged all dairymen to attend and participate in the discussions.

SOMERSET MAN IS KILLED IN CAR ACCIDENT

Frank Martin, 55, Dies When Auto Is Struck at Deer Park by B & O Engine; 3 Injured

Frank Martin, 55, Somerset, Pa., was killed Saturday afternoon when a 4200 o'clock when the car he was driving was struck on the B. and O. railroad crossing at Deer Park, by a helper which was backing down the steep grade after pushing a train to Altamont, according to Cpl. Thomas Currie, of the State Police.

The machine, which Martin was operating, was struck on the left side and Martin's chest was crushed and his left leg fractured, Cpl. Currie said. He died before an ambulance reached the scene of the accident.

Taken to Cumberland

Martin's wife, Mrs. Hilda Martin, suffered a fractured left shoulder, her son, about 15, was injured and D. M. Harvey, of Deer Park, father of Mrs. Martin, suffered possible fractures of the ribs and a lacerated right hand. All three were admitted to Memorial hospital, Cumberland.

Cpl. Currie said the crossing is a particularly "bad spot" and Martin's view was evidently obscured by the station building. The machine was not badly damaged and the other persons in the car probably were spared death by the fact that the engine's coupler hooked onto the car and lifted it up from the ground, Cpl. Currie reported.

The helper engine was operated by Hickey Bros., the engineer who lives in Deer Park, Currie said. Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, deputy county medical examiner, Sheriff George Colquhoun, and Acting State's Attorney William Offutt aided Cpl. Currie in the investigation.

Program on Medical Care Now Operating

Dr. Winter Frank, Deputy Health Officer, announced on behalf of the Garrett County Advisory Committee for medical care, that beginning November 1, the new county medical care program would go into operation.

The Welfare Board will issue certificates to recipients of assistance who are in need of medical care provided such care cannot be allowed by the Welfare Board under its present policy, according to Francis J. Connolly, executive secretary. At present the Welfare Board has a limited amount of money available to meet some medical needs of Old Age Assistance recipients only and it is planned to continue this policy until December 31, 1945, he said.

As set up by physicians, dentists, and pharmacists participating in the plan they will forward bills to the Health Department at the end of each month which will pay the bills, on the approved fee schedule, out of the appropriation for the county.

Garrett County has been allotted approximately $750,000 per month to be spent for medical care and disbursements will be pro-rated on a percentage basis where the total bill exceeds the monthly allowance available, it was stated.

For $175,000 Begins Victory Loan Drive

Much Larger County Quota In 7th War Loan To Push Sale of "B" Bonds

The Victory Loan drive got under way in Garrett county on Monday, as well as throughout the entire nation, and H. C. Riggs, county chairman, announced that Garrett county citizens would be asked to purchase bonds amounting to $175,000. A much larger quota was oversubscribed in the last war loan drive.

Individuals will be asked to purchase "E" bonds amounting to $85,000, with bonds to other individuals amounting to $25,000. Corporations are being asked to raise $65,000.

Mr. Riggs said there is a new bond available during this drive, amounting to $200,000 maturity value, with the late President Roosevelt's picture on the face of it.

The drive was dedicated to help "keep the faith with those who fought for a better world." It is aimed to sell eleven billion dollars in bonds throughout the nation before December 8.

The State's goal for Victory Bond sales to individuals is $87,000,000 with the counties assigned $18,000,000 of the total. "E" bond quotas will be $28,000,000 for Maryland, of which eleven million is expected to be contributed outside of Baltimore.

An intensive effort is being made to increase Maryland's "E" bond purchases by the sale of extra bonds to individuals.

Joseph W. Hinebaugh was painfully burned on Tuesday night about six o'clock as he was engaged in cleaning the floors in the rooms of his building on Third street which are to be occupied by the U. S. Employment Service.

Some steel wool which he was using caused a short circuit in an electric outlet and ignited the gasoline which he was using as a cleaning fluid. He sustained burns to one leg and his arms and hands, and is confined to his bed for several days as a result.

The Oakland fireman were called and they extinguished the blaze in a very short time but not before part of the floor and some of the walls had been burned.

Also Called Sunday

RAILROAD MAN DIES WHEN HEAD STRIKES BRIDGE

Body of Cumberland Man Found on Tender of B. and O. Engine Saturday Evening

Fred L. Cessna, 22, Baltimore and Ohio railroad brakeman, of Cumberland, was killed shortly after 8 o'clock Saturday night, presumably when his head hit a bridge over the B. and O. tracks in Oakland, Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, deputy Garrett county medical examiner, reported.

The entire back of Cessna's skull was crushed and depressed into the brain by the blow. His body, lying on coal piled in the tender of the locomotive, was discovered by Paul M. Cowgill, Cumberland, who was fireman on the engine.

Both Mr. Cowgill and railroad officials said they believed Cessna climbed to the top of the coal in the tender, thus missing being struck by the ropes warning of the bridge, and was struck in the back of the head by the under structure.

Two bridges, one on Oak street, and another on Third street, cross the railroad tracks in Oakland and Dr. Baumgartner was of the opinion that Cessna was struck by the understructure of the Third street bridge.

Cowgill and Thomas W. Gattrell, Grafton, the engineer, told railroad officials that Cessna was seated in his accustomed place in the engine a short distance west of Oakland. A short distance east of Oakland they noticed Cessna had left the cab, and a search led to the discovery of the body in a short time.

Cessna was a native of Bedford county, Pa. Surviving are his widow, two children, at home; two brothers, four sisters. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Funeral services were conducted on Tuesday from Union church in Rainsburg, Pa., and interment was at Rainsburg.

Here's Why We "Slap Our Kneecaps"

When your B&O train stops at certain points along the route, you see inspectors slapping the "kneecaps" over the wheels as they make their way down the row of cars.

These men are hunting for trouble! Armed with oil cans, they check every bearing box to see that all's well. If they spot a bearing that needs a drink, you'll see them tilt the oil can and give the bearing plenty of the right kind of lubrication needed for smooth, easy operation.

"Slapping our kneecaps" is but one of the many inspection and maintenance jobs we do all of the time. It is another example of the care and thoroughness used daily by the B&O to bring you train service that assures speed, safety and "on-time" dependability.

AURORA-EGLEON

A number of representatives of the churches of the Brethren, of the First District of West Virginia, met Sunday afternoon, October 28, at the Maple Spring church in a service of dedication for various efforts that have been sent to relieve the suffering in Europe.

The dedicatory message was delivered by Robert E. Strickler, pastor of the Sandy Creek church, while Rev. A. B. Showalter, District Field Man, had charge of the dedicatory services proper.

Also, at this meeting Rev. Galen E. Fike, Egleon, and Charles Babo, Keyser, presented the project of wheat for relief. At their District meeting in September it had been decided to raise a carload of food to be sent to relieve the suffering of Europe, and appointed Rev. Fike to head this project. In his announcement Sunday afternoon he explained that wheat was one of the most needed commodities, and the easiest shipped. He also showed the recent issue of the Protestant Voice, the international newspaper of Religion, which carried an article telling of the dire need for relief in Europe. Thirteen million lives in Europe are threatened with starvation and cold unless help is sent immediately. Many children now are boiling roots and leaves, trying to get nourishment. The

Ex-Service Men As Civilians

The "Men in the Service" column which has been carried in The Republican during the war, grew from four or five inches when it was first started, to two and three columns in length, and its reader interest has been greater than any other single department, since it has been included in the newspaper features.

There is still the same amount of interest in this column and many items are placed there each week. But dozens of Garrett county soldiers and sailors are returning to civilian life every day.

Feeling that interest in these boys will still continue, as to what happens to them in civilian life, what jobs they fill, if they return to the job they had before the war, if they go into business for themselves, and just what becomes of them.

This column is intended for that purpose. Subscribers and others are invited to send in items about such men and women giving necessary information as to who they are, their parents, address, length of time in service, rank, and organization, other pertinent facts of service record, what they did previously, what they are now doing. Always sign your name as an evidence of good faith, so that the publisher may know the source of such information. The "men in the service" column will continue as long as there is a definite need.

T. S. Mack Schaffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Schaffer, Grantsville, had been a prisoner of the Germans for two years, and who was liberated in May returning home July 7th on a Red Cross ship, was honorably discharged on October 18th, at a Convalescent Hospital in Germany. He was a turret gunner on a Flying Fortress, "Royal Flush." He is now in the best of health and started to work for the Motor Service Company, Grantsville.

S. army, has returned to his position at The Republican office, in the job printing department. Mr. Norbeck and his wife are residing at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Quiz For Marylanders

By QUENTIN HOWE

Answer to Question 1:

In his diary George Washington wrote "did attend the Races in Maryland, did take Dinner with the Gentlemen of the Maryland Jockey Club," Washington bred "Blooded Horses" at Mt. Vernon, was an enthusiastic rider and fox hunter. He always attended Maryland racing, counted "the Gentlemen of the Maryland Jockey Club" his friends.

Answer to Question 2:

Your tax would be bigger if Maryland did not have high class racing at Pimlico because your state "loses" the paymaster's commissions at the Maryland race courses and collects over one million dollars a year. Only high class racing will sustain this state revenue. The higher class the racing, the greater its benefits. Cheap racing produces neither good racing nor good taxes. The quality of Maryland racing most certainly affects your personal taxes.

Answer to Question 3:

One of the few racing associations in the world to offer "a Stake Race Every Day." The quality of a Stake Race is the highest class race for the best horses. This Pimlico policy has given Maryland the finest horse racing in America, has kept Maryland in the forefront among racing states, has produced more tax money for Maryland and you than any racing association in the state. This is additional proof that the finer the racing, the better for everyone. The answer is "Pimlico," conducted by the Maryland Jockey Club.

Every window in the building had been broken and glass strewn all over the floor. A paper drive and a social were planned and the club members really put their plans in action. More About Subsidies . . .

Contributed by G. Emerson Bishoff, Garrett County Farmer.

CONGRATULATIONS are due The Republican for bringing the subject of "Eternal Handouts" to the attention of Garrett County citizens in last week's issue of the publication.

Your paper is undoubtedly the most powerful single agent of public sentiment in our County.

But it is my duty, as a farmer, to make a slight correction in regard to who is the actual recipient of the benefit of these subsidies. Though the farmer is the person who receives the check, it is actually Mr. I. Q. Public who is having his living partly paid for at Government expense.

Bread, sugar, butter and many other articles are bought at, or near, pre-war prices. The selling price is controlled. This price is below the average cost of production! No business can operate on this basis very long! Congress knew this, and to keep living costs down, has adopted the policy of subsidizing various industries.

Some of the industries which I know are subsidized in one way or another are the railroads, the airplane industry, the munitions industry, certain farm products and no doubt many other commodities in which a shortage threatened. Now that the war is over, the time for subsidies should be over.

Let us have economy in Government. Yes, we must have it! Let each person buy his own bread. Let the farmer have his fair share of the National income—without subsidies!

Is it fair that a farm family, working more hours per week than any other laborer's family, should be compelled to go to a public agency to get a part of its just portion of the necessities of life? This is deplorable! Subsidies are not greatly increasing the financial income of the farmer, but they are undermining the economic structure of our Nation's business, are creating a serious drain on our Nation's Treasury and are destroying the self-respect of the farmer, are developing class hatred, and are certainly the wrong basis upon which to build a prosperous nation for our children.

There is no room for the infernal subsidy lest it should become eternal!

Maryland Already Working To Solve Today's Problems

Governor O'Connor Tells Rotarians State Has Threefold Protective Plan

"Maryland long ago began preparations to meet the problems now facing us," declared Gov. O'Connor last Friday evening in a speech before the Oakland Rotary Club, at an inter-city meeting. About 80 persons attended.

The governor, touching upon state, national and international affairs, said that Maryland was ready to face the postwar era with a threefold protection "against depression and widespread unemployment."

The protection included, he said, industries of a "vastly varied nature; a postwar public works program totaling more than $225,000,000 for state, counties and municipalities, and an unemployment fund still above $130,000,000 despite payments as high as $100,000 a week since V-J day."

Recommends Reduction
He said the soundness of the fund led him to recommend a $7,000,000 reduction in taxes.

"I can assure you," he declared, "there is no single prerogative of my official position the exercise of which is so gratifying as this authority to take leadership in lowering the tax burden upon our people."

He reported that within the last six and one-half years, income and property tax reductions amounted to $24,002,000, while the state's bonded debt was reduced to approximately $22,000,000.

He pointed out the taxpayer as the most important factor in a country such as ours and "we must never get away from this conception of government."

The governor said he was sure he expressed the viewpoint of Maryland citizens in urging an expanded education program, and noted that the state was "now making the greatest financial outlay in its history for education."

He predicted the University of Maryland, with its new college of aeronautical research, would become a leader in scientific progress.

To Promote Economics
The new bureau of business research at the university would, he said, promote the economic life of the state, in studying transportation rates, available markets and creating new markets for Maryland farms and factories.

In connection with the bureau, sociological studies will be made, he said, and added that if the studies showed the need for a hospital in Garrett county, he would co-operate in any plans for its construction.

The governor called for "evidence of sincerity" by the nation's approach to the settlement of economic disputes that "threaten to stifle the country today."

"Because what happens in America will have a controlling effect on the world we must put our own house in order first so that, at peace ourselves, we may help to bring peace throughout the universe."

Attending the inter-city meeting were Rotarians from Frostburg, Key-

Governor Herbert O'Connor enlarged on one phase of his address before the Oakland Rotary club the night previous, concerning extensive use of the State Institute for Industrial Research, as an aid in economic development.

He also spoke on the possibilities for intensive development of Western Maryland as a hunter's paradise and asserted that over the past few years notable progress had been made in advancement of this area for attraction of hunters, citing the increase in deer hunting in 20 years. He pointed out that the State Game department had placed imported deer in the area from Wisconsin and that another order has been placed for 25 which (Continued Page Four, section two)

Resolutions Passed By City Council On Departure of Davis

Express Regret That Council President Is Leaving And Appreciation For All Services

Resolutions expressing regret over the approaching departure of Delbert M. Davis, who expects to leave Oakland soon for Salisbury, Md., and appreciation for his services, were drawn up and passed at the regular meeting of the Mayor and Town Council on Monday evening. Mr. Davis has been a member of the City Council since 1939, and its president since that time, and also served a term in 1927 and 1928.

The resolution declared in part that Mr. Davis was "interested in every movement which has had as its object the betterment of Oakland and its people. His services rendered have been of inestimable value. In short, he has been a good citizen."

"We shall miss his leadership, his valuable advice and participation in solution of problems and duties devolving upon us."

Mayor L. M. Fraley and Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, council member, entertained members of the council, clerk and city attorney at a farewell dinner at Pickwick Inn on Monday evening. In honor of Mr. Davis, prior to the meeting, other guests were Harry L. Stemple, A. G. Hesen, Prentice DeBerry, Earl Shartzer, Arthur Lawton and E. R. Jones.

Building Activity

William DeBerry and Allen Paugh, Jr., directors in the local Southern States cooperative, were before the council in reference to a sidewalk to be built at the property on Liberty street. They advised Council they were going to build an addition on Liberty street side also and that their engineer would be here soon to meet with council on details of the plan.

Arthur Savage was before Council to discuss prospects of retaining wall on Wilson run, Third street, in front of his property on which he expects to erect a garage next spring. The Council agreed to take up the matter with the State Roads commission.

Permission was granted to Garrett Lodge, Knights of Pythias, to erect a steel fire escape on their building, Alfy Side.

Lots Sold

It was announced that two or three months ago the council decided to sell the town property, east side of North Third street, if price of $5 per front foot could be obtained. Arthur Lawton, clerk-collector, announced that a frontage of 310 feet had been sold to Emory Bolden for $1,550.00. The property is 145 feet deep on one end, 136 feet deep on the other.

Collections for the month amounted to $5,080.22 including $2,619.24 from water, $854.80 from taxes, and $1,605.19 from the sale of lots and miscellaneous receipts. Bills for October amounted to $1,579.74, leaving a balance in the treasury of $7,715.39.

The clerk-collector's report showed receipts of $26,945.44 March 1 to October 31, with expenses of $19,230.05. Sunday movie tax for October amounted to $77.85.

Offers Reward

The Mayor and Town Council are offering a reward of $25.00 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person or persons who have been breaking windows in the building at the City Park and causing other destruction throughout the town.

Mayor L. M. Fraley said the authorities had a number of clues and that such depredations were going to be stopped and the offenders punished.

Supervises Growing Vegetables on Saipan

An article in September issue of Country Gentleman entitled "Mother Earth and the Marianas," by Jack Sher, carried an account of the activities of Lt. Everett Weitzell of the Foreign Economic Administration, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Weitzell, Accident, and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Speicher, Accident, who is engaged in supervising vegetable farms on Saipan.

The portion of the article concerning Lt. Weitzell follows:

The FEA program got under way quite late on Saipan, not until the middle of January, 1945. The first crop—green beans—was planted on January fifteenth and harvested the fifteenth of March. Since then, the farm has produced 55,000 pounds of corn, 1,000 pounds of beans, and 6,000 pounds of squash, with various other crops still growing. There has also been some experimenting with contour farming, which has been fairly successful.

On all the farms in the Marianas, planting is continuous. Corn ripens in sixty-five days out here, in spite of a lack of irrigation and undependable rainfall. One of the farms on Saipan is devoted exclusively to corn; the other is called a "specialty ranch" and its sixty-four acres yield Chinese cabbages, cantaloupe, squash, okra and eggplant.

The native farms supervised by the Military Government cover much more acreage than the FEA farms and consequently produce a great deal more. The one at Saipan is typical. It is supervised by the Navy. Lieut. E. C. Weitzell, Alexandria, Va., is in charge. Weitzell was formerly a senior agricultural economist with the Department of Agriculture in Washington, D. C., and before that a farmer in Maryland.

Legionnaires Have Annual Pig Roast

About 150 persons were present last night at the annual pig roast of the local American Legion post, held in the Knights of Pythias hall. The meeting also officially closed the membership drive.

Speakers included Dan McMullen, Cumberland, past state commander; Ann Sloan, chairman of the State Child Welfare Committee, of Lonaconing; and Col. John Golden, Cumberland, recently returned from Europe.

Legion officers announced that no special observance of Armistice Day would be held here, either Sunday or Monday, but that some members would take part in the celebration at Cumberland.

To Address Rotarians

Dr. Peter Lejins, at present a member of the faculty of the University of Maryland, in the sociology department, will be the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Oakland Rotary club on Friday evening. He will speak on the "United Nations Charter."

The meeting will also be an informal Ladies' Night, according to Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, president.

Dr. Lejins was formerly of the University of Riga, in Latvia, but left that country prior to the war.

Special Session Bills Signed by Governor

Governor O'Connor signed into law yesterday the seven measures enacted at Monday's extra session of the legislature.

These bills included the emergency bill delegating general taxing powers to Baltimore City, two Cumberland measures, and one appropriating $12,000 to defray expenses of the special session.

Conferences Planned For School Teachers On Soil Conservation

Series of Four Meetings to be Held, Including Field Trips to Study Soil Problems

A series of four meetings in the interest of conservation of natural resources of the county has been arranged for all elementary teachers and principals, it was announced this week by F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent.

The meetings are cooperatively sponsored by the Board of Education and the Garrett County Soil Conservation district board of supervisors, with Mr. Rathbun as chairman.

John Cotton, extension soil conservationist, University of Maryland, will discuss soil problems of the county, and W. W. Nace, soil conservationist of Garrett and Allegany counties will speak on "how we can solve our soil problems."

The dates for meetings and field trips to study soil problems were set as follows:

Meeting, Friday, November 9, 8 p. m., Oakland High school auditorium; field trip Saturday, November 10, 9:30 a. m. to 2 p. m. (teachers in southern supervisory unit are to meet at Oakland High school auditorium).

Meeting, Friday, November 16, 8 p. m., Accident High school auditorium; field trip, Saturday, November 17, 9:30 a. m. to 2 p. m. (teachers in northern supervisory unit meet at Accident school auditorium).

Dr. Hugh Bennett, chief of the U. S. soil conservation service, declared while in Cumberland over the weekend that "Conservation is everybody's business, and people must be made aware that it is indecent, unpatriotic and stupid to stand by and see the ruin of the only source from which life comes—the soil."

Mr. Nace said the real purpose of the conferences with teachers is to work out a plan whereby sound and practical conservation methods could be worked in along with regular history, geography and social studies lessons in the schools, to make the youth conscious of the need for conserving our soil, to "get conservation into people's blood systems," as Dr. Bennett puts it.

The local board is composed of Foster Yost, Accident, chairman; Emerson Bishoff, Friendsville; John Beachy, Grantsville; and A. P. Sanders, Oakland.

Fire Destroys Large Barn of Harry Paugh

Fire of undetermined origin last evening entirely destroyed the large barn of Harry Paugh, on route 219, about six miles north of Oakland, along with its contents of grain, hay, etc.

The barn contained about 600 bushels of corn, 1,000 bushels of oats and 20 tons of hay, according to Emory Bolden, Oakland fire chief.

Lake Association Renews Activities; New Members Added

To Complete Lake Directory and Map for Distribution Early Next Summer

After a recess of three years, necessitated by the war, the Deep Creek Lake association was re-activated at a meeting on Monday night at Point View.

The purpose of the association, organized nine years ago, was "to promote the health, happiness and interest of all who come to Deep Creek Lake," according to Thurl Tower, president. This included, he said, safety, health, sanitation, property protection, scenic improvements, sports, recreation, publicity, public services and public relations.

The group of business men and property owners called together by Hal Draper, who tentatively formed an association a week previous, injected new life into the permanent set-up by voting unanimously to join forces and become active members.

These new members and honorary members include Earle Glatfelter, Edwin Fry, Albert Bowman, James Savage, Harry C. Wolfe, Tom Scott, Theodore Riffle, Floyd Leighton, Ogilvie Halsey, Hal Draper, Joseph Smith, Melvin Bowman, Harland Beckman, Point View Inn, Lake Shore Rod and Gun club, Arden Boat club, John Herman, Pickwick Inn and Mt. Lake Hotel.

Two of the most outstanding items on the program for the coming year, Mr. Tower said, are an up-to-date lake directory and a comprehensive map showing the lake and surrounding territory with roads and locations, both to be ready for distribution by early summer. He declared co-operation of every property owner within one-fourth mile of the lake was urgently needed to complete the directory, and they were requested to forward their names, lake address and home address immediately to Mrs. Beryl Stanton, secretary of the association, Oakland. Other association officers are R. R. Thorp, vice-president; and Elmer Haulenbeck, treasurer.

Clyde Donald Fike, soldier on furlough, was given a hearing before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch last week-end on four charges resulting from a collision with Corporal Thomas Currie, of the State police, at the corner of Second and Center streets last Wednesday evening.

Fike was charged with operating a car without a driver's license, having plates belonging to another auto, not having his headlights turned on after dark, and driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

He pleaded guilty to all charges and was given nominal fines amounting to $17.25. He accepted responsibility for the damage to Corporal Currie's car and agreed to pay all expenses of repair. The fines were paid and he was allowed to return to his camp before the conclusion of his furlough.

Glaze, seaman first class, USNR, stationed there, to the editor of The Republican, enclosing a copy of the newspaper. There is only one more move I want to make and that is the one back to Maryland. "Everyone here has the idea that you people at home will have quite a bit to do with how soon and quickly we are all returned to the states. We all hope that you people at home will keep the pressure on where it will do the most good. We all realize that it is a tremendous job but the sooner everyone is home the better we will like it. The Republican is surely a good paper and brings a touch of home to me. A little touch of that wonderful fall weather would be most welcome here too."

Writer Predicts Beall Will Return To Congress In 1946

A political writer, in a published article on Monday morning in the Baltimore Sun, gives J. Glenn Beall a straight ticket to re-election as congressman from the sixth district, with the Democrats apparently unable to turn up any opposition.

Louis J. O'Donnell declared it appears likely that the Democrats may have to draft a candidate for the congressional nomination. The attitude was taken that Beall was not interested in the Republican gubernatorial or senatorial nomination and that in due course he would make known his desire for re-nomination for Congress. There seemed to be no opposition from within his own party.

O'Donnell said Democratic politicians, E. Brooke Lee, Montgomery county; W. Preston Lane, Jr., Washington county; and William C. Walsh, Allegany county, conceded that Mr. Beall had cultivated the area so assiduously in three years that they have little prospect of regaining the seat at the forthcoming election. Mr. Beall won his seat over Mr. Lee.

The Western Maryland district is 221 miles long, has a population of nearly 400,000. On the books the Democrats have a majority of 27,000 among the district's voters. In 1942 Mr. Beall's majority was 14,000. An outspoken anti-New Dealer, Mr. Beall two years later pushed his majority to a new high—17,200 and carried all five counties, something no other congressional candidate had done before him. David J. Lewis, Democrat, had the district from 1917 to 1919, losing to the late Frederick N. Zihlman, Republican, in 1916. Zihlman held it until Lewis in 1920 won it back. The late W. D. Byron won it in 1938. His wife succeeded him for the remainder of his term at a special election after he was killed in a plane crash in Georgia. Lee then won the Democratic nomination but was defeated by Beall in the general election.

Special provisions have been made for employees who have been or who are now on military leave whereby they will participate in this contribution.

To Consider School Building Program

A meeting of architects, school superintendents, state department of education officials, and other interested committees and citizens, to consider aspects of Maryland's $35,000,000 school building program will be held in Baltimore City November 16 and 17. F. E. Rathbun, County Superintendent, announced. One of the principal speakers will be Leslie Cheek, associate editor of New York's Architectural Forum. Cheek's topic will be "How the Community is Reflected in Its School Buildings."

Most of the state's construction of $20,000,000 or more will be in the junior and senior high school class, and the entire program is expected to take about five years to complete.

The building programs in the counties are under the authority of local superintendents, and the conference has been designed to give them, and the architects who are to undertake the building, "the best thinking" of modern school construction, according to Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, state superintendent. Garrett County has expenditures of over $200,000 in its school building program.

Gormanian Man Pleads Guilty to Defrauding Cumberland Firm

A Gormanian, W. Va., man who was indicted several weeks ago by a federal grand jury at Wheeling on two counts of using the mails to defraud a Cumberland firm, changed his plea to guilty on the second day of his trial last Wednesday before Judge William E. Baker, in federal court in Wheeling, according to Howard P. Loughrie, deputy United States marshal.

The man, Robert M. Oates, 43, was arrested and charged by R. L. Terry, LaVale, United States postal inspector. Oates is charged with defrauding the National Discount Corporation, of Cumberland, of the sums of $1,057.50 and $888.50.

Judge Baker postponed sentence until November 15, because of the illness of Oates's wife, who underwent an emergency operation in Memorial hospital Tuesday, the day the trial opened. Hospital attaches reported her condition is good.

Oates is charged with being involved in the selling of merchandise on a contract basis and then selling the contracts to a finance company. He has been released under bond.

The Cumberland firm was the only organization named in the indictment.

"BEST JOB IN THE WORLD"

These special privileges are typical of the new law recently passed by Congress. Few opportunities for a lifetime career offer as many attractive advantages.

Can you think of any other job that would give you good pay, your food, clothing, quarters, free medical and dental care, world-wide travel, 30 days' furlough every year, education and training in any of nearly 200 skills or trades, and enable you to retire with a life income after 20 years' service?

There isn't one! That's why a job in the Regular Army has been called "The Best Job in the World."

PEACETIME MILITARY CONSCRIPTION

To the Editor of The Republican, Oakland, Md.

President Truman's speech indicates our nation has no confidence in the San Francisco Conference and the United Nations. He threw the Atlantic Charter out of the window. It's an invitation to Russia and all other countries for world armament.

Why talk peace when we don't mean it? Or why talk peace out of one side of our mouth and war out of the other side? Can we expect other nations to believe or trust us by such two-faced words?

Yes, we are executing the war criminals in Germany and Japan, disarming nations and condemning the militarism of Europe. Why talk peace then build up the largest fighting force in all the world? This doesn't make sense to the American people or the nations of the world.

The American people want no peacetime military conscription. We have seen enough of peacetime conscription in Europe and Japan, its effects and how it led Germany and Japan to destruction and almost wrecked the world. Just where it will lead us or any other nation that adopts such methods and trusts in the sword.

If we believe the Bible is true, which I believe most Americans do, we can plainly see Jesus' own words fulfilled as we read in Matt. 26:52; Rev. 13:10: "They that take the sword shall perish with the sword."

Matthew 5:9: "Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called the children of God." How about the WAR MAKERS? Remember, God's word is true.

Again, I say, the American people want no peacetime military conscription in any form. Neither will God be pleased with nor uphold any nation in its wickedness. God is no respecter of persons nor of nations.

People who believe in preserving "the American way of life" have no time to lose. Wake up, before we are loved nation is doomed to destruction. Write to your Senators, Representatives, protesting against any form of compulsory peacetime military conscription.

Of course, War Department attachés and 1600 generals in the Army want peacetime military training. They fear demotion. Other bureaucrats are likely to benefit from the establishment of militarism as a national policy. Brewers and distillers very much in favor of it, as it would give them first chance at youth to cultivate the drink habit while receiving their training. The close link between the Army and the brewers throughout World War II indicates that 17 and 18-year old boys will be given every possible inducement to cultivate the drink habit.

Respectfully,

BERT C. REAM.

MARYLAND AND NERO

To the Editor of The Republican, Oakland, Md.

There can be no doubt about it, the citizens of Maryland have a blood brother who died back in 68 A. D. His name was Nero Claudius Caesar Drusus Germanicus—called Nero for short.

As popular history has it, Nero fiddled as Rome burned. As current history has it, Marylanders are now showing themselves as expert manipulators of the happy how while a devastating economic wind is whipping up in Washington and heading our way Maryland and Nero have a great deal in common.

Why? Take a look at the seven bills in Congress—four in the Senate—three in the House—all introduced in 1945. All for the expressed purpose of establishing Naval Training Academies in other sections of the United States.

If Marylanders would hang up their bows and pursue the fiddle for a few minutes and actually consider what those seven bills mean to the State of Maryland, we might erect defenses against the onslaught.

There are two reasons why these bills should not be passed. The first is National. It concerns the welfare of our country and our Navy. The Navy does not want two academies because it believes that two academies will interfere with the esprit de corps and thus the fighting spirit of the Navy.

It believes, according to some of its higher-ups that two academies would inject sectionalism and start rivalry between the two institutions. It believes that its officers should be united by the bonds of traditionalism which have been rooted in Maryland for a hundred years. We, as Marylanders, appreciate the weld of traditionalism. We are backed by some proud history.

The Navy believes that sectionalism will not be allowed to split its ranks. Neither do we.

We don't believe this makes for national well-being because when we speak of the Navy we speak of fighting men. When we speak of fighting men we speak of the men who must defend this country in times of war and be united representatives of it in times of peace.

Two academies are all wrong. They would not work out for the national good. This should be our first consideration—the National good. The second reason why these seven bills in Congress should be defeated is one that concerns Maryland—every corner of it. If any one of the seven bills is passed and the second academy is established, Maryland eventually may lose one of its greatest assets—the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Why? Because the gravity of Congressional appropriation will be loaded out to the new institution. It will be equipped and re-equipped with the newest of the most modern of technical training facilities.

Then one day a period of national retrenchment will set in and Congress will begin to cut back. Will it abandon this fine new Naval institution? Not of course. The Naval Academy in Annapolis, Maryland, will go on the block. Even if it shouldn't, you can bet your fiddle and bow that Maryland will get only a trickle of Naval officers' training money.

The Severn River Command buys the bulk of its supplies, etc., in Maryland. It employs about 3,000 Maryland civilians. Its $17,000,000 annual payroll is largely spent in Maryland. It is not a pleasant tune, but play that over on your fiddle.

A smaller or not Naval Academy in Maryland will be missed in the pocketbooks of every Marylander.

Don't kid yourself about these seven bills—don't fiddle—these bills have been introduced by men of influence who know how to get what they want. They will get another Naval Academy if something isn't done. And Maryland will get the brush-off.

The Western States are fighting for these bills. From all reports there is no Nero blood running in the veins of the Westerners. They are putting up a stiff and vigorous fight—and why not? A Naval Training Academy is a plum for any State—a plum of prestige and pride.

What can Maryland do? It can do more if it will—there is as much potential force in Maryland as there is in the Western States now pressing for passage of the seven bills. There are as many good voters, as many people of influence as there are in other States. All the people of Maryland need do is cut the Nero out of their lives and fight the fire in the good old Maryland way.

Maryland has six Representatives in the Lower House of the United States Congress and two Senators. They certainly know where lie the best interests of the State. You can tell your Representatives how you feel about these seven bills. You can tell them that those seven bills must be defeated and if you say it long enough and loud enough—defeated they will be.

JOSEPH D. LAZENBY, Chairman Citizens' Committee for the Navy, 1000 S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS . . .

By FRANK R. KENT.

TOO MUCH TO EXPECT

Washington, Nov. 3.
It is said that a new appreciation of the gravity of his job has been developed by the President and with it a desire for more aid in grappling the great problems that confront him in both foreign and domestic fields. The cancellation of his scheduled trip is one evidence of this. But there are others.

In this attitude there is hope—but not too much. If Mr. Truman were a far bigger man than he is; if he were surrounded by the best brains in the country and had no thought of politics, the situations with which he has to deal still would be very difficult. As things are, some of these situations on the home front are not far from appalling. No one questions the President's purposes. He wants to do right. He is neither a crackpot nor a radical. He knows full well the dangers of inflation, the necessity for retrenchment and the penalties of unchecked spending. Yet, his Administration drifts in these directions even while he recognizes and points out the perils.

As seen by some reasonably astute observers here, there are two fundamental troubles with Mr. Truman. One is the caliber of his advisers and department heads. With the exception of Mr. Charles G. Ross and Mr. John Snyder, the members of his "inner circle" are all politicians—and little else. There is hardly a statesman in the lot. The best man he found when he came in—Mr. Leo Crowley—has gotten out. Not many of the others measure up. He sees, of course, many visitors who express their views and opinions. But, of the men close to him, who see him constantly, with whom he advises and checks up, the men who are his intimates—these there is not one sufficiently endowed with judgment or equipped by experience to be of real practical help. Exception should be made of Secretary of State Byrnes who, however, is so weighted down with the perplexities of foreign politics that he is unable to function in the field wherein he was trained.

The other Truman trouble is asserted to be the nature of his inexperience. When he became President, Mr. Truman was in no position to have policies of his own. He inherited those of another man and, even had he desired, he had no alternative to proclaiming allegiance to them. He also inherited a later political setup that went with the policies. They fitted together. The policies support the setup and the setup supports the policies. They are inseparable and that is why Mr. Truman has so little leeway for policies of his own. For example, he had slight choice—or so it seemed—in the matter of so-called full employment bill.

Originally, this was a very dangerous bill. It opened the door for uncontrolled government spending, even in its unamended form, it embodied a principle not friendly to the free enterprise system though certainly in harmony with the Roosevelt policies. Plainly championed by Secretary Wallace and the CIO, unless Mr. Truman was ready to disregard the policies and discard the political setup, he is not ready to disregard or discard and not being ready he has no real freedom. He cannot, for another example, take a firm stand in industry-labor controversies. He cannot reject the Hatch-Burton bill, which the labor leaders oppose. He cannot do a number of other things for the same reasons.

He is beginning to perceive this, but he is not ready for the remedy. Perhaps, even if he were not shackled by these inherited policies and the inherited setup, Mr. Truman could not adequately deal with his problems. But he would be in much better position to do so. Men close enough to know his embarrassments report that he is worried by the seriousness of the situation which he sees more clearly than he did a month ago. And he is concerned over his inability to do very much about it. Of course, he could throw the policies and the setup and all political considerations overboard, summon the best nonpolitical help available and concentrate solely upon getting the country solvent and healthy and averting the dangers he so clearly sees.

It is easy enough to talk or write about doing a thing like that, but doing it is another thing. It is a terrific thing to do. It would require tremendous determination, vision, courage, character. It is a major operation. It would be an almost superhuman achievement. It seems absurd to expect it of Mr. Truman. But it would be marvelous to see him try. And no one knows what you can do until you try.

Our Anniversary Sales have been built to a pattern of standards. They have always been store-wide, every department offering wide assortments to encompass present and future needs of every member of the family and the home. The fashions and accessories offered were brand new Fall and Winter styles. The staple merchandise was of regular stock quality, provided in quantities to last throughout the sale. The savings were bonafied—many items showing unusual concessions from our regular prices which always have been low—it was your party . . . no matter how large the crowds, how enthusiastic the buying, we made every effort to serve you as you always expect to be served at The Half Price Stores.

We cannot maintain the standards that have made this once-a-year sale the goodwill event it has been. Much merchandise is restricted, due to shortages, priorities, and rationing—we cannot follow our pattern of standards—we cannot give you the kind of store-wide sale you have long come to expect—However, with a sense of our obligation to provide the values that are possible to meet everyday needs now and in the days ahead, we have made extraordinary efforts to stock our stores with traditional H.P.S. quality Fall and Winter merchandise that dramatically illustrates our 14 year-old "Low Price Policy".

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

THE FRUITS OF PUBLIC WORSHIP

LESSON TEXT—Isaiah 61:1-4; Ephesians 2:1-10.
GOLDEN TEXT—Praise ye the Lord. I will praise the Lord with all mine heart, in the assembly of the upright, and in the congregation.—Psalm 111:1.

The center of every community should be the church. The house set aside for the worship of God is the gathering place of His people. There they find fellowship as they meet their Lord. He is in their midst, exalted and mighty, but ready to enter every humble and contrite heart.

Our lesson shows us how the worship of God brings blessed results in His people's midst.

I. Recognizing God's Presence (Isa. 6:1-4).

King Uzziah, who had begun well but had forgotten God, was at the end of his life a leper because of his sin and dying in disgrace. Israel which had known unprecedented prosperity under God's blessing now hardened its heart nationally against God and was also about to go into exile. God needed a man to speak for Him in such an hour, to bring to His people a message of judgment and also of blessed invitation. To prepare that man, the great Isaiah, God gave a remarkable manifestation of His glory and power.

It is essential that the man who speaks for God should first see the Lord high and lifted up and to hear of His holiness and glory. The negative tone of the present-day message, the lack of enthusiasm and interest in holy things, the low standards of personal holiness, the failure to preach boldly the truth regarding God's holy standards are to be explained by the fact that there has been no vision of the eternal holiness and glory of God.

II. Renewing by God's Power (vv. 5-6).

To see the holiness of God is to be immediately conscious of one's own sin and unworthiness. The obvious conclusion which one draws from that fact is that anyone who is proud, who is not concerned about his own sins and the sins of his people, is living far from God and has either never known or has forgotten about His divine holiness.

Isaiah spoke of the pollution of his lips, thereby confessing that his heart was not right. Whereof the mouth is full, thereof speaketh the mouth; for we read that "out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh" (Matt. 12:34). Remember that even though Isaiah was a believer he recognized the need of cleansing.

"Then" (v. 6)—what an important word! When Isaiah called out in humble confession, "then" he was cleansed. The turning point is right at that place for any life. Only when we come to the place of confession and contrition which Isaiah knew, can we expect the Lord to send the cleansing fire and the enabling power.

Reformation, turning over a new leaf, character development, all commendable in their place, are not sufficient. There must be a divine cleansing of the life if there is to be a commission to service.

III. Realizing God's Will (Eph. 5: 15-17).

The ministry of the Church of God can serve no greater purpose than helping men and women to know the will of God. That wisdom (v. 17) comes through the teaching of God's Word and through the ministry of the Holy Spirit, both in the church and in the individual.

The Church (and that means every member) is to recognize that the evil day in which we live is a challenge to holy and effective living. Time is not to be wasted, or casually used. It is to be redeemed—every moment to count for God.

The walk of the believer is to be circumspect, that is, with "pains-taking attention to details, under a sense of their importance," not a foolish walk, but a wise one.

IV. Receiving God's Spirit (5:18-21).

God wishes to fill His children with the Holy Spirit in such mighty overwhelming power that they are entirely under His control. Such Spirit-filled believers find their joy and satisfaction in the fellowship of those who sing the praises of God from the heart.

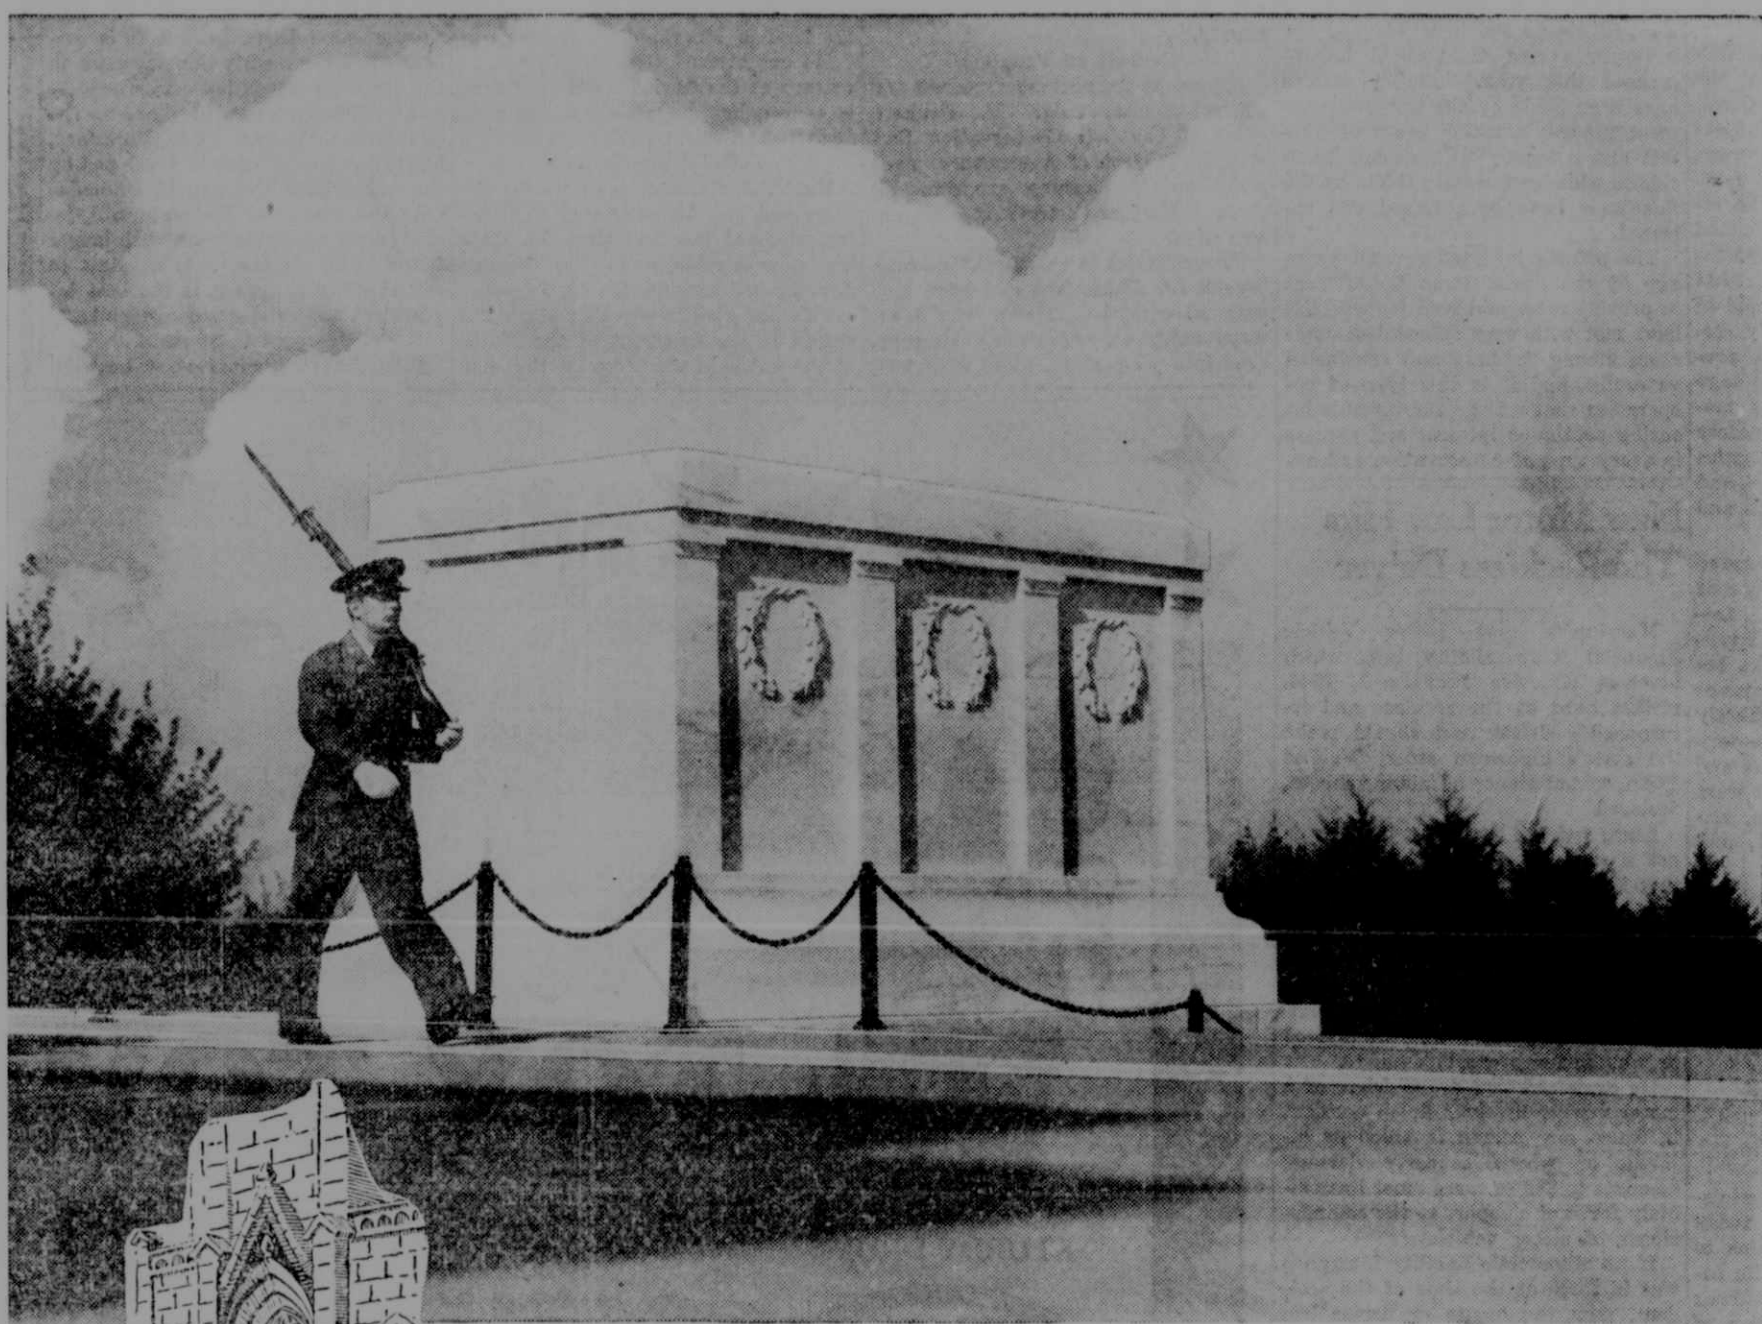

Being a Christian is not a depressing, sorrowful business. It makes you glad. It is God's people who sing and make melody. Some of us who have failed to appreciate this truth should begin now to "get happy" about our religion.

The Holy Spirit leads believers into a life of humility and self-denial (v. 21). Pride and self-exaltation are definitely ruled out.

Do not neglect the note of thanksgiving found in verse 20. The Church of Christ has so infinitely much for which to be thankful that actually ingratitude is a sin. How much blessing is lost because of it! Let us "give thanks always for all things."

There were riots and wild clashes in Cairo, Egypt, in protest against making Palestine a Jewish national home.

Robert M. Reindollar assumed the chairmanship of state roads commission.

Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, Arlington National Cemetery.

"Here Rests in Honored Glory An American Soldier Known But to God"

"Known but to God." But known to God!

Millions gave their lives in the First World War. Other millions have had to die that the sacrifice may not have been in vain.

Their names? We know but a few. Their hopes and aspirations as they lived their short years among us . . . we can only guess. The noble deeds they might have done, had not Victory demanded this one and noblest deed . . . who dares even to imagine?

What oblivion—that men should hardly know the gallant hearts that beat their last for humanity!

But this is not oblivion. For there lives One who knows all hearts as none other ever shall. When for His Truth men die others may forget. But He, through eternity, will never forget.

His Church is the haven of men. His Faith is the strength of brave hearts. His Truth gives meaning to life . . . purpose to victory . . . glory beyond death.

WORSHIP IN YOUR CHURCH—PRAY FOR LASTING PEACE
NEXT SUNDAY—ARMISTICE DAY!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the Church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Church on Sunday.

Mine Inspector Proposes Expanded Safety Program

An expanded safety program to halt a rising accident trend has been proposed by a Federal coal mine inspector for the 250-ton-a-day Wolf Den mine, Opening Nos. 1 and 2, of the Wolf Den Coal Corporation at Shillmar, according to a Federal reinspection report made public by the Bureau of Mines. The mine employed 74 men.

Inspector Arthur Metcalfe, who recently reexamined the operation, noted that the output for each lost-time injury declined from 7,606 tons in 1944 to 5,910 tons during the first half of this year. To improve the safety records, he suggested additional precautions in the timbering and haulage operations, some electrical and mechanical safeguards, wearing of safety shoes by all employees, and goggles and snug-fitting clothes by some, and a safety organization of officials and workmen.

Recent improvements enumerated by the inspector were the provision of suitable cap pieces in timbering, frequent roof tests, a split system of ventilation, some doors in stoppings between airways, adequate clearance along main haulageways, adequately supported trolly and power extension wires to the mining machine, and some surface betterments. These were attributed to company initiative, employee cooperation, State laws, and Federal recommendations.

Other safety proposals called for the exclusive use of permissible explosives for all blasting in an approved manner, increased air at some working faces, adequate fire protection, and a ban on smoking.

Urges War Veterans to Retain Insurance

General Omar N. Bradley, Administrator of Veterans' Affairs, today urged all World War II veterans to retain their National Service Life Insurance as the soundest investment they can make for the protection of their families.

General Bradley also emphasized that those veterans who have let their insurance lapse can reinstate it at little expense and trouble.

A policy may be reinstated within six months after separation from service by merely paying two months' premium, providing the veteran is in as good health on the date of application for reinstatement as he was on the due date of the first premium in default.

After that time, in order to reinstate his policy, the veteran must undergo a physical examination. Further information on this subject may be obtained by contacting the Veterans Administration.

Number of soldiers returning from Europe in October totaled 350,000.

Many Garrett County People Attend Forum

(Continued from Page One) would be released in Garrett county. Release of wild turkeys in Allegany and Washington counties reached a total of 400 to 600 last year and the governor stated this would be increased this year. "Similar efforts have been made by the Game department towards stocking areas of Garrett and Allegany with chukar partridges, while cotton-tail rabbits by the thousands have been raised and released."

The efforts initiated several years ago by the State Game Department to provide cover and feed for wild life have met with very splendid co-operation among farmers and sportsmen generally, and it is this type of co-operation that will go far towards insuring continued interest and success in every type of conservation endeavor.

New Motor Law Hits The Reckless Driver

Maryland's new Motor Vehicle Financial Responsibility law, which becomes effective January 1, 1946, strikes hard at the reckless and irresponsible driver and should make the state's highways safer, W. Lee Elgin, commissioner of motor vehicles, declared.

Elgin pointed out that the law is not a compulsory insurance act and that it does not require motor vehicle owners to buy insurance, but, he said, it will particularly affect those drivers and car owners, involved in an automobile accident, who are unable or unwilling to make provision for reimbursement of persons who are injured or who suffer property damage.

He explained that every driver of a motor vehicle involved in an accident in which any person is killed or injured, or where property damage amounts to $50 or more must immediately forward a report to the commissioner of motor vehicles.

If no automobile liability insurance was in force at the time of the accident, then the owner or driver has sixty days in which to settle all claims and furnish satisfactory proof, deposit cash or negotiable securities with the department of motor vehicles in an amount representing damages to the other party but not in excess of $11,000, or deposit a surety bond not in excess of $11,000.

In event proof is furnished of liability insurance, the department will take no further action, Elgin said, provided the policy is in amount not less than $5,000 for one person injured or killed, $10,000 for bodily injury or death of two or more persons in one accident, and at least $1,000 property damage. Should the owner or driver fail to meet these requirements, his operator's license and motor vehicle tags will be suspended, Elgin said.

A Greek-Albanian border battle was reported.

or. "The value of Western Maryland as a recreation center for the people of our state is recognized and fully appreciated by the State administration. The Forestry Department has done a splendid job in promoting the use of the Herrington Manor, New Germany and Swallow Falls area in Garrett county."

Bennett on Program
Known as the nation's foremost soil conservationist, Hugh H. Bennett, chief of the Soil Conservation Service, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, made a hit on the morning program. He praised Maryland's work in soil conservation.

"Your strides in this field," he said, "speak for themselves and have won national attention. That's why I always enjoy an opportunity to come over into your state, meet with you, visit your farms and soil conservation districts, and take back fresh ideas with me. You have something to be proud of, too, with a score of districts like your Allegany Soil Conservation District here, and taking in five and a half million acres and around 37,000 farms in the state. If I'm not mistaken, that is almost 90 per cent of the land in Maryland."

He emphasized that only about 11 percent of the world's total land area is reasonably available for the production of food and fiber crops.

Talk by Dr. Symons
Dr. T. B. Symons, chairman of the Maryland Soil Conservation Committee, stressed the fact that the state has now awakened to the damage done by soil erosion. He continued: "We are glad to say that Maryland stands in the forefront of the states of the union in the progress that has been made in this important work. We are on the threshold of major developments in this field. Governor O'Connor and the Legislature provided an increase of $10,000 in the State appropriation for this work, making the total available about $18,000 during the present year. These funds are provided for cooperating with our Soil Conservation Districts, but it is evident that even with this increase in the state appropriation comparatively small allotments can be made to the 20 districts. We have made allocations, however, upon a formula developed by the supervisors themselves. Undoubtedly the people of the state will desire to promote this work with larger funds in the future. It is needless to say that we believe it is the best investment that the state can make."

Research is Stressed
Soils, forestry, minerals, water, wildlife, flood control and marine problems are all included in the general subject of conservation, according to Dr. R. V. Truitt, director of the Dept.

of Research and Education. He emphasized the value of research and education of the public in the problems involved in conservation.

Our School Problem

ONE of Hitler's methods in his plan to completely take over Germany, which he did, was to teach the youngsters in elementary and high schools his particular type of history and government philosophy. The result of that maddening work is apparent. Returning veterans know that Hitler youths were the most fanatical of any troops met on the battle front.

In Italy, Japan and other countries where schools are controlled by the Government, there is very little actual truth left in the young men who are coming into maturity today. Their minds are warped by constant propaganda, disguised as facts.

In the United States we have escaped this scourge up to now, although some Government bureaus are past masters in the art of propaganda. Public opinion, and the press, thus far have kept the Government at Washington from dictating what should be taught and how it should be taught in the nation's schools, and that policy should be continued.

American Education Week being observed November 11 to 17, shows a favorable slant. Emphasis is being placed on the spiritual, strengthening home life, developing good citizens, building sound health and an interest in securing an enduring peace. Parents and interested citizens have been urged this week to visit schools and see what is being taught and how. By such visits they will be able to tell whether or not the schools are being kept for the purpose for which they were established—to train the young in the use of the mental tools they will require in life—without attempting to inculcate in them any strange isms or philosophies which are opposed to our present form of democratic government.

Hospital Survey Plan Will Begin In Garrett County

Inventory To Determine Need For Extension of Medical Services Will Be Statewide

Assurance that a statewide survey to determine the need for extension of hospital services throughout the state, which has been authorized by the State Planning Commission, would begin in Garrett County, was announced this week by State Senator Bernard L. Gonder, of Oakland.

The announcement that the commission had been authorized to begin the survey through its committee on medical care, was announced on Saturday by Governor O'Connor. The Board of Public Works has allotted $8,500 for this purpose.

Mr. Gonder said that while attending the legislative session at Annapolis last week he also conferred with the governor, J. Alvin Pasarew, executive director of the commission; and Henry P. Lee, Baltimore, chairman of the committee on post-war reconstruction, and he was assured that the survey would begin in this county, as Garrett was one of the few counties of the state without any hospital facilities whatsoever.

An inventory of all facilities which provide bed care for the sick in the State will be made during the study in an attempt to determine whether existing institutions have sufficient capacity to care for the entire population of Maryland, the Governor explained.

Federal Aid Possible

The results of the study may enable the State to obtain Federal funds for hospital projects, Governor O'Connor stated, if the Hill-Burton hospital construction bill is approved by Congress.

This measure would authorize grants to states in which there is a shortage of hospital facilities for the construction of hospitals.

The survey probably will be conducted by the Committee on Medical Care, with the assistance of a hospital survey committee composed of representatives from all parts of the State, it was said.

Mr. Gonder said in his opinion there was a greater need in this county for a hospital than any other place in the state and he felt confident that the survey would bear out this belief.

Cafeteria and School Ground Improvements Arranged by P.-T. A.

Committee Finds County Commissioners Agreeable to Plans of Elementary Organization

Arrangements for improvements in the playground and cafeteria facilities at the Oakland Elementary school were announced this week by Emorie G. Dusie, president of the Elementary Parent-Teacher association, following a meeting of committees with the County Commissioners of Garrett County.

The two committees recently appeared before the commissioners to obtain funds for the purchase of additional playground space for the smaller children, and the construction of an adequate cafeteria for all who attend the school.

Committee spokesman for the cafeteria project was Penelope Delaney, who outlined the need for repairs and reconstruction of the present rooms in the basement, and asked for help in completing three lunch rooms, and a modern kitchen. The committee asked for $1,250 to make this possible and promised that the P.-T. A. Association would furnish from its funds stoves, kitchen supplies, dishes, refrigeration, etc., so as to have a modern cafeteria which can feed 450 students if necessary.

Mr. Dusie said that Walter G. Meyers, John W. Herman and Jonas W. Sines, the commissioners, agreed with the program wholeheartedly and commended the members of the P.-T. A. for their public spirit.

Spencer Graham presented the second project to the commissioners, that of the purchase of a separate lot, already enclosed by a wire fence, and adjacent to the school property, for smaller children to play by themselves, where the danger of injury from larger children at play would be at a minimum.

The commissioners agreed to arrange for funds to purchase the lot at $1,500, the price stipulated by the heirs, the commissioners to furnish one-half of the purchase price with E. E. Rathbun, county superintendent of schools furnishing the other half from a contingent fund.

Mr. Dusie said the P.-T. A. would furnish playground equipment, slides, swings, etc. Other members of the committees who were before the commissioners were Paul DeWitt, William Nace, Mrs. B. L. Gonder, Jr., and Mrs. William Warfield.

The school lunch program for a limited number of 125 students got under way on Monday. All will be able to receive hot lunches when the new project is completed.

Will Mail Christmas Club Checks Dec. 1st

Almost $15,000 will be sent out from the two Oakland banks on December first in Christmas Savings Club checks, it was announced this week. This is approximately $3,000 more than the amount distributed last year. The money will be sent to more than 275 depositors of the First National Bank and the Garrett National Bank in Oakland.

The increase was greater this year although for the past three or four years the total has been going up slightly. Practically all those who started the savings accounts completed them, cashiers of both banks remarked.

Both banks are planning Christmas clubs for next year as soon as checks for the past year have been mailed out. The first payments are due the first week in December.

M. Sgt. James Treacy Awarded Bronze Star

Master Sergeant James J. Treacy, stationed in Paris, France, with the office of the Judge Advocate General, was recently awarded the bronze star for meritorious service from September 15, 1944, to May 8, 1945. During this time he served as chief clerk of the examination section in the military justice division of the branch office of the Judge Advocate General.

The citation reads in part: "Sgt. Treacy examined or supervised examination of thousands of records of trial by general court martial for administrative and technical irregularities. In the performance of these responsible and difficult duties, Sergeant Treacy displayed outstanding ability, continuing diligence and reliability of the highest order. This enabled hundreds of procedural errors to be corrected and materially facilitated the subsequent review of those records by the officer examiners of the Military Justice Division."

Treacy is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Treacy, Second Street. He enlisted in April, 1943, and was overseas in December of that year, serving in England for a time with a military police unit before being transferred to his present unit. He was expected to sail for the States within a few days, according to a recent letter.

Landing Strip Is Recommended

Although, as the result of a national survey by the federal government, an emergency landing strip has been recommended for Garrett county, the final outcome is not yet definite, according to latest available information on the subject.

The Federal commission planning the system of air strips throughout the nation as a post-war development, has recommended the expenditure of $416,000 for the airstrip in this county.

A state survey is being contemplated which possibly will tie in with the federal program but according to Bernard L. Gonder, state senator from this county, the appropriation made to cover the expenses of an engineer and one man to go over the state, was considered insufficient, which is delaying the start of the work.

Huster and Associate Judge Walter C. Capper, in Cumberland.

The motion was seconded by former State Senator William A. Gunter, and Mangas was sworn in by Robert Jackson, clerk of court.

Mangas is now a teacher in Cathedral's Business school. He was admitted to the practice of law in October in the court of appeals after passing the state bar examination with highest honors.

BUSINESS SECTION OF OAKLAND DAMAGED BY DISASTROUS FIRE

Nally Building Is Smoldering Ruins This Morning—Adjacent Buildings Are Saved After Stubborn Fight by Firemen Throughout the Night

A raging fire that broke out in the Nally Building, on the southeast corner of Second and Alder streets, in the heart of Oakland's business section at 11:30 o'clock last night, virtually destroyed the entire building and for a time threatened an entire block.

Five places of business were entirely demolished and several families living in apartments on the second floor of the brick veneer structure were made homeless, the occupants losing everything they owned, including their clothing except that which they hurriedly donned. The loss is estimated at between $40,000 and $50,000, which is only partially covered by insurance.

The fire had its inception from an overheated flue which broke through the partitions in the Lou Cornish Inn, facing on Second street and near the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Second street crossing. The flames quickly spread to the upper floor, thus prohibiting those in apartments from saving any of their furnishings, and broke through the roof in less than an hour.

Snow Fences Erected

The work of erecting snow fences in Garrett county, in preparation for the approaching winter, with its high winds and drifting snow, has been under way by employees of the State Roads commission for several days, and is expected to be completed soon. Workmen each year place from thirty to thirty-five miles of fences in strategic points along the state highways, in their annual battle to keep highways open for traffic in all kinds of weather.

This year the State has been able to obtain about two carloads of new fences. The County Roads department also has been busy placing their fences.

Along with the erection of the snow fences, mechanics are putting all snow plows and other winter equipment in shape, ready for the first big snowfall.

Initial War Fund Report Shows Trend Toward $4,800 Goal

Indicate That Quota Will Be Met If Solicitors Keep On The Job

The initial report on the National War Fund drive in Garrett county indicates that contributions will parallel those of last year, providing solicitors remain on the job until their canvass has been completed in the various communities, according to Bernard L. Gonder, county chairman.

A partial report was received this week from Kitzmiller, showing contributions of around $350.00. Other contributions which have been received personally by Cecil Smith, treasurer, from Oakland business concerns, organizations, etc., total around $200.00.

Mr. Gonder said that the collections at the schools would be completed this week, which would show a substantial total, and that free-will donations would be taken in the theatres to help boost the fund. The Girl Scouts of Oakland are planning a tag day on Saturday, November 17, and the women's committee of the war fund division at Oakland, have arranged a Bingo party next Wednesday evening, November 21, beginning at 9 o'clock, at the Manhattan hotel.

Reports from other community chairmen are expected by next week. The county quota is $4,800.00.

Frankville Leads School Attendance

Frankville led one-teacher schools of the county in attendance for October with a percentage of 99, it was announced by John L. Fitzwater, attendance officer. Hoyer Run was second with 98.8, while Steyer was third with 98.7. Others above 95 were Casselman, Rich Hill, Bittinger, Bethel, Yoder, Red Oak and Finzel.

Shallmar led the two-teacher schools with 96.4 percent with Deer Park second and Jennings third. Graded schools were led by Bloomington with 97.3 percent, and Loch Lynn was second. Crellin and Kempton tied for third. Grantsville led the high schools with 92.1. Oakland was second and Friendsville third.

Mr. Fitzwater also reported that there were 2,612 pupils transported to schools on October 31 from a total of 2798 pupils on the routes.

It was estimated that 66 million passenger tires would be made next year.

In the meantime the Western Auto Associate Store, the A. and P. store, the Oakland Sales Company warehouse and offices and Coffey's Coffee shop were enveloped within the building, and Oakland firemen began frantic efforts to save adjoining structures.

Fanned By Strong Wind

Fanned by a strong wind, with temperatures around the freezing mark, the inferno threw sparks and blazing portions of fire through the entire block and had it not been for the rain and snow on the rooftops, dozens of other fires would have been set.

The space occupied by the A. and P. store, constructed of concrete, is credited with halting the flames on the first floor and allowing the firemen to save the Brown building adjoining, which houses the Daniel P. Smouse grocery store and the Selective Service Board on the first floor and the apartments, and Mrs. Prema Brown on the upper floor.

Records of the Draft Board were moved across the street to the hallway of the First National Bank building, and Mrs. Brown's furniture and other belongings were carried out by volunteers and stored in nearby business places. Attorney A. T. Matthews, the C. & A. Gas Company employees also moved some of their belongings, fearing the flames would spread to their offices.

Other Fire Companies Respond

While Oakland firemen battled the blaze, a call was sent to other fire companies and Terra Alta, Piedmont, Westernport, Luke, Thomas, Beryl, Bloomington and Friendsville responded in a remarkably short time and helped to confine the fire in the one building. It was brought under control about 1:30 o'clock, but firemen were still applying water to the ruins this morning at 11 o'clock.

Should the walls remain standing, it was asserted by firemen that possibly some of the goods from the A. and P. Store and the Western Auto Store as well as the Coffee shop might be salvaged.

Families made homeless by the fire include Mr. and Mrs. William Dunbar, Mrs. Mabel Flannigan, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coffey, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Nally, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ferguson, Ed Root, Mrs. Ruth Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. Carl "Dutch" Wolfe and their families.

Local firemen worked heroically throughout the night and many other citizens assisted in moving records, furniture, etc., from nearby buildings. Oakland firemen said this morning that the arrival of the Terra Alta company was at an opportune time, and their work in the alleyway back of the Maryland Theatre was instrumental in saving the old Treacy building and helping to save the Brown structure.

The Westernport company placed its truck at the disposal of the local organization to take care of other possible emergencies in the town.

Purchase Store

Herbert Ritchie and Arvie Ritchie have purchased the grocery business of Daniel P. Smouse, Alder street, and were scheduled to open for business today. The former has been in the employ of the West Maryland Power company while his brother has been engaged in defense work in Baltimore. They are natives of the Red House community.

Mr. Smouse is beginning his duties as a bookkeeper for the Dusie Wholesale Produce company.

A big black bear, killed in Tucker county, was exhibited in Cumberland.

Step right up, amigos... Have a Coca-Cola

...Yank friendliness comes back to Leyte

Naturally Filipinos thrilled when their Yankee comrades came back to the Philippines. For along with freedom they brought back all the friendliness that America stands for. You find it quickly expressed in the simple phrase Have a Coke. There's no easier way to say Relax and be yourself. Everywhere the pause that refreshes with ice-cold Coca-Cola has become a symbol of how Yankee friendliness follows the flag around the globe.

The state forestry department has announced plans to increase the facilities for winter sports activities at New Germany in response to queries from winter sports enthusiasts in Washington and Baltimore.

Campaign Continues Against Tuberculosis

"For several months the State Department of Health has been carrying on an intensified program to combat tuberculosis," Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of Health, has announced. "Our Tuberculosis Control Program is carried on through the Bureau of Communicable Diseases, in cooperation with the United States Public Health Service."

"The need for joining battle against this disease is generally recognized. In our State more than 1,200 persons died of tuberculosis in 1944. It is still the leading cause of death between the ages of fifteen and thirty-five."

"Early diagnosis is being stressed, because the disease can be cured in less time and recovery occurs with less disability when infection is discovered in the early stages. For best results tuberculosis should be detected by x-ray before any symptoms appear to the patient have occurred. Accordingly, the State has purchased two photofluorographic units to make small chest films of seemingly healthy persons. The machines, which should be available within the next few months, will be used to detect early tuberculosis in high school students, industrial workers and other large groups. It is anticipated that a significant percentage of previously unsuspected cases of early tuberculosis will be found by this method."

"Once diagnosed, it is highly important that these cases receive prompt medical care and supervision throughout the course of their illness. Hospitalization for residents of Maryland is made available by the State sanatorium system. Aid to families whose chief wage earner must undergo prolonged sanatorium care is necessary to prevent patients from leaving the sanatorium against medical advice, as many now do. Vocational rehabilitation is now available for patients who will never be able to return to their former occupations."

"In recent decades much progress has been made in this State's battle against tuberculosis, but the conquest of this enemy of public health is still

In its present campaign to eradicate the dreaded disease the State Department of Health is cooperating closely with the Maryland Tuberculosis Association, the State sanatorium system, the State Department of Public Welfare and the rehabilitation Division of the Department of Education. With these agencies we are attempting to develop a well-balanced program that considers the many medical, public health and sociological aspects of the tuberculosis problem in Maryland."

Quiz For Marylanders

THINGS YOU MAY NOT HAVE KNOWN TILL NOW

By QUENTIN HOWE

Answer to Question 1:

Andrew Jackson. His letter to "the Gentlemen of the Maryland Jockey Club" is one of their treasured mementos. The letter hangs in the office at Pimlico, Maryland's most famous racing association. It was written in 1831.

Answer to Question 2:

Maryland's favorite sport contributes over one million a year in taxes, more than enough to pay for every Baby Clinic in Maryland. If this money were not contributed by Maryland's four Racing Associations, it would have to be raised by increasing your taxes. Baby Clinics are important to Maryland. They protect the health of Maryland mothers and Maryland babies. Fortunately, Maryland's traditional sport provides more than enough to pay for these Free Baby Clinics.

Answer to Question 3:

"The Triple Crown" is The Kentucky Derby (Kentucky), The Preakness (Maryland) and The Belmont Stakes (New York). A horse that wins these three is said to have won "The Triple Crown." In all history only six horses have done it. The Preakness was first run in 1873, two years before the first Kentucky Derby. The Preakness is Maryland's most famous race, is run each spring at Pimlico (Maryland Jockey Club). People come from all over the world to see Maryland's Preakness. Marylanders are proud of their Preakness.

THIS, we reasoned, is no time to offer folks a car that stops with artful face-lifting.

It has been nearly four years since our last new Buick was built — it wouldn't be shooting square now to give you less than our honor-bright best.

So we overhauled our whole factory to advantage it with the latest in war-developed machines and processes.

We scoured the country for the stoutest metals anyone can buy today.

We set ourselves precisions that in some cases exceed those of aircraft engine production.

And we eagle-eyed every one of this Buick's 12,000 parts to see if it could be bettered in any way, big or little.

The result is that through every stunning inch of this bright new honey runs solid, dependable Buick character, honest and uncompromised.

It's in swift clean lines. In seats that are three-persons wide. In stout, time-defying frames and underpinning. Above all — in the lift and life of a Fireball

"3,000,000 Meals. Please!"

That's just about the order B&O dining car chefs will prepare this year. And, while it is a bigger job than any housewife ever faces, the difficulties we meet in doing it are very similar to hers.

Like all meal-makers, one of our problems is getting variety in our menus. To add as much appetite appeal as possible, we tap sources of supply in nearly every section of the country. In B&O diners you'll find seafood from Chesapeake Bay, carefully selected poultry and vegetables from the best markets and premium grade beef from prize-winning steers.

Yes, it takes a lot of planning and much hard work over many hot stoves to serve 3,000,000 meals, but we try to make every meal in a B&O diner a pleasant and long-remembered event.

We're proud, indeed, that so many people associate the B&O with fine food and courteous service...and we intend to keep it that way!

Mr. Hoye Receives Letter From Friend In The Philippines

Recounts Atrocities Committed There During Occupation Of The Japanese Army

Mr. Charles E. Hoye, editor of The Glades Star of the County Historical Society, has received a letter from Dr. Sixto de los Angeles, a native of San Mateo, Philippine Islands, a town east of Manila in which the former served as a soldier in 1900 and in which he later taught school.

It recalls some of the atrocities committed there during the occupation of the Japanese army. Enamel Amado, a person mentioned in the letter, was Capt. Hoye's brightest pupil.

San Mateo is at the foot of the central Luzon mountains into which the main body of the Japanese army retreated from Manila where it resisted the American army until the general surrender of Japan.

The letter follows:
21 A. Ruiz, San Juan, P. I.
September 17th, 1945.

Mr. Charles E. Hoye,
Sang Run, Maryland, U. S. A.
My dear Mr. Hoye:

I received your letter only three weeks ago, August 27th, and was much overjoyed to hear at last from a true and old friend overseas such as you, after long years of sufferings, privations and uncertainties. We are all delighted to learn of the good news about your family and of your being in the best of health at the age of 68 years.

I have been residing with my family in San Juan, P. I., since 1939. Thank God our place here has not been much damaged during the bombing and the shelling. We evacuated to San Mateo at the end of September of last year soon after Manila was first raided by the Americans because we thought our town was safer being near the mountains. In fact, many prominent Manilaans also felt likewise and evacuation to San Mateo caused acute housing problem so that house rentals soared up to thousands pesos a month. By the middle of December Japanese troops began to arrive in the town. They occupied the schoolhouse, Municipal Building, market and some houses near the Plaza. At first we thought they were only coming to rest temporarily but then we noticed that, especially at night, a continuous stream of soldiers poured in carrying all their ammunitions, tanks, cannons and even anti-aircrafts. We learned later on that they were returning to the mountains. Because of the glances done to the townspeople by the Japanese soldiers not only by robbing them from their houses but also by confiscating foodstuffs and all means of transportation including pushcarts, we, together with some relatives, thought it best to come to Manila. We left behind our household and harvested rice and all our personal belongings at the mercy of the Japanese and the booties.

Fortunately, we made that first and wise decision five after a month's time, that is, by February, we heard of the sad fate of our town. The Japanese soldiers, waiting to occupy the whole of San Mateo and Montalban, ordered all the civilians to leave the town via Nevaliches mountains. They were only given 24 hours notice. The houses were then ransacked and looted and they set fire on some of them. The greatest damage however was done by the shelling of the townspeople.

To get rid of the snipers, they had to use two-thirds of the town to the ground including the church, public buildings and big houses.

You probably heard already from the papers about the atrocities and barbarous acts committed by the Japanese invaders in the Southern part of Manila. Non-combatant men were machine-gunned en masse; young women, abused and layonneted; children and infants were tossed in the air and caught at the point of the bayonet; pregnant women were slashed in their abdomen, etc. Such would have been our fate also if the Americans arrived one day too late and if the rescuers came by the South route instead.

Believe me, my dear Mr. Hoye, after all that we have gone through during the three years of Japanese invasion and occupation which spelled nothing but tortures, bitterness, deprivation of liberty and property, starvation, elixir into the above described hellish massacre of the last few days, the newly rescued by the Americans was like heaven. Everywhere, deep admiration and gratefulness to your people are in the lips of every Filipino. We owe our present safe existence to America and we look up to the Americans not only as our liberators but we recognize also their unequalled and unprecedented leadership, sacrifice and humanitarian service in this war. You and your sons, too, should be heartily congratulated for your successful service in this war as 100% Americans.

Of myself and my family—I have already retired from active work for some time after the outbreak of the war. I became quite sickly from asthmatic attacks and chronic bronchitis plus the past worries and anxieties. The rest of the family are well and in good health. My daughters, Leonor and Adelaida, are still practicing their professions as dentist and physician respectively. My two boys are both married, the youngest (lawyer) has 2 kids. We live together here in San Juan—the married ones have their own houses and let them. During all those terrible times we were able to fare along in the best way we could trying to make both ends meet, thinking only of the present and no longer of the uncertain future.

Enamel Amado, Jr., was taken by the Japanese Military Police March 12th, 1944, and was confined in Fort Santiago for having in his possession a copy of a paper published by the guerrillas. He could not resist the cruelties and tortures inflicted upon him inside, so that he died after exactly a month.

April 12th of the same year, his body was delivered to his family with a death certificate of cerebral hemorrhage. At present our living conditions are very much better since the arrival of the Americans. Canned foods, rice, meat and clothes are rationed to the people, at first in relief form and later, through retail stores at low cost by ration tickets. There are plenty of foodstuffs in the market but money inflation is such that the cost price of every item has risen to ten times its original value. Black market is rampant. Business is hampered. Housing problem is great on account of the widespread destruction by fire and shelling of government buildings and private houses. I think it will take from ten to twenty years before rehabilitation work in the Philippines could be completed.

According to the papers, we shall be celebrating our national independence by the early part of next year. I hope you could come with your family. We shall be very glad to have you with us then.

So long, and give my heartiest wishes and best regards to the family. Affectionately yours,

SIXTO DE LOS ANGELES.
Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to all.

Riching looks out in Bucharest, Roumania.

Building Committee Gives P.-T. A. Program

Through a request by the program committee of the Oakland High School Parent-Teachers' Association, the building committee will present a five-point program to that organization at its next meeting on November 28. A main feature will be an address by a school expert.

At a meeting last Thursday members of the building committee met forth a tentative program as follows: (1) Review of legislative action; (2) Panel discussion by members of the committee; (3) Pictures or views of desirable features in other schools; (4) Address—"Building a Schoolhouse versus Housing a School"; and (5) Open forum.

Large Attendance Anticipated
Under point (1) the law establishing the building committee and related correspondence will be read; under (2) pictures taken at schools which the committee visited will be put on display. As yet no speaker has definitely been selected but arrangements are being made to procure one for the suggested topic; the open forum will give those attending a chance to discuss their viewpoints and question those on the committee. It is for these latter purposes that a large attendance is hoped for and anticipated.

Our Roots Are in This Land...

HOW often you hear a man say of the land he owns . . . "When my son takes over, this will be a better place than when I got it!" Such a desire is natural to a father and splendidly American! Along with the expressed thought, there is a deep-rooted pride in continuous family ownership of productive land. So long as this ideal lives, agriculture will continue to be "the broad, enduring base upon which the entire U. S. economy rests."

There are many farm and ranch sons who stay in their families' business on the land. Some who do leave, however, might also stay, were there written business agreements between father and son. Such agreements insure a fair return to both "partners" for the labor, capital and ability they contribute to their joint enterprise.

Practical father-and-son farm business agreements have been worked out and are proving their worth in actual practice on many of the nation's farms and ranches. The various forms of these agreements cannot be explained in detail here, but they are available and worth study. Excellent bulletins on this subject may be had by writing to the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, Urbana, Illinois, for Circular No. 587; or to Michigan State College, East Lansing, Michigan, for Special Bulletin No. 330.

We, at Swift & Company, know that a prosperous agriculture is the base of our prosperity and we are proud to say with you . . . "Our roots are in this land."

Soda Bill Sex:

... That a steer is like a sofa. His frame is built on the range, his upholstery is put on in the Corn Belt, and he is often polished off in the city.

... That the important thing about a water-hole is water, and the important thing about a good farm is good farming.

Have you heard about the new improved lard? Swift & Company, after ten years of research and consumer tests, has developed a brand new product—Swift's Bland Lard. It has all the advantages of other high grade shortenings, plus the important qualities found only in lard. It will cause millions of American housewives to use more lard, and that's mighty important to hog producers.

Any improvement in pork products which boosts consumer demand (such as a superior lard) will have a supporting effect on live hog prices, because the price paid for livestock is governed by what the meat packer can get for the meat and by-products.

THE EDITOR'S COLUMN

The livestock-and-meat industry is like an endless chain. The meat travels in one direction; from livestock producer to meat packer, to retail dealer, to consumer. And coming back in the opposite direction is money; from the meat purchaser to the storekeeper, to the meat packer, to the man who grows the livestock.

There must be motive power to keep that chain running, and that motive power is profit. It is profit that keeps ranchers and farmers producing livestock; profit keeps meat packers slaughtering, dressing and delivering meat to retailers; profit keeps retailers selling meat in their stores.

We at Swift & Company well know that a continuing loss anywhere along the line would mean that all of us would suffer. Thus, it is clearly to our own advantage to operate our end of the livestock-and-meat industry so efficiently that the money the consumer pays for meat shall cover all costs plus a sufficient profit for retailers and livestock producers, as well as for ourselves.

PIGS INHERIT ABILITY TO MAKE RAPID GAINS

By J. C. GRIMES

Alabama Agricultural Experiment Station
Pigs from certain families or blood lines consistently made faster and cheaper gains than pigs from other blood lines in a swine breeding experiment at the Alabama Experiment Station. The ability to consume large amounts of feed and to convert it into meat rapidly and efficiently was found to run in families.

A strain of hogs which was selected for economy of gains reached a finished weight of 225 pounds in an average of 27 days less time than a strain that had not been selected for economy of gains. They also consumed an average of 34 pounds less feed to make 100 pounds of gain during the fattening period.

The appetite of a pig was found to be a good index to his ability to make rapid and cheap gains.

|-----------------------------|--------------------------------|
| 2 cups cubed cooked chicken | 2 cups cooked peas |
| 4 tablespoons chicken fat | 2 cups chopped mushrooms |
| 4 tablespoons flour | 4 tablespoons chopped pimiento |
| 2 teaspoons salt | 4 egg yolks |
| | 4 cups milk |

Make a white sauce of the fat, flour, milk, and seasoning. Add chicken, peas, mushrooms, and pimiento. Heat thoroughly. Beat yolks. Add a little of the hot mixture to the eggs and mix. Remove chicken mixture from the heat. Add egg mixture. Stir well. Serve immediately over hot biscuits, waffles, or cornbread.

CATTLEMAN ON HORSEBACK

Next time you are at the Union Stock Yards in Chicago, if you see this big, jovial man sitting on a horse in the middle of a milling pen of cattle, that will be M. S. ("St") Hughes, Swift's Head Cattle Buyer at Chicago.

"Way back in 1917, St Hughes walked up to the Swift buyer in Kansas City and said, 'Mister Stemm, I want a job.' He got the job, and he's been with Swift ever since, except for a two-year army hitch in World War I. Kansas City, St. Louis, Fort Worth, St. Joseph, Kansas City again, and finally Chicago—all added to his experience in judging the quality and yield percentages, grading, etc., of cattle.

In 1943 he was made Head Cattle Buyer for Swift & Company at the Chicago Yards. He has a staff of experienced cattle buyers directly associated with him.

A Cry for Freedom

Farmers are anxiously waiting to buy new equipment to increase their productivity, their incomes and the fullness of their lives; housewives hopefully await new washing machines, new radios, vacuum cleaners; retailers long for goods to sell to people who have the money and the urge to buy.

Then there are the apostles of defeat who, knowing all this, still scream that we can't have jobs unless Government has a law to MAKE so-called full employment—out of WHAT they do not say.

Well, what say the nation's manufacturers, whose factories achieved miracles of production for war—whose factories can produce miracles of the peacetime production and jobs that we need?

The Reconversion Council of the National Association of Manufacturers, which began studying the problem long even before V-J Day, puts it succinctly this way: "The problem of reconversion is the recovery of freedom."

It proposes that "the American system of free employment, free production and free markets be re-established and facilitated in America." It says: "GIVE US THE FREEDOM AND WE WILL GIVE THE JOBS."

Urgently needed for the benefit of all of us—consumers, labor and business—is the re-establishment of free collective bargaining between employers and employees, under which employees are expected to get as much as they can in wages and employers as much profit as possible, subject to the rules of fair competition.

Certainly there can be no prospect of productive employment unless there is prospect of wages for employers in supplying the tools of production and organizing machinery and manpower, to produce what customers want at prices they are willing to pay.

Local Machine Shop Operator Had Share In War Experiments

George Kerins, Sr., Worked Five Months In Manufacturing Secret Things For Army

Oakland had some share in the war program, in the development of weapons, although very few people were aware of it at the time, and it is still little known today.

The lid was lifted somewhat from the secrecy surrounding the manufacture of various articles by George Kerins, Sr., one day last week when officials arrived in Oakland to collect some blueprints and terminate the present contract.

They intimated, however, that further work might be carried on by the army or navy and that Mr. Kerins might be called upon to do some additional experiments.

Early this year Mr. Kerins entered into contract with officials of the Alameda Ballistics Laboratory, which is conducted under the direction of George Washington University, to carry on some secret experimental work. At this time he was instructing High school students in machine shop practices.

This work began in June and lasted for five months, until the latter part of October. During this time Mr. Kerins and his assistants kept three machines busy in his machine shop, just off Oak street near the Youghiogheny river bridge, sometimes as much as sixteen hours a day.

They used aluminum and steel and metal alloys and did precision work, drilling, threading, and other types of machine work where accuracy to the 10th degree was a prime requisite. It can now be told that Mr. Kerins manufactured igniter tubes, plugs, shell noses, extensions for mortar shells, igniter caps, and made other metal objects which would be collected by army officials from time to time and taken to another laboratory or proving ground where they would be assembled with other parts into a weapon and tested.

When Mr. Kerins would receive instructions to manufacture a certain object, he would have an order anywhere from 1 to 300 units. Time was always a factor in the production, but could never be placed ahead of accuracy, he said.

Many of the objects manufactured, Mr. Kerins said, he was unable to determine where they would be used and felt it was possible that some of the items might have been used in conducting experiments which led to the successful completion of the atomic bomb, or the improvement of the army bazooka and trench mortar.

Only those army officials who conducted experiments with the finished products could give the correct answer to that.

Second Inspection of Busses Arranged

A second school bus inspection schedule has been arranged by John L. Fitzwater, supervisor of transportation.

Inspections will take place at Oakland, Monday, November 26, 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.; at Accident Tuesday, November 27, 9:30 a. m.; at Grantsville, the same day, at noon; at Friendsville, Wednesday, November 28, 9:30 a. m.; and at Kitzmiller Thursday, November 29, at 9:30 a. m.

Ray O. Horn, safety department, department of motor vehicles, will be present to assist in the inspections.

Odd Fellows Conduct Big Membership Drive

Oak Lodge No. 8, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, is conducting a special drive for membership at this time which resulted in the receipt of thirty applications at the regular meeting on November 14, according to W. H. McRobie, Jr., recording secretary.

He said there would be a total of from 50 to 60 at the conclusion of the drive. The class, to be known as the "Johnny Wilson class of 1945" will take the initiatory degree on November 28, exemplified by the Oak Lodge staff. The first degree will be conferred December 5 by a special staff from Philo Lodge No. 97, Westport, at Mt. Lake Park. The second degree will be conferred December 12 and the third degree on December 19, by Oak Lodge.

Grand lodge officers from Baltimore will have a public installation of officers of Oak Lodge on January 12 and the public is invited.

Mr. McRobie said that early in the spring the Odd Fellows hall in Loch Lynn will be torn down and a large, new modern hall will be erected on the property, which will include a large auditorium, club rooms, kitchen and dining room.

Youth Club Has Talent Program

Approximately forty members and guests of the Garrett County Youth Club met last Friday evening at the Sunnyside Grange hall. This meeting was in the form of a talent program.

The entire membership previously had been divided into groups, and each group then performed some stunts or skits for their part of the program. During the business session which followed, plans were made for the December meeting which is to be a Christmas party. Following the program and business, the recreation chairman, Miss Leona Dodge, led the group in active games after which refreshments were served.

Craig Motor Moves To New Location

The Craig Motor Service, which has occupied the old Johnson building on Oak street for several years, has moved into its new location in the former Mance building, corner Third and Green streets. This building was purchased recently by the company and remodeled completely to fit the needs of the organization.

Parcels May Be Larger To Army Personnel Overseas

Parcels to army personnel overseas may be larger than before, according to new instructions received by W. E. Spierlein, acting postmaster of the Oakland office.

Effective November 15, parcels not exceeding 11 pounds in weight or 42 inches in length, or 72 inches in length and girth combined, containing articles requested by the addressee, may be accepted for mailing, he said.

Winter Library Schedule

The winter schedule of hours for the Oakland Public Library was announced as follows:

Beginning Wednesday, November 28, the library will be open from 12 o'clock noon to 5 p. m., each Wednesday.

Saturday hours remain the same, from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Investigates Charges of Inhumane Loading In Trucking Animals

George S. List, State SPCA, Spends Several Days Advising Truckers and Farmers

Following numerous complaints of improper loading and inhumane crowding of cattle and other animals for shipment to live stock sales, George S. List, special investigator of the Maryland Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, of Baltimore, visited Oakland over the last week-end, and covered the stock sales at Terra Alta and Accident. He spent several days with Corporal Thomas Currie, of the Maryland State Police, warning farmers and truck-drivers that trucks must not be over-loaded, and that where small animals are loaded with larger ones, partitions or divisions must be put in the trucks, separating them, so that the smaller animals will not be trampled and injured; also that in winter stock must be afforded protection from the elements, while in transit.

Mr. List said a large number of trucks were stopped, and their drivers and owners cautioned as to the danger of improper methods of loading, both in regard to the laws pertaining to cruelty to animals, and from a common sense angle. He remarked that as designed to put an end to widespread instances of cruelty, which have been reported throughout the summer and fall, to headquarters in Baltimore, anonymously and otherwise, and he hoped that the warning given would be sufficient to bring about an end to such practices, without resort to action at law.

Mr. List said many of the trucks stopped had calves or pigs loaded together with large cattle, and it was pointed out to the drivers that as all of the animals were indiscriminately mixed, the small ones were in imminent danger of being crushed. No charges were preferred at this time, but he stressed that Corporal Currie would keep a close watch for future instances of actual or potential cruelty. If such occasion arises, offenders will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law, he emphasized. It was also pointed out that this warning applies to shippers of chickens and other poultry.

Mr. List and Corporal Currie visited the live stock sale at Accident on Monday, and made a public announcement of the purpose and intention of local authorities to enforce humane loading and transportation.

War Fund Donations Continue to Mount

Total Is Still Far From Goal But Outlook Is Promising, Chairman Gonder Declares

Actual cash contributions in the national war fund campaign received by Cecil Smith, treasurer, this far, amounted to more than $1,100 this week, with Bernard L. Gonder, county chairman, declaring he had received verbal reports of about the same amount. The county quota is $1,800, and any amount above this figure will be retained in the county, to be dispersed among needy local veterans for emergency measures.

Oakland Elementary school completed its annual drive last Friday. The school contributed $750.00 which was higher than the sum the students raised last year. The rooms raising the largest amounts were those of Miss Ann Dilgard and Mrs. Glenn Hoffman, in the upper grades, and those of Mrs. Casted and Mrs. Playford Ryan, in the lower grades. A total of ten dollars in prize money was awarded to the winning rooms through the courtesy of Mr. Gonder.

Theatre collections at Oakland since Saturday have amounted to about $100.00 while the tag day conducted by the Girl Scouts netted $11.00. A bingo party was held Wednesday night by the women's committee of Oakland, but no report was available on the amount raised. Other Oakland committees were active this week and Mr. Gonder said a substantial report should be made next week.

Actual cash received included $355.54 from Oakland; $97.50 from Loch Lynn; $346.20 from Kitzmiller; $68.74 from Mt. Lake Park; $50.10 from Swanton, and $3.50 from West Vindeux. Some of the Vindeux fund was reported from Kitzmiller. Mr. Gonder said Grantsville, Jennings and Deer Park had made favorable reports with amounts similar to last year promised. Last year Grantsville contributed over $500, Jennings over $250.00 and Deer Park over $135.00.

Building Committee To Have Charge of Hi School P.T.A.

The Building committee of the proposed new high school building, will have charge of the High school parent-teacher association meeting on Wednesday evening, November 28, at 8 o'clock, in the school auditorium.

There will be an election of a president, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Leo Helbig at the last meeting. A prize is to be awarded to the home room having the most parents present, and a $5.00 prize also will be given to the home room having the most parents as members of the organization.

Twenty-Two Persons Are On Two Lists For Pre-Induction Exams

Fourteen Left Sunday Night for Baltimore, and Eight to Go Tuesday

Twenty-two registrants were in process of pre-induction physical examinations, according to two lists released by the Garrett County Selective Service board.

RESULTS OF FIRE RETAIN INTEREST OF LOCAL PEOPLE

Rehabilitation of Burned Out Families Progressing Thru Red Cross Disaster Committee

Rehabilitation of the seven families made homeless and the resumption of the five businesses burned out as a result of last week's disastrous fire which destroyed the Nally building, corner Second and Alder street, occupied the attention of the town's citizens and organizations this week, and much progress has been reported by the American Red Cross county chapter, working both with a local Red Cross disaster committee and national headquarters representatives.

All families are either being taken care of temporarily in the homes of friends and relatives or have been placed through the local Red Cross committee, while heads of the business concerns have already made or are making arrangements for reopening their establishments in the limited places available.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dunbar and family are at the home of Emory V. Adams, Water street. Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Nally and family are at Ethelhurst, near town, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coffey and son are at the home of Mrs. D. E. Offutt. Mrs. Mabel Flammigan and two children are at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Gower. Mrs. Ruth Bowers and two children, who were temporarily quartered at Mt. Lake Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ferguson have rented an apartment in the Naylor building, corner of Wilson and Liberty streets.

Mr. Ed Root and sons are with relatives in Eglen, while Mrs. Root is at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peck on Liberty street.

Reinford Parlaugh has rented a portion of the Naylor building on Liberty street where he will resume business as the Western Auto Associate Store. The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company plans to open for business in the building just vacated by the Craig Motor service on Oak street.

The Oakland Sales company has acquired an office in the Garrett National Bank, but Lawrence M. Fraley, co-owner, said he had not yet been able to locate a storage place. He was able to save all of his office equipment in last Wednesday's fire. No plans have as yet been made in regard to reopening of the Lou Cornish Inn or Coffey's Coffee Shop.

Mr. Purlbaugh was able to salvage some of his stock, and likewise the proprietors of the Coffee Shop. All stock in the A. and P. store was purchased by William Gibson, and hundreds of cases of canned goods underneath the debris of the burned building were not touched by the flames or heat. Much of this has been donated for use by the stricken families.

Funds made available by the generous response to the Red Cross War Fund appeal last March are on hand for the relief of the homeless families. Mrs. E. Z. Tower, county Red Cross chairman, stated, and this money is being used for clothing, food and furniture where necessary.

Although no organized appeal has been made for additional funds, a number of voluntary contributions have been made which have been added to the disaster fund. Clothing, dishes, household furniture, etc., have also been donated voluntarily and are being given out according to the needs of the various families through the disaster committee. The latter is composed of W. W. Dawson, chairman, F. E. Rathbun, L. M. Fraley, Delbert Davis, and Dr. E. I. Baumgartner. The committee will make all decisions concerning distribution, it was stated, and if local funds are not sufficient a request for an additional amount will be made to national Red Cross headquarters.

Mrs. Tower said the committee was determining if the community building could be made livable for the winter months, and if so, it would be fixed for occupancy of some of the families.

Last week the Rotary club contributed $50.00, the American Legion $100.00 and two visiting Rotarians at last week's meeting gave $25.00. Articles of food are to be brought to the Thanksgiving service this morning.

The fire continued to smoulder in the ruins and broke into flames on Friday morning and again on Sunday morning. Firemen have continued to use the hose on the ruins at various intervals.

In the meantime it was estimated that the fire damaged the Brown building to the extent of about $200. Insurance adjusters were in Oakland on Tuesday making their investigation and settling all claims.

Thanksgiving

A Grand American Tradition That Has Contributed In No Small Measure To The Happiness And Prosperity Of America

As a Nation, we probably have more to be thankful for this year than at any time in our history—but let not our prayers of thankfulness be hollow or in vain. Back them with Victory Bonds—Bonds that will provide the funds to care for our returning warriors—Bonds that will secure your future and the future of America—Bonds that will help win an enduring peace—Bonds that will express your thanks not just on this Thanksgiving Day, but on every day for years to come. To Almighty God we bow our heads in thankfulness this Thanksgiving Day — For those who fell that they shall not have fallen in vain! . . . Seven times you invested in war, now invest in peace — Buy Victory Bonds.

A THANKSGIVING PRAYER

By RUTH TAYLOR
Father of all mankind, on this Day of Thanksgiving, we gather together to thank Thee for the many evidences of Thy bounty vouchsafed to us during this past year.

We thank Thee for the blessing of peace. We thank Thee for the victory Thou hast given us over the forces of evil. Thine is the glory and the honor.

We thank Thee for the return of our loved ones. We thank Thee for the strength Thou hast given them—and us—to endure. We pray that Thou wilt bring consolation to all of those who have not been so fortunate and whose dearest of every class, creed and color have given their lives for all of us. May we never forget the debt we owe their memory!

We thank Thee for the desire for permanent peace that is in the hearts of Thy people. We thank Thee for the first steps that have already been taken toward this goal. However faltering and feeble these steps may be, we know that they are a start in the right direction.

We thank Thee for the acceptance of freedom and we humbly accept the responsibility it entails. Teach us to fulfill our obligations that we may be worthy of our rights.

We thank Thee for the opportunities that lie before us. Help us to build a world in which all men, Thy sons, live as brothers. Give unto us the spirit of understanding that we may live and work together in peace and good will.

We offer to Thee this day of Thanksgiving. Grant that we may show in our lives, our gratitude for Thy many mercies. In Jesus' name we ask it, Amen.

Where food is finest.... it's cooked with GAS

It's fun to dine on exotic restaurant food

But when it comes to day-in-day-out good eating there's nothing like your own private recipe flame-cooked on your own wonderful Gas range! To you . . . and the 20 million others like you who prefer flame-cooking . . . the speed, economy, flexibility and cleanliness of Gas is an old story.

What's really big news right now is — your own individually planned "New Freedom Gas Kitchen". It's cooler, cleaner, easier to work in than ever before. And it's all built around a new Gas range so completely automatic, it cooks a delicious meal even when you're miles away. But be sure that whatever "make" you buy carries the CP seal! Then you'll know it has all the best features of dozens of ranges combined into one. Plan for it, now!

There's a bright future for farm telephone service, too!

Bell Telephone Laboratory research has found new ways to extend and improve farm telephone service.

We are busy right now planning how to use these ideas. There's a bright future for the farm telephone when manpower and materials are again available.

MT. LAKE PARK

Winter Approaches

Old Man Winter reminded us last Thursday morning that he was not far away when the temperature dropped to 28 degrees and the ground was partially covered with snow. Some good advice would be to have your flues cleaned, those old dry flakes of soot hanging in the flues have caused many disastrous fires.

Land of the Pilgrim's Pride

They were humble people . . . those men and women who carved America out of forest and field. They knew a Power greater than human strength; they trusted in a Wisdom above the human mind.

But they were proud people as well . . . proud of the land to which God had brought them . . . of the harvest God had so richly provided . . . of the future that God's protection assured.

In the wooded temples of a virgin land they knelt. And from humble lips and proud hearts rose America's first Thanksgiving.

Three centuries have brought to this land a glory far beyond the prayers and dreams of the Pilgrims. But the greatness of our nation will always rest upon the character of her people . . . our humble trust in God . . . our holy pride in His blessings.

Once again, in the churches which our fathers fashioned out of the trees and rocks of this free land, Americans give thanks to God. Let your voice ring out in your chosen church . . . in hymn and prayer to the "Author of Liberty"—of Victory—of Peace.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the Church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the good of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Church on Sunday.

A Friendly Person

A FRIENDLY person has been called, "the salt that savors"—he is a blessing to himself and to all who come within the sphere of his influence.

Most people want to be friendly, but a great many just don't know how. It requires certain fundamental elements to be a really friendly person.

What are these elements?

There are a great variety of them and no one person can possess them all. Let's discuss a few as they come to mind. Then you add some of your own.

In the first place, does a person naturally like people or is he critical? It has been said that a good test of whether we are friendly or not is to write down the names of ten people we know, selected at random, and then opposite each name the characteristic of each that first comes to our mind. If most of our immediate reactions are kindly, then we are friendly—if not, we are of a critical disposition. In other words, if our tendency is to like people, we automatically see first the good qualities and not the bad in them.

Again, does a person praise people honestly and generously? If he wants to be friendly, one must give generous praise; that, however, does not mean flattery. He can pick out qualities he is able to praise and refrain from harping on faults. He can stress the good and not the bad side.

If one wants to like another, try doing something about it. That to which a man gives to be apt to like, and so why not give a helping hand? All folks have some qualities that deserve it.

How well does one stick by his friends? Do his friends feel safe with him? Do they know instinctively that he will not speak unkindly of them? When others criticize a person who is his friend, does he chime in and agree? Does he say nothing or does he stand up for that person when he can? Does he let people alone, "that's their look out," or does he do little things to encourage them? Is such his first desire? Does he smile more easily than he frowns? Is he able to make folks feel friendly just because he can't help feeling friendly to them?

Nothing is more needed than the element of friendliness.

Regulations Adopted For Medical Care Program in County

Advisory Committee Fixes Rules Concerning Filling of Prescriptions

Several regulations concerning the administration of the new medical care program in Garrett county were adopted at a meeting of the Garrett county advisory committee, it was announced by Francis J. Connolly, executive secretary of the county welfare board and secretary of the medical care committee.

During the period forty persons received aid and since the passage of the act 267 persons have been benefited through the correction and care of eyes, throat, teeth, etc., and also in purchasing food for the needy.

The report showed receipts of $467.50, which added to the balance on hand, made a total of $723.92. Expenditures included the following: Dr. Frank U. Davis, $20; Dr. Daugherty, $65; Reeves Clinic, $60; Dr. L. H. Corson, $150; Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, $12; Dr. Calandrella, $5; health nurses for transportation of patients, $43.56; Mrs. John Miller, $33.60; local aid to seven persons, $122.31. Balance on hand as of November 27, is $202.75.

Mr. Connolly said the committee ruled that all doctors must indicate on prescriptions given to a patient under this program the number of times the prescription is to be refilled, or whether just one time or indefinitely, and doctors must also indicate this same information on monthly bills which they send to the health office.

He said that payments would not be made to druggists for refilling prescriptions which were issued before November 1, so that it will be necessary for the patient to see his doctor and fill a new prescription if he wished payment from health department funds.

The committee emphasized that the program is administered by the health department and that all inquiries are to be directed to that office. Certificates of eligibility are issued to eligible individuals by the welfare board.

Dr. Joseph P. Franklin has succeeded Dr. Winter Frantz as chairman of the Garrett county committee, since he has taken over the health work in the county until a full-time county health officer is obtained.

Police Arrest AWOL Soldier Hiding at Home

Meredith Douglas Snyder, 19, of Jennings, Left Army Post Two Days After Induction

Meredith Douglas Snyder, 19, of Jennings, was arrested at the home of his father, Ellis Snyder, late Friday night on charges of being AWOL from his Army post since July 16, according to Fred Halford, special agent in charge of the FBI office in Baltimore.

Snyder was nabbed at his home by State Trooper Blair J. Buckel, Constable Charles Zeller of Grantsville, Sgt. Ben A. Hazeman of the Military Police detachment at Cumberland, and a special FBI agent.

Registered 6 Months Late

Halford stated that investigation shows Snyder failed to register for the draft on his eighteenth birthday, November 6, 1924, as required by law, and did not register until April 4, 1945, after being warned by the State Police to go to the draft board at Oakland and register. A letter was first written to Snyder's father by officials of Local Board No. 1 at Oakland, advising him that his son should register as required by the Selective Training and Service Act, but this letter was ignored.

Snyder was thereafter warned by the State Police to register and he did finally register on April 4, 1945, six months after he should have done so. He was inducted into the Army at Baltimore on July 13, 1945, and absented himself without leave on July 16.

According to the FBI, efforts were made by U. S. agents and members of the State Police to locate Snyder and return him to military custody, but he could not be found. Upon inquiry at the Snyder home, investigators were told by Snyder's parents that he was not at home and they knew nothing concerning his whereabouts. However, information was finally developed that Snyder was living at home, but usually kept under cover to avoid detection.

Waited for Snow Storm

Believing that Snyder could be apprehended at his home provided officers could approach the house without being known to the occupants, the arresting officers decided to take advantage of the cold weather and snow storm Friday night hoping that Snyder's home could be surrounded and his escape cut off without the officers' presence being known to the occupants.

Halford stated that in making the arrest two of the officers went to the front of the Snyder home while the other two circled the rear of the house. Two of the arresting officers entered the Snyder home and were told by Snyder's father that his son, Meredith, was not at home. At about this time, however, Meredith Snyder, hearing the officers in the house, made an effort to escape from a second floor stairway, but upon observing two other officers in the back yard decided against escaping and went back in the house and shut the door.

Upon being taken into custody and questioned Snyder told the officials that he did not register when he should because he did not want to go into the Army. He said he left after being in the Army only two days because "he didn't like it." He was asked if he intended to stay in the Army now, and he replied, "I'll stay awhile."

The FBI said that Snyder had abandoned his Army uniform and at the time of his arrest was wearing civilian clothes.

Two More Apply For Enlistment in Army

Robert Lee Rohrbaugh, Kitzmiller, and Warren Gamble Thomas, of Friendsville, have made application for enlistment in the regular army, according to T. A. William Marsh, of the local recruiting office. He said they would go to Hagerstown for physical examination this week.

Many of the men volunteering saw service during the war and are re-enlisting. On his list were four re-enlistments and one original enlistment for Oakland, and one re-enlistment for Grantsville. The total for the month were 102, up to Monday.

Three-year enlistments had the list with 70. Twenty-seven enlisted for 18 months. Sixty-seven men requested foreign assignment, 24 to Europe, 12 to the Pacific, 2 to China and one to the Caribbean. A total of 30 enlistments for the air corps led to the assignments for any one branch of service.

Monday to Usher In Annual Deer Season

Will Continue Until Saturday Evening, December 8, at Sundown; More Ammunition Available

Monday, December 3, will usher in the 1945 deer hunting season in Maryland, and many hunters are already prepared for that day and the five additional days that follow. The season will end on Saturday, December 8, at sundown. During the open season for deer it will be unlawful to hunt any small game.

Ammunition appeared to be slightly more plentiful than last year, especially the high powered shells used in deer hunting, according to hardware dealers.

Approximately 25 special deputy game wardens will be on duty in Garrett and Allegany counties during the season, according to Francis Ruge, district game warden.

The special wardens who will be on duty in this county include Stephen DeWitt, Sang Run; Milford Martin, Kempton; William Biddington, of Grantsville; Harry Bittinger, Savage River; Wayne DeWitt, Deer Park; Carl A. Kiser, Sand Flat; Paul Arnold, George Montgomery, Table Rock; David A. DeWitt, Sang Run; Lester Bittinger, Savage River; and George Dixon, Gormanville.

In addition there will be three regular district wardens, Thomas I. Weems, of Calvert county, to be located in Grantsville; Erich Floyd, of St. Mary's county, to be stationed in Friendsville; and E. C. Kerns, regional warden of Baltimore county, to be stationed at Kitzmiller; also, Lloyd Cook, regular district deputy warden.

Deer Checking Stations

To facilitate the checking of deer during all of next week, State Game Warden, Ernest A. Vaughn, has established checking stations as follows where an official will be on hand to register the animals presented from 9:00 a. m. to 7:00 p. m.

Grantsville, C. S. Zeller's home, Main street; Deep Creek Lake, Elmer Haulenbeck, Rainbow Inn; Friendsville, Quincey Murphy, Young Motor garage; Oakland, Wiley W. Welling, Sheriff's office, 4th and Alder streets; Kitzmiller, Roy Sowers' home.

A number of regulations were stressed:

It is unlawful to remove the head or hide or any part from a deer or cut the meat into parts until it has been checked at one of the checking stations. The law requires every person killing deer to report to the state game warden or authorized deputy within 24 hours, giving name, address, license number, county and location where killed, weight of same if possible, number of points to the antler. It is unlawful to kill any deer except a male having two or more points to one antler. The limit is one per season.

It is unlawful to shoot from an automobile or other vehicle or from any public highway or have in your possession in an automobile or other vehicle a loaded rifle or shotgun.

Attention was called particularly to two regulations passed November 19 by the Game and Inland Fish Commission of Maryland, concerning bullets with steel jackets, as used in the armed forces.

It is unlawful to hunt deer with any military firearms capable of firing a series of bursts by automatic loading, and also unlawful to use any firearms using domestic or foreign manufactured military ammunition.

Hunting hours are from 7 a. m. to 4:45 p. m.

Hunters are always warned each year to wear large patches of red on their jackets and caps to reduce the danger of accidents.

Rotarians Hear More Of Nations' Charter

Declaring the San Francisco conference treaty was a step forward in international welfare, Sir S. Stanley Spurling, of Hamilton, Bermuda, told Rotarians last Friday night that the world was at one of its most critical moments in history.

He said the treaty had in it the germs of settling world differences and urged Rotarians and all citizens to keep up their confidence in international relations and to push the United Nations charter at all times.

He pointed out that the use of a short wave radio set by individuals, listening to foreign broadcasts, would give a picture of the activities and feelings of other nations which was impossible to get in any other way.

Sir Stanley was the second speaker to appear before the club in as many weeks, to stress the importance of world relations and the part the Rotary club could play in making the United Nations Charter more effective in everyday living.

The speaker this Friday evening is to be J. Wilson Corwin, field supervisor of the War Manpower Commission.

New Potato Available

Potatoes without vexing rough spots to be pared can be grown from a new Michigan spud called Menominee, according to Dr. R. A. Jehle, University of Maryland specialist, at College Park, announced. He cautioned, however, that in Maryland, Garrett county was the only practical area for raising them.

Smooth-skinned and immune to potato scab diseases, the Menominee only gives a good yield at high elevations, Jehle said.

Second Costly Fire In 12 Days Hits City

Flames Spread Through Interior Of Leighton Brothers Garage, Causing $15,000 Damage

Oakland experienced its second costly fire in 12 days when flames gutted most of the interior of the Leighton Brothers garage building last Sunday night about 11:30, to cause damage estimated at $15,000.

James White, of Oakland, passing in his automobile, discovered the blaze and turned in the alarm. Members of the Oakland Volunteer Fire department worked for two hours to bring the flames under control.

Floyd Leighton, one of four brothers who operate the business, said the damage was only slightly covered by insurance. The building is of concrete block, about 75 by 200 feet, with a two-story front. The fire is believed to have started from the electric motor feeding the stoker furnace, as the flames first centered around the steps leading to the parts room on the second floor.

The offices and showroom were damaged while the parts department overhead was almost entirely destroyed. The interior of the balance of the garage was badly burned but flames never broke through the roof. A number of cars stored in the garage were badly scorched and could not be removed until the flames were extinguished. A new Buick in the front showroom was driven out without damage after the flames were under control.

There was no damage to the Sharps Motor company on one side or the Oakland Creamery company, on the other.

Work of clearing up the debris and making repairs to the building were underway the same day and the owners expect to have the garage open for business very soon. Other owners are Clarence, Russell and Alvie Leighton.

Firemen were also called about 10 o'clock last Friday night as the result of a fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Loomis, State road. There was no damage.

OPA To Keep Close Watch on Food Prices

OPA headquarters has nationally launched an intensified drive to keep food prices in check as meat, butter and all other red-point products came off the ration list, and Garrett County's price control board was asked to do its share.

George Monchash, chief of OPA's enforcement department, predicted it would be a "somewhat more difficult" job to hold prices now that rationing has ended, but said that OPA was all set to "crack down" on any violators of price ceilings.

Investigators have been transferred from other OPA price programs to augment the regular staff assigned to see that ceilings on meats and fats are observed. He declared the biggest task would be policing prices for pork, butter, margarine, lard, shortening and salad and cooking oils, since supplies of these products were still short of the demand.

The local price control board for this county is J. M. Jarboe, chairman; W. W. Dawson, H. P. Stuck and A. G. Gortner.

GOSH, ONLY A PENNY!

Once a penny was a fortune to a six-year-old. It could buy yards of licorice shoestrings, an all-day sucker, or a syrup-smothered scoop of shaved ice. A penny would pay for marbles, a tin whistle, or even a little lead soldier. It was the ceiling price for a new top-string.

Nowadays, a penny won't buy much for a little boy. But it purchases a lot of labor-saving electricity.

Sonny may sniff at a penny for running an errand—yet that same penny will (at average household rates) do any of these jobs—

- Run a sewing machine all afternoon
- Keep a refrigerator cold for 4 hours
- Vacuum clean 10 large rugs
- Light a 50-watt bulb for 6 hours
- Run the washer for 6 tubs of clothes
- Give you the correct time for 7 days
- Keep a radio playing for 3 hours

Yes, a penny is still big money—electrically. Actually, the average family gets just about twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago. Keeping electric service cheap, friendly and dependable—even all through the war—is a tribute to the careful business management of your electric company, and to the hard work and experience of all the men and women in it.

Service Men Want To Get Back to States

Dear Sir:
There has been lots of talk of the men coming home from overseas. Our folks write us what they hear over the radio. From what they write the Senators and Congress have us on our way home now. But the high point men overseas know better. There are 650 men in this one outfit with 70 to 114 points.

Some of these men have 39 months overseas and very few with less than 2 years. None has had a furlough home; some have had ten-day rest periods to Australia, but not many. Our time has been in the New Guinea jungles, Baka and Okinawa. Not once have we been in a civilized place. The army comes out with the spunk that there is no transportation. Yet the barbers of Okinawa are full of Liberty ships and a few transports. The War Department said they didn't need to use Liberty ships to take us home. Then why are we still here? We would gladly ride a Liberty ship the 5000 miles that separate us from our homes. This will mean four Christmases spent over here for some and three for most of us.

Up to now we see no chance of our going home. God pity the man with 50 and 60 points. His case must be hopeless. When the Senators and Congressmen run for office again, we are just waiting for them to say, "I got the boys home from overseas."

Please publish this letter. I'd like for people to know what the truth really is.

Thank you,
RAY D. MCROHE,
Oakland, Maryland.

The Child and his Food

A healthy and well-nourished child enjoys life because he is physically fit, according to Dr. R. H. Riley, D. M., director of Health. In emphasizing the importance to health of adequate and well-balanced meals, Dr. Riley gave the press this statement from the Nutritionist of the State Department of Health:

"When a child is in good health his appetite is good, elimination is regular and sleep is sound. The appearance can usually help parents to judge the state of nutrition. A well-nourished boy or girl has good color in the skin and the inside of the mouth, eyelids and fingernails are a pinkish color. There is a moderate padding of fat over the bones and muscles of the arms, legs and body. Muscles are well-developed and strong. Teeth are good and the gums are firm and light pink. Posture is erect and the shoulder blades flat."

"A finicky appetite or a tired feeling after little exertion indicates that the child should visit a physician. Poor appetite may mean the beginning of an illness, or it may mean that he does not require as much food as he is being urged to eat."

"As a further guide, preschool children and those of school age should eat the following foods each day:

Milk—One and a half pints to one full quart. Some of this can be used in milk desserts or poured over cereal.

Fruit—Two or more servings. One should be citrus fruit as orange, tomato, grapefruit or lemon. Canned tomatoes should be eaten three or four times a week when fresh fruits are not available, or some other source of Vitamin C, as cabbage slaw, should be substituted.

Vegetables—Potatoes and at least one or two other vegetables, especially such green or yellow ones as sweet potatoes, kale, squash and carrots.

Eggs—One, or at least five a week. An egg milkshake with a mashed ripe banana is good for an undernourished youngster.

Meat, Game, Fish or Cheese—One or two servings. Dried beans, especially soy beans, may be used in place of meat once a week, and so may peanut butter.

Cereal and Bread—Whole wheat or enriched cereal at one meal, at least. Cold Liver Oil—Every day to provide Vitamin D. This is especially important in winter and early spring, and the physician can advise as to the kind and amount.

"If consumed regularly these foods should keep a child well-nourished. Cake, candy and other sweets, if given, should not be offered until these other foods have been eaten, at the end of the meal."

Trains Don't "Just Happen" To Be On Time!

No, indeed!

It takes a lot of team work...many, many people doing thousands of different jobs at precise times...to bring trains in "on the dot."

On the Baltimore & Ohio, for example, thousands of workers all over 11,000 miles of track...dispatchers, maintenance men, inspectors, baggage men and a great number of others...coordinate their actions with train schedules so that you can say: "She's on time, as usual!"

B&O's 70,000 men and women know that the railroad's record for on-time dependability is due, directly, to their skill and effort. They are justly proud of B&O's on-time performance maintained during the critical years of war. And, they are determined that today and tomorrow, as always, you'll be able to count on the B&O to be on time.

IT'S A DATE!

Insure Against Motor Accidents before JANUARY 1st

It will go hard with you if you are involved in an automobile accident from January 1st on . . . and can't prove that you are financially responsible. Under the new State law in effect that date, an accident involving property damage, or personal damage to any individual, amounting to $50 or more, means

1. Loss of registration.
2. Loss of operator's license.
3. Loss of use of any car or truck you own.

To avoid these penalties . . . certainly inconvenient, and expensive if you need your car in your work . . . protect yourself now with a Pennsylvania Casualty policy.

Returns From Seal Sales Are Starting

Returns from the distribution of Christmas seals by the Maryland Tuberculosis Association are beginning to be received at the state office, it was announced this week. All were urged to make their returns promptly.

The 1945 annual Christmas seal sale began November 19. Receipts will be used by the association in carrying on their tuberculosis control program. In the educational work the attempt is made to inform everyone that tuberculosis is caused by a germ and is not hereditary, that the disease must be caught from someone who has it, and that the disease can be cured and prevented.

The campaign in this county is carried on from Baltimore. Seals are mailed out to individuals, organizations, schools, etc., and returns are made direct to the association in Baltimore.

Homemakers' Cokinn

QUICK MIXING RECIPES

Many homemakers are reading about and perhaps have tried the quick method cake making recipes. I believe you will find the following two good and both worth trying if you haven't already used them:

Cocoa Cup Cakes

Measure into mixing bowl: 1 1/2 cups cake flour (sifted before measuring), 1/2 cup sugar, 2/3 cups shortening, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda, 1/2 cup cocoa, 2/3 cup milk. Stir vigorously by hand or with mixer (medium speed) 2 minutes. Now stir in (yes, all by itself) 1/2 teaspoon baking powder. Now add: 1 1/2 cup milk, 2 eggs (unbeaten), and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Blend by hand or in mixer (medium speed) for 2 minutes. The batter will be smooth and thin. Bake in greased and floured cup cake pans in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 15-20 minutes. When cool, frost and decorate as desired or when cool, frost as desired with honey whip icing.

Honey Whip Icing

Beat 1/2 cup honey over hot water. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 egg white, beat until stiff but not dry. Pour into honey slowly over egg white, beating constantly until thick.

Lord Baltimore Cake

Measure into mixing bowl: 2 cups cake flour (sifted before measuring), 1 1/3 cups sugar (To save sugar, use 2 1/2 cup syrup and 2 1/2 cup sugar), 1/2 cup shortening, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 1/2 cup milk. Stir vigorously by hand or with mixer (medium speed) 2 minutes. Now stir (yes, all by itself) 2 teaspoons baking powder—double action or phosphate type. Now add: 4 egg yolks (unbeaten), 1/3 cup milk, and 1 teaspoon lemon extract. Blend by hand or in mixer (medium speed) for 2 minutes. The batter will be smooth and thin. Pour into two greased 8-inch layer pans (1 1/2 inches deep) lined with waxed paper. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 25-30 minutes. When cool, frost and decorate as desired; or when cool, put layers together with Lord Baltimore Filling and frost top and sides with fluffy white icing.

Fluffy White Icing

Beat 1 cup light corn syrup over hot water. Beat 2 egg whites with 1/2 teaspoon salt until stiff. Pour hot syrup slowly over egg whites, beating constantly until the right consistency to spread. For filling, add 1/2 cup chopped maraschino cherries, 1/2 cup seeded raisins and 1/2 cup chopped nuts to 1/2 of the icing.

Washington, Nov. 17.

ONE thing this labor management conference emphasizes is that the day has definitely passed when labor can be accurately referred to as the "underdog." Labor ceased to be the underdog when its leaders contracted a political alliance with Mr. Roosevelt and this added the tremendous weight of the Government to their own. This has turned it into the "top dog."

THROUGHOUT presidential support in the last ten years, labor leaders not only have been able to prevent any legislation designed to restrain or impact responsibility upon them. They are still in that position. Strong, rich, politically powerful they entered this conference with the advantage of having this President, despite surface popularity, obviously leaning, as did the late President, toward their side and his two Secretaries—Mr. Henry Wallace and Mr. Lewis Schwellenbach—open champions of their cause.

UNDER the circumstances, that "underdog" stuff, with which they were accustomed to appeal, is ridiculous. The truth is that as a result of ten years of governmental and political subservience, these labor bosses have acquired so many advantages that it is easy to understand why some of them really believe they can—and should—run the country. And not the least of these advantages is in the field of publicity and propaganda. It is not only that they have developed a keener appreciation of the value of publicity than the employers but they spend a great deal more money, time and labor in obtaining it.

IN the present drive for a flat 30 percent increase in pay, for example, the expanded publicity plans of the CIO can best be presented in the words of Mr. Hillman's high-powered press section, which says: "The main feature will be radio broadcasts over a national hookup on November 12 and 26, at 10 P. M., E.S.T. The broadcasts will be preceded by newspaper advertisements in the major industrial cities and radio spot announcements. Other activities will include special headline articles in the Negro, foreign-language and rural press by Philip Murray and other leading public and governmental personages."

CONTINUING, the PAC declares that "We must rally public opinion behind our program by showing that labor's demands are for the good of the entire nation. This is not a job for Mr. Murray and CIO leaders alone. It is the job of every CIO worker. He must carry this message into the homes of friends and relatives, churches and synagogues, into the newspapers by writing letters to the editors, into grocery stores, meat markets and bakeries, by placards and signs. The labor press has a major responsibility in this drive. We count on you to keep the membership informed through releases and stories. To aid in this job we will supply you within a few days with full-page advertisements bearing a special statement from Mr. Murray. Releases outlining the economic facts of our argument will be sent. Other one and two column notes will follow. We are throwing our entire working force into this drive."

NOW, there is nothing improper about any of this. The PAC is entirely within its rights. The point here is that the CIO is not only throwing its entire working force into this drive.

Quiz For Marylanders

By QUENTIN HOWE

Answer to Question 1:

Congress is only human, after all. In 1877 America was excited about three great race horses: Parole from Pennsylvania, Ten Buck from Kentucky and Tom Ochiltree from Kentucky. They finally met at Pimlico. People gathered from everywhere to witness the event. Excitement ran high. So high that a Senator rose and proposed Congress adjourn to witness this great Maryland sporting event. Congress adjourned and members hastened to Pimlico by "steam car." Congress has never adjourned for any other sport.

Answer to Question 2:

There is only one horse race in the world by "invitation only." It is the Pimlico Special, held each autumn in Maryland at Pimlico. It is run for the finest horses in America. They are invited by the Maryland Jockey Club. The list of past winners reads like Who's Who of the American Turf. Maryland is proud of its Pimlico Special.

Answer to Question 3:

Each year Maryland collects one million dollars from the State's pari-mutuel concessions at the State's four Racing Associations, more money than goes into Maryland's Equalization Fund to help pay for more and better school teachers in every Maryland county. If Maryland racing did not provide this money, your taxes would have to be raised to help pay our teachers. Racing's one million dollar contribution means more and better teachers which Maryland so badly needs.

Officials To Meet Dec. 5 To Consider Water Problem

Three Groups To Seek Solution To Excessive Use of Water At Bloomington

A meeting of Westernport officials, representatives of the Bloomington Water company, and the Maryland Department of Health, will be held in the Westernport city building Wednesday afternoon, December 5.

The meeting has been called by the health department to seek a solution to the problem presented by excessive loss of water in the Bloomington water lines, Westernport, which supplies water to Bloomington, has threatened to discontinue service if steps are not taken to stop the loss of water. A meter was placed on the Bloomington line several months ago and regular readings show that the quantity of water flowing into the Bloomington system is far in excess of the amount that is normally used by a community of that size.

For many years Bloomington received its water flow from the Piedmont supply line extending from the dam on the Savage river to Piedmont. The water was chlorinated at the dam. When the filtration plant was built on Piedmont hill, the chlorinator was moved to the plant. This left Bloomington with untreated water. At the suggestion of the Maryland Department of Health, the lines were changed and Westernport took over the supplying of Bloomington. The Westernport water is chlorinated at the intake on the Savage river.

Laying of new service lines for Bloomington would probably solve the problem but it is doubtful if the Bloomington Water company has sufficient funds available to do this work.

Citizens Advised on Don'ts for DDT Use

"Insecticides containing DDT, now available for civilian use, have poisonous qualities," Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health, wishes to warn the public. "This does not mean that their use is to be discouraged, for these new pest-killing preparations can contribute to home comfort and help to prevent certain insect-borne diseases. They should, however, be used with caution."

"The wide publicity given to DDT made it a household word long before it was put on the market for general use. It is known to be effective in the control of lice, mosquitoes and flies. During the war the army used it extensively in the control of malarial mosquitoes, flies and typhus-bearing lice; but it was used under the direction of qualified persons."

"As residents of Maryland will probably be using preparations of DDT to an increasing extent in eliminating certain household pests, the following DON'TS are suggested to minimize danger and eliminate possible accidents."

Don't use near an open flame or fire, or in cellars where there may be pilot light connected with water heaters or old lamps. (Kerosene, or "coal oil," is often used to carry DDT in solution.)

Don't smoke while spraying.

Don't remain in closed room immediately after spraying.

Don't inhale either solutions or powders containing DDT.

Don't spray or use powder on or near foods.

Don't spill on skin. (In case of accidental spillage on skin, wash parts immediately with soap and water.)

Don't use on dogs, cats or other household pets.

Don't fail to read carefully all directions and cautions on containers of DDT insecticides.

This last precaution is particularly important, for manufacturers give directions for the safe use of their products and warn against any hazards that may be involved.

"Although DDT preparations are apparently far superior to the older insecticides, the public should not expect miracles," Dr. Riley advises. "They are not effective against all insects, and more concentrated solutions are needed to kill some pests than others. Also, there is danger of destroying desirable insects, such as honey bees. In fairness to themselves, and to the product used, persons attempting to free their houses of insect pests by using DDT should familiarize themselves with the particular spray or powder and find out what results can reasonably be expected."

This Is The Spot

GARRETT COUNTY is the spot for that proposed Veterans' Hospital in Western Maryland, about which there seems to be some question in the minds of the heads of the Veterans' Bureau.

They have made no decision, pending hearings on the proposition from areas which have shown some interest in the matter. If it is at all possible to divorce politics from the issue, and outwardly people say it is—if it is possible for those having the decision to make, to think of the veteran and not the staff of professional people or workmen who would be employed there—then there surely can't be any question as to where the hospital should be located.

Garrett County has what the veterans need for their own gradual restoration to complete health.

It is on the main line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and through the county run U. S. Routes 40 and 50 over which the chief buses of the east pass every day and night. This means it is accessible for relatives and friends of the patients, and frequent visits go far in returning a distressed veteran to normal. It is centrally located in the district it would be designed to serve.

It is high enough in the mountains for bracing atmosphere which the patients would need so much. Its healthful climate is not surpassed anywhere in the nation.

It has recreational possibilities for both patients and staff members throughout the entire year.

People from the entire State of West Virginia come to their State institution, just ten miles from Oakland, under similar climatic conditions which prevail here.

Let's think of the veterans first. If that is done, there can be no doubt as to the decision. That hospital ought to come to Garrett County.

Lumberman Dies of Heart Attack While Driving Light Truck

Christian Yommer, 63, Slumps Over Wheel While Driving On Finzel Road, Monday

Christian Yommer, 63, of Jennings, lumberman, died suddenly late Monday afternoon when he suffered a heart attack while driving a pickup truck on the Finzel road, about three miles northwest of Frostburg.

Three occupants of the truck escaped injury when one of the two men riding with him in the front seat pulled the emergency brake of the car and steered the vehicle to the side of the road.

Dr. Lino H. Carson, deputy medical examiner for Allegany county, said the lumberman, who had been suffering from a heart ailment for over a year, died at 5:20 p. m. Dr. Carson investigated for Dr. E. I. Baumgartner. Dr. Carson was told the car was being driven at a moderate rate of speed.

Yommer fell to the highway as the truck stopped and was lying face down on the road when the other occupants of the car alighted from the vehicle.

Trooper Glen D. Folk, who investigated for state police, added that Edward Wieseman and Irwin Platter, Grantsville, were riding in the front seat with Mr. Yommer and that Wieseman brought the car to a stop after he saw the driver slump over the wheel. A man named Younklin, riding in the rear of the truck, was uninjured.

Yommer is survived by his widow, Mrs. Susie Pitts Yommer; two brothers, John L. and Daniel D. Yommer, both of Jennings; one sister, Mrs. Lee Meyers, also Jennings; several nieces and nephews.

Club Members Exhibit Baby Beefs At Show

Thirteen calves raised by Garrett county 4-H club boys were exhibited at the Baby Beef show, held in connection with the Pittsburgh Live Stock Show on November 26, 27 and 28, and two of them placed in the prize money, it was announced by Joseph Steger, assistant county agent for Allegany and Garrett counties.

Robert Harvey's beef won fourth in its class, and Guy Harvey's won 6th in its class. Classes were divided into heavy, light and medium.

Those making the trip included Earl K. Harvey, Sr., Earl K. Harvey, Jr., Calvin, Ernest, Guy, Robert and Fred Harvey, North Glade; Hayward Custer and two sons, Melvin and Dale Custer, Swanton; Roland Bernard and his father, Swanton; Dale and Donald Glatfelter, of near Accident, and Mr. Steger.

The grand champion at the sale exhibited by an Ohio beef was purchased by the A. and P. Tea company for $4.25 a pound, and the animal weighed 955 pounds. The reserve champion brought $1.50 per pound. Mr. Steger said the average was 26 cents per pound after the grand champion was excluded.

All boys went through the Armour Packing plant, saw a movie and had other entertainment by the Chamber of Commerce, and participated in the KDKA farm hour over the radio.

Hermann Goering, on trial, said flatly he was still a Nazi and would still support Hitler as he knew him in 1933.

Motorists Urged To Give Right of Way To Fire Apparatus

Reports of Failure To Do This Have Caused Police Superintendent To Issue Warning

A warning to all drivers of motor vehicles to observe the law in regard to yielding the right of way to volunteer fire department vehicles when on emergency duty, which was issued this week by Colonel Beverly Ober, superintendent of the Maryland State Police, coincides with a protest by some local firemen that they have been hampered recently by motorists failing to give a clear road while en route to fires.

Col. Ober said his department was receiving a number of reports of violations by motorists who fail to yield the right of way and he made it emphatically clear that road hogs and other motorists who hamper the work of the volunteers in any way would be prosecuted whenever possible. The warning is to be enforced by all state troopers.

The Maryland code declares that upon the approach of an emergency vehicle, when the driver is giving audible signal, the driver of other vehicles shall drive to the edge of the highway and stop and remain in such position until the vehicle has passed. The article also prohibits persons from following any fire apparatus closer than 100 feet or park within a radius of 300 feet where the fire apparatus has stopped to answer the alarm. Violations of these regulations may result in fines of as much as $100.

Local fire department officers are urging citizens to respect these laws.

Icy Roads Cause Two Wrecks Yesterday

Icy roads caused at least two wrecks yesterday in this vicinity, both on the Mt. Lake Park road.

A car driven by Harland Speicher, Mt. Lake, traveling eastward last night about 5:30 collided with a car driven by Mrs. Myrtle Reese, teacher of the North Glade school, at a point near the intersection between Oakland and the Park.

Annabel Kiser, of the Park, traveling with Speicher, received a cash in her face which required a large number of stitches to close the wound. Mrs. Reese was badly shaken up as was Asa Lewis, teacher at Deer Park, who was returning to Oakland with her. He received a cut on his nose and was otherwise bruised. Speicher was not injured. The cars were badly damaged. All occupants were given first aid treatment by Dr. E. E. Sellers and the Kiser girl was taken to Kingwood later to have her wound treated.

Two other cars collided at the Watling Filling station yesterday, but no details could be learned. Corp. Thomas Currie was in the Friendsville section on another matter yesterday, and had no reports on the accidents. Roads were dangerous to traffic yesterday and other mishaps occurred in the Lake section, but no details were available.

Firemen Called

Oakland Firemen were called last Friday morning about 7:30 o'clock to extinguish a blaze around the flue in the home of Charles Seelers, at Sunnyside. There was some damage but the building was saved.

Neighbors and friends assisted in carrying out their furniture.

182 DEER KILLS REPORTED THIS FAR THIS SEASON

District Game Warden Ruge Reports On Number Notifying Up To Last Evening; Sleet Slows Hunters

Garrett county entered its fourth day of the open season on deer with 182 reporting success, and with weather conditions such as they are, not many additional ones were expected to be added to the total today. A sleet storm has slowed hunters considerably and while there were an estimated 2,500 or more in the woods the first two days this number dropped greatly yesterday and will continue today.

A report of the total number killed is being made under this year with the establishment of five checking stations in the county. According to Francis Ruge, district game warden, the number checked as of last night, was as follows: Oakland station, 75; Rainbow Inn, 43; Kitzmiller, 37; Friendsville, 18, and Grantsville, 37. Some hunters did not report their kill until they reached a checking station in Allegany county, and four were recorded in this manner. A few others may have been brought in after eight o'clock last night, which are not included in today's total.

Deer kills were being reported from all over the county with no particular concentration of game in any section. Two women reported kills, Suzanne DeWitt, Sung Run, and Betty O'Brien, of Swanton. Marshall Bowman, Cascade, apparently bagged the biggest in weight, with an 8-point buck weighing 190 pounds, but there were several caught with larger horns, some as high as 12 points. Wesley Harvey, Gorman, had a 12-pt. buck weighing 175, caught on Backbone.

Marshall Wilt, 13 years of age, of Grantsville, caught an 8-point buck weighing 155 pounds on Manadler Ridge. Dr. E. F. Salley, Oakland, got one weighing 180 pounds and Willard Ringer, Hutton, got one weighing 182.

It is unlikely that the record for any one season will fall as it would be necessary to reach 200; the number killed in 1942. Last year there were

Prentice DeBerry Heads Oakland Hi Parent-Teachers

Meeting Held Last Wednesday To Discuss Proposed High School Plans

At the regular meeting of the Oakland High School Parent-Teacher association held last Wednesday evening in the school auditorium, Prentice DeBerry was named president of the group, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Leo Helbig.

Reports of each of the four members of the new high school planning committee were made on various trips they had taken to inspect other high school buildings. O. T. Grazer, Ralph Pitts, S. T. Naylor and Grover S. Stemple are committee members. They all favored construction similar to one in Frederick.

Still pictures were also shown of a number of school buildings, James E. Spitznagel, high school supervisor and head of the curriculum making department of the State Board of Education, of Towson, spoke on the new educational program, and F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent of schools, pointed out the necessity of additional rooms for the junior high school system, which is to be put into effect in Garrett county as soon as possible.

He suggested to the parents that it might be necessary to make the present school auditorium and gymnasium floor into four small classrooms, to take care of the emergency. This suggestion has met with some opposition by a number of parents, according to a consensus of opinion following the meeting.

Mr. Rathbun also called attention to a proposed law that has been introduced in the House of Representatives, No. 449, the purpose of which is to authorize the government to provide funds to assist in construction of new school buildings, on a ratio of 55 percent local funds and 45 percent Federal. Mr. Rathbun said he was requesting interested citizens to write to J. Glenn Baill, in Washington, for a copy to learn the details of the measure. He said such funds could be made available in building six new school buildings in this county as provided by the 1945 General Assembly.

Urges Full Effort In War Fund Drive

State Representative Points Out Need of Full Quota To Relieve Desperate Situations

As the result of some desperate situations in regard to the need of a full quota for the National War Fund, which were outlined at a recent conference, Victor A. Rule, state representative wrote this week to Bernard J. Gonder, Garrett county chairman, urging a continuation of the solicitation here until the goal is reached.

Mr. Rule told Mr. Gonder that USO camp shows alone had tremendous demands made on them for entertainment of the men and women still overseas. "When these men fight here on instead of bullets and where the danger is to their moral and spiritual nature rather than to their physical, we Americans must not neglect them," he said. "In the midst of our great material prosperity history still reports us as a people more dominated by spiritual values than any other and this we simply must maintain."

Mr. Rule also declared that the needs of our Allies merely to protect them against the grossest of starvation are urgent and that the people must be maintained until they can produce a food crop for themselves. Baltimore was the only major city with a goal of two million dollars to reach its goal on time. Washington, Wisconsin and North Carolina made their goals.

Bond Drive Reaches $100,000 Figure

The Victory Loan drive for purchase of bonds has gone over the $100,000 figure but is still far short of the goal of $175,000.

The drive is to conclude on December 12 but all series E, F and G saving bonds and series C tax savings notes sold during the remainder of December will count toward the quota goal.

SCHOOL BUS INSPECTION HAS BEEN COMPLETED

All of the seventy-five school buses in Garrett county, including panel bodies and automobiles, have been inspected and with the exception of a few minor repairs and adjustments, they were found to be in good condition, according to John L. Fitzwater, supervisor of transportation. In most cases where minor defects were found the operators had the repairs or adjustments made the same day that they were found by the inspectors.

This was the second inspection of school buses made in Garrett county this year, the first one having been made last August, and the third one will be made next March, as required by State law.

The inspectors were assisted by Ray O. Horn from the safety department of motor vehicles, Baltimore.

Walter Franklin Moomaw, 20, torpedoman 3 c, USNR, of Mt. Lake Park, was mangled to death last Friday evening about 11:30 o'clock when he was struck and run over, presumably by a helper engine, about 300 yards west of the Oakland railroad station.

Coming home for a week-end furlough from Washington, where he is stationed, he alighted from the second section of the National Limited. He was said to have told his wife of a few weeks, who was at the train to meet him, that he would be "back in a few minutes," and disappeared around the corner of the station.

The fireman on the eastbound passenger train, due here at 12:09 a. m., noticed an object on the westbound tracks and when the train halted at Oakland he went back to investigate and found a sailor, according to N. C. Fraley, state's attorney, who investigated.

Moomaw's left leg was severed below the knee, his right foot and right arm were also severed and he had a fractured skull and a broken neck and other bruises.

Lloyd Tasker, special police, was notified and he called Emory Bolden, undertaker, and Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, county medical examiner. The body was removed to the undertaking establishment and the Navy notified.

Four Navy personnel came to Oakland on Sunday morning from Washington, and following an investigation released the body to members of his family.

Funeral services were conducted on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Pleasant Valley Methodist church, with Rev. W. Reese Burns officiating, assisted by Rev. George W. Simpson, and Rev. George H. Coker, of the Park. Interment was in the Pleasant Valley cemetery. Six men of the Navy served as pallbearers, Lee Thayer, Donald Johnson, James Shaffer, Hixon Shaffer, Dwight Gauer and William Deems.

Moomaw had served three years in the Navy and had seven battle stars to his credit for participation in the engagements at Iloilo and Yap, March and April, 1944; Marianas, June, 1944; Western Carolines, September and October, 1944; Leyte, Lingayen Gulf, in the Philippines, December and January; Iwo Jima, February, 1945; and Okinawa, July, 1945. He was a member of the crew USS Swarer.

Moomaw also had been entitled to wear the American, Asiatic, Pacific, Philippine, Liberation, East China Sea and Okinawa service bars. On October 19 he was married to Miss Daris Aril Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Edwards, Sr., of Mt. Lake Park.

Wild Rabbits Can Be Real Danger Source

Health Director Warns of Tularemia, Acquired Through Contact With Infected Animal

"Wild cottontail rabbits, perhaps the most innocent-looking of all animals, can be a source of real danger to those who handle them," Dr. R. H. Eddy, Director of the State Department of Health, warns hunters, trappers, housewives and others who come into contact with them. "Tularemia, a serious and easily communicable disease popularly known as 'rabbit fever', is usually acquired through contact with the fur or uncooked meat of an infected rabbit."

"In 1944 the counties of Maryland reported fifteen cases of tularemia, and two deaths from this disease are known to have occurred. This is not startlingly high incidence of rabbit fever, but it is enough to indicate that many rabbits in this State may be infected and capable of transmitting their disease to human beings."

"This threat of disease makes it necessary to handle rabbits with considerable care. Engagement of the meat that so many persons find delicious is not to be discouraged, but certain precautions are advised to make this eating pleasure safe."

"To begin with, it is good preventive medicine as well as good sportsmanship to take only lively rabbits that frisk away from the hunter. One too tired to run is probably a sick rabbit that can spread his disease to human beings."

"Once caught, the apparently healthy rabbit should be handled with care. Wearing of gloves, preferably rubber ones, is urged—especially if there is even a small cut or abrasion. Hands that have come into contact with fur or raw meat should be kept away from the face, mouth and eyes. All fur, refuse and paws that have touched the rabbit should be burned promptly, and the handler should wash his hands thoroughly as soon as the meat has been prepared."

"Adequate cooking is also a needed safeguard. Regardless of the dish being prepared, the meat should be cooked for at least twenty minutes at boiling temperature to destroy any disease germs that may be present."

"These precautions should enable Marylanders to eat their favorite rabbit but without risk of disease. Hunters who take only healthy-looking rabbits and then handle them as cautiously as if they thought them infected can enjoy their sport and their rabbit dinners without danger of infection."

182 Deer Kills Reported

182, and the year previous 201.
All boarding houses and hotels were full of out-of-county hunters and many were in private homes. Local hunters seemed to be getting their share of kills.

Mr. Ruge reported that in general all hunters were observing the rules and regulations with few exceptions. In Silver Spring, on a charge of accidentally killing a doe deer was fined $50 and costs, but $40 of the fine was suspended. The arrest was made at Thousand Acres.

Ten persons have been arrested for having loaded rifles in their automobiles. To date Mr. Ruge said there had been seven illegal kills reported.

The open season will end at midnight on Saturday, 5 p. m.
The list of kills which follow carries the name and address of the hunter, the number of points, the weight and where shot.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS . . .

By FRANK R. KENT.

Washington, Dec. 1.

Among Democrats in Washington who habitually operate on the low level of practical politics (and there are a great many) genuine perturbation is beginning to be felt over party prospects for the 1946 and 1948 campaigns. There are several sound reasons for this.

One is the increased resentment in the country toward labor unions—particularly the CIO and its Political Action Committee, with which the Democrats are tightly allied. Another is the failure (there is no other word for it) of Mr. Truman's Labor-Management Conference, which increases belief that as it seems impossible for labor and management to reach agreement it becomes the business of the Government to find some means to protect the public against strikes which threaten the security and happiness of the people generally.

A third reason is the growing popular conviction that the extreme policies of the Roosevelt Administration, and to which Mr. Truman still adheres, have not worked out for the general good and that the time has arrived when the one-sided legislation on the statute books should be corrected. That feeling should be stronger against the CIO than the other labor factions is due, first, to the fact that the CIO leaders are vastly more violent and articulate than the others; second, it is the CIO with which the Roosevelt Administration formulated a political alliance, continued by Mr. Truman.

Thoughtful men are not surprised at this situation. It seemed inevitable that soon or late the people would become fed up with the excesses of these professional labor leaders and turn against the party in which they have achieved dominance. Evidence of this is seen in recent action of the House (despite effort of Administration leaders) in putting forward a bill designed to compel unions to adhere to their contracts, to keep them from financial participation in politics and to prevent interference with interstate shipments of goods.

Several things are true about this measure: (1) it is the most drastic regulatory proposal made in a long time; (2) it is aimed directly at the CIO and is not being opposed by either Mr. John L. Lewis or the AFL; (3) its chances, at the moment, seem better than ever. Clearly, if this bill goes through, Mr. Truman will have to make an important decision. If he approved it, he will offend the CIO leaders, their organs and supporters, with whom his political agent, the not very smart Mr. Robert Hannegan, has tied himself and the Administration up. But if he vetoes it, he publicly proclaims himself as subservient to the Messrs. Murray and Hillman.

Though, concededly, the choice would be a painful one, there are several reasons the President expected not to yield to CIO pressure, either to veto the bill or, as the late Mr. Roosevelt did with similar legislation, use his personal influence to kill it in the Senate Committee. This belief is largely based on the fact that, in the last few months the CIO has sunk in public esteem that some of the most astute politicians regard complete identification with it today as more of a liability than an asset. Certainly, it is true that the bullying tactics, the shrill charges and claims and the obvious disregard of the national interests in their quest for greater advantages which characterize these CIO professionals, has revolted many people who were more or less complacent supporters in the early Roosevelt days and during the war. The resentment today is cumulative and so strong that many believe any open subservience of the kind Mr. Roosevelt so often showed—and got away with—easily might prove politically fatal to Mr. Truman.

In brief, the country is becoming increasingly intolerant of the CIO, its Political Action Committee and its puffed-up leaders. They have overplayed their hand, overestimated the patience of the American people and their own importance. With the other labor factions anxious to see them come a cropper and hostility in Congress at a new high, they have themselves created a situation where it should be possible for the President to stand against them in the public interest without fear of political damage.

It should be clear to Mr. Truman that there are no alternative save to support him. They have gone so far into the Democratic party and committed themselves so deeply that they appear hooked. Time and time again they have proclaimed themselves anti-Republican. Only very foolish Republicans believe it worth while to bid for their support. The truth is that both parties, though still afraid, are sick of being "ridden" by the CIO lobby and would welcome an opportunity to get rid of it. The pending bill seems to offer a chance to do so.

Sgt. Glenn W. Killias received his honorable discharge from the army air force at the separation center at Drew Field, Tampa, Fla., on November 19. He served two years and eight months, five months being in Europe with the eighth air force. He participated in numerous raids over Germany. Following his discharge he spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Sterling, at Lynn Haven, Florida, and is now at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Killias, Loch Lynn Heights.

Scarcity of Lumber Can Be Blamed In Part on Atom Bomb

Two Great Production Centers Drained 360,000,000 Board Feet of Lumber From Market

The man who wondered during the war why he couldn't find a couple of boards to patch his porch, can blame at least part of his troubles on the atom bomb and he is glad. Construction of the two great production centers in Tennessee and Washington drained 360,000,000 board feet of lumber from the market, and only the elect few who bore the awful secret knew where it went.

According to Major General Leslie R. Groves, commander of the Manhattan Engineer District, the code name for the atom bomb project, 120,000 were employed in the undertaking at the peak. Besides workshops and offices, it was necessary to create from scratch more industrial cities at Oak Ridge, Tennessee, and Richland, Washington—complete from drug store to churches. There were also extensive installations at the Pacific island base which was the jumping-off point for atomizing Japan.

Virtually all types of construction lumber and some hardwoods were represented in the total but, naturally, the bulk of that used in Oak Ridge was southern pine produced by a number of southern mills. Lumber used at Richland came from hundreds of western mills. Also, some 35,000,000 square feet of plywood were used for housing alone. Used lumber was salvaged for shipping surplus material and equipment from the jobs.

About 20 per cent of the lumber was procured on the open market and 80 per cent through the auction system conducted by the Central Procuring Agency which purchased lumber for all the war services and agencies. As an aid to secrecy, lumber destined for Oak Ridge was consigned to Eliza and Blair, Tennessee, two "whistle stops" nearby.

The town of Oak Ridge, erected on a 59,000 acre, ninety square-mile reservation in a sparsely populated area 18 miles west of Knoxville, had a population of 75,000—fifth largest city in Tennessee. At the peak 47,000 construction workers were engaged in building it, reaching a rate of 1,000 buildings per month.

The plant comprises 125 buildings. The two story, main office building is 664 feet long with seven wings.

The model industrial town is equipped with all the essentials of life by American standards. Three hundred miles of roads and 55 miles of railroad serve the reservation. Buses on the area number 350, while an additional 400 operate off the area to carry non-resident workers to and from their homes. From July, 1944, through June, 1945, area busses carried 22,252,479 passengers.

The residential area includes 9,000 homes, 5,000 trailers, 114 apartments in three buildings, 90 dormitories housing 13,000, and barracks for 16,000. Also, about 1,000 demountable dwellings were moved to Oak Ridge from other war projects, and 204 farm houses within the reservation were taken over as well as several rural schools.

The homes are attractively arranged and well spaced on good-sized lots. The majority are equipped with electric ranges, water heaters, and refrigerators. Rentals range from $22 to $75 per month; apartments from $30 to $50, dormitory accommodations $10 to $50, and trailers $15. Utility buildings (baths, etc.) are provided at the trailer camps.

Roughly 50 per cent of the workers live in houses and apartments; 21 per cent in dormitories; 21 per cent in trailers, and 8 per cent in hutments.

Community facilities include five churches, a library of 9,000 books, a high school and nine elementary schools in which a faculty of 317 teachers serve 11,000 pupils. Cost of the schools ran to $3,700,000. The 300-bed hospital cost $1,000,000 and the dental clinic $92,000.

Oak Ridge has a high health standard and a low crime record, with hardly any crimes of violence. Its population is probably the youngest age group in the country and has a very high birth rate, believed among the highest in the country. Hospitalization and medical care is provided through a voluntary insurance plan, the worker paying $2 per month for all hospital and medical bills, except home care.

Public buildings include 13 "super markets," 9 drug stores, 7 theaters, and 17 major eating places. Play grounds, recreation centers, and athletic facilities, including a fine swimming pool, are available.

Operators of stores and other concessions lease their quarters from the government, the concessionaires being selected on the basis of bids which give the government the greatest returns.

Practically all the office building, shopping centers, theaters, etc., are frame construction.

Richland Village, Washington, is located on a 631-square mile reservation near Pasco. Living quarters built there include 928 duplex housing units and 614 single-family dwellings, 25 dormitories in one and two-room units totaling 965 beds, and 1,803 prefabricated houses of plywood. Constructed new or remodeled from existing structures are 57 larger buildings which include churches, schools, public service establishments, and shops.

Timber also played a part in providing 2,033 telephone poles and playground equipment such as grandstands for football and baseball.

Stupendous as the whole atom bomb project was, it paid off in terms of cold cash on the barrelhead. The total costs of the enterprise, as of the closing of the books for the 1941-45 fiscal year, June 30, 1945, were $1,665,142,423.70. Considering that the end product, which reached practical application, of all this fantastic undertaking totaled two bombs dropped on Japan, the price seems high. The cost of prosecuting the war, however, was roughly computed at $1,000,000,000 per week. If it may be assumed—and few will argue—that those two bombs shortened the war by two weeks or more, the taxpayer got a bargain. Nor does that consider the sweat, blood, toil, and tears which no accountant can compute.

BITTINGER

The opening day of this year's deer hunting season, last Monday, brought many sportsmen from other parts of the State and from adjoining States to join the local Nimrods in the first day's hunt. Among those who reported as having killed a deer on Monday were Russell Breneman, Carl Breneman, Raymond Bittel and Bayard Marsh, the latter being a resident of Salisbury, Pa.

Generations slaved away their lives to build it. The wealth of kings and the skill of engineers were poured into its construction. And, when it was finished, it roamed a vagabond course over the mountains for hundreds of miles, like a great grey dragon breathing defiance from every segment of its poised body.

It was a peace-loving nation's way of telling the world that she wanted no more war . . . and the men who built it actually believed it would protect them from aggression.

The Americans have an atomic bomb. It, too, is a peace-loving nation's way of telling the world that she wants no more war. And millions actually believe it will protect, not only America, but the whole world from aggression.

The only sure protection against war is the fortress that saves mankind from the evils in men's hearts which foment war. That fortress is the Christian religion. But even our religion is not a sure protection until it reaches the hearts of all men.

Support your church. Help it build the foundations of Peace in your own heart. And with your prayers and your purse advance its tireless efforts to build those same foundations in the hearts of all men.

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship among Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support his Church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Church on Sunday.

VICTORY LOAN BONDS PROVE SOUND ECONOMY

By TED R. GAMBLE
National Director, War Finance
Division, U. S. Treasury

The Victory Loan, now under way, is the crucial test of our war finance program. We must not only raise the $11 billion required by the Treasury but we must do it in such a manner as to avoid the danger of inflation and to make secure the Peace for which over a quarter of a million of our men have given their lives. That is why we are asking for $4 billion from individuals, $2 billion of it from the sale of Series E bonds.

Why is this money needed? Briefly, the reasons may be summarized as follows: to bring our veterans home and give them their mousing-out pay, to maintain our armies of occupation, to take care of our sick and wounded veterans, to make prompt settlement of our cancelled war contracts, and for other necessary government expenditures during the next few months.

The Budget Bureau recently estimated total Federal Expenditures for the 1946 fiscal year at $66.4 billion, or $32.7 billion below 1945. Receipts were estimated at $36 billion, but these may be reduced somewhat by the new tax bill. This leaves a deficit of $29.4 billion, which must be met by Treasury borrowing. It is in order to help meet this deficit that the Treasury decided on the Victory Loan, the last big public drive for funds.

As we enter this Victory Loan, I'd like to review briefly the accomplishments of our war financing program. From May 1, 1941, when the program started, to October 1, 1945, we raised the huge sum of $207 billion. Furthermore, we raised this money through a plan of voluntary savings at the lowest interest cost of any nation engaged in the war, and at the lowest selling expense ever recorded.

In the first seven war loan drives, we set total quotas of $95 billion for all investors, and sold $135,749,000,000 in war loan bonds. Every loan was oversubscribed. Billions more were sold in the interim periods between drives. We have sold these bonds to more than 45,000,000 Americans. By the time this loan is over, we will have sold one billion individual pieces of the popular Series E bonds alone.

Where did this money come from? Our figures show that individuals provided the Treasury with $49 billion net out of the $95 billion in new funds that has become available to them since May 1, 1941—and most of the remainder went into cash savings or commercial bank accounts, insurance companies and savings banks invested all of the $22 billion in new funds that they received. State and local governments invested $5 billion of the $9 billion available. Private corporations had $39 billion of new funds from current surpluses and we obtained $28 billion of it. Most of the remainder was needed by them for expanded wartime operations. Federal agencies and trust funds invested all of their $17 billion of new funds in government securities.

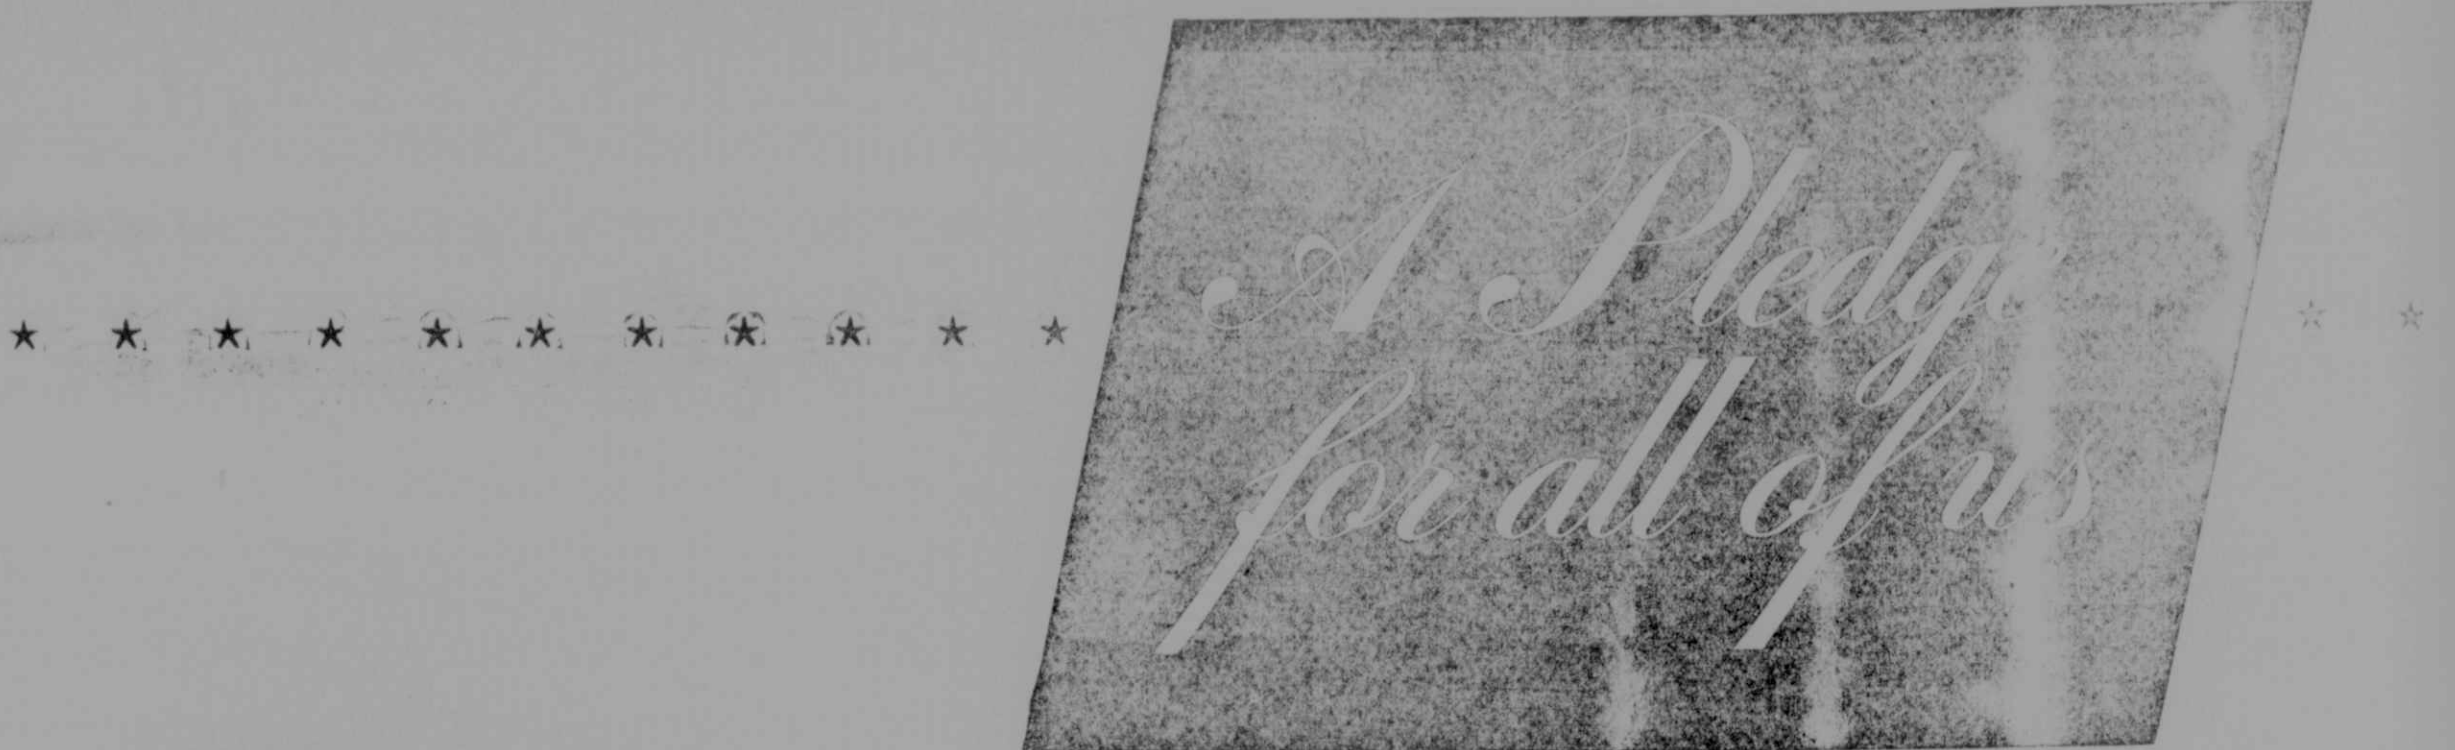

In short, up to the end of the Seventh War Loan, non-bank investors provided the government with $121 billion net of the $207 billion it had to borrow since May 1, 1941, the balance of $86 billion being absorbed by commercial Federal Reserve banks, most of it in open market purchases. Except for the investment of a limited portion of their savings deposits, we have not permitted the banks to subscribe directly to war loan securities in the last five war bond drives, nor in the current Victory Loan.

One of the most significant achievements of our program is the widespread distribution of the public debt. Millions of people who never before saved a penny in their lives, now own savings bonds. It is estimated that three-quarters of the Series E bonds sold to individuals were acquired by persons earning $5000 a year or less. Today, individuals hold almost one-fourth of the total Federal debt outstanding. An even larger proportion of the interest paid out on this debt will go to individuals. Obviously, this will have a tremendous impact on post-war purchasing power.

Investing in Victory Bonds will build a sound economy for the future. We cannot afford to slump back into indifference and selfishness if we are to keep faith with those who have paid most dearly so that we could live in a free and peaceful world. We can and should buy Victory Bonds to the limit of our ability if for no other reason than to express our gratitude to our fighting men. They have done their job, and have done it well. It is up to us to finish ours, so that they may come back to the kind of an America they dreamed about—a land of opportunity with full employment, full production and high income. The Victory Loan is our opportunity to express again our faith in America.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE CHRISTIAN'S PLACE IN THE LIFE OF HIS NATION (Temperance Lesson)

LESSON TEXT: Matt. 5:13-16, 43-48; 1 Peter 3:1-4.
GOLDEN TEXT: Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord—Psalm 22:32.

Men make up nations. Human beings in a land like ours determine by their interests and attitudes the direction in which the entire social order moves. That in turn determines what kind of government we have.

If the totalitarian philosophies have colored our thinking and caused us to forget the importance of the individual in the life of our nation, let us turn at once to the right view.

Particularly important is the bearing which individual Christians can and should have on our national life. We have tended to duck back and tail to use the power and position which we have by God's grace.

Nowhere does that show more than in our failure (perhaps one should say shameful failure) to bring Christian principles to bear upon the appalling liquor problem. This is temperance Sunday. Do not fail to stress that phase of Christian citizenship today.

How should Christians make their influence felt in the nation? By being what they ought to be and contributing to its life. Note these things in our lesson—the Christian gives:

I. Salt (Matt. 5:13).

We are the salt of the earth, and the pungent savor of Christ is to be evident in us as we touch life round about us—in the church, in the home, and in the nation.

True salt is antiseptic and purifying. It fights corruption wherever it is found. How effective the spiritually salty Christian and church should be against the corrupt political system, the liquor industry, vice and sin of all kinds. Have we lost our savor (v. 13)?

II. Light (Matt. 5:14-16).

A light is intended to give illumination to all round about it. It always does unless someone hides it under a cover, and then it becomes not only useless but dangerous.

A life lighted by faith in Christ will shine to the very ends of the earth and, as a missionary once said, "The light that shines farthest shines brightest at home."

We are the light of the world, but if we cover our light we deny the very essence of our natures. Here is no thought of proud or selfish display. Light does not shout about itself, it just shines.

Who will deny that there is need of some real spiritual light in some of the dark corners of our national life? Who is to shine in such places but you and me, fellow-believers?

Then, too, let us not forget that God has sent us out to light other lights. We can best serve our nation, and best meet the challenge of liquor by turning men to Christ. That doesn't mean that we should neglect other "good works," but it is well to keep "first things first."

III. Love (Matt. 5:43-48).

"Love your enemies" (v. 44); that is the standard which Christ has established for His followers. While the love one has for the brethren is without doubt a more intimate relationship than the love one may have for an enemy, we must not seek to minimize the real love we should have even for those who curse and revile us.

It is to move us so deeply that we not only treat them kindly, but also pray for them. Humanly speaking such a thing is impossible, but in Christ it is not only possible, it has actually been demonstrated in life.

It is so easy for Christians to speak with derision that borders on hatred about "the devil's gang," and to lose all love for the crowd that hangs around the tavern and the gambling house. Let us hate their sin, but may God help us to show that we really love them.

Love will do more to reach the world for Christ, and more to direct our national life into right channels than any other influence we can bring to bear. Let us do all we can, but let us do it all in love.

IV. Loyalty (1 Pet. 2:13-17).

The loyalty of the Christian to right authority should be glad and free, not by necessity or by coercion.

The believer will see in all men the image of God and will honor them even though he may not be able to respect or approve their way of life. The dignity and position of the individual is always recognized by Christianity.

The brotherhood of true believers should call forth a peculiar love. We need to renew that brotherly affection between believers.

Fear of God, that is, the desire to do His blessed will, shows itself in the best kind of citizenship. Government would serve itself well if it encouraged every effort to win its citizens to Christ.

Prof. Albert Einstein declared that atomic bombs could kill perhaps two-thirds of the people of the earth.

Spread of narcotics in Asia was termed one of Japan's worst crimes.

"We Must Reconvert Moral And Spiritual Life"—Hoover

If civilization itself is to recover from the recent World War, we must not only reconvert our economic life from war to peace, but also reconvert our intellectual, moral and spiritual life from the shock of war to a life of peace, former President Herbert Hoover declared at the Wilson College, Chambersburg, Pa., diamond anniversary celebration.

Speaking before an assemblage of students, alumnae, representatives of colleges and learned societies throughout the nation, and residents of this Cumberland Valley community, Mr. Hoover called upon the colleges to lead in the restoration of our moral and spiritual losses from the war.

"Colleges Have Obligation" "I say that the colleges have a great obligation courageously to restore our moral and spiritual losses from the war, to renew our ideals of freedom, regain our sensitiveness to wrong, and to provide the nation with renewed supply of trained leadership," the former United States Chief Executive said.

"Unless we rebuild this new era on these foundations, it means the war has been lost."

"It means more. It means that civilization is lost. I am convinced that our educational institutions are equal to this, the greatest of tasks."

Moral Losses Noted

Mr. Hoover spoke in the open air court before Main Hall—the oldest building on the campus of Wilson College—the nation's third oldest girl's college.

He asserted that during the recent war we lost truth, justice, our sensitiveness to brutality, our ideas of freedom, and some of our intelligent leadership.

Truth can be regimented once more by getting rid of propaganda which has become so strong and has confused so many peoples, he said. He added that we must get rid of emotion, regimentation of the press and confusion, for they are not operations in pure intellectual honesty.

"Must Be Just Peace" "There is no such thing as a 'hard peace' or a 'soft peace,'" the former president said. "It must be a just peace if we are to restore justice in the world, and without justice there is no peace."

"Justice demands that the men responsible for this must be punished. It requires that the military castes and their weapons be destroyed and bent destroyed."

"But justice also requires that we do not visit on the children of millions of Germans and Japanese the sins of their fathers. Nor can we justly indict and punish 200,000,000 people. Vengeance and revenge are not justice."

"Measures which reduce the economic life of coming generations to the low levels of an agricultural state are neither justice nor good policy. That will create gigantic cesspools of hate, poverty and conspiracy against the world."

"By continuing the draft of boys between the ages of 18 and 21, we are destroying another crop of leaders trained in the professions and the arts," Mr. Hoover said.

He explained that the draft and diversion to war have cost us the equivalent of six annual crops of young men trained in these fields and that "after the interruptions of war, too small a part of them are returning to colleges for training. There will sometimes be a shortage in scientists, teachers, doctors, engineers, lawyers and our leaders in the humanities."

Not All Bad

He continued that the consequences of the war are not all bad, for we made important scientific discoveries—especially in the manipulation of the atom—"the heroic deeds of America's sons and daughters have added to the glory of the nation, the war resulted in the extinction of three of the fostering sores of military aggression in the world, and we have a start at world co-operation to at least maintain military peace."

Forming a colorful background were the 435 students of Wilson College, dressed in skirts and sweaters of many bright hues, seated around the edge of the crowd.

Edward Martin, Governor of Pennsylvania, introduced Mr. Hoover whose talk was broadcast over a nationwide network.

Group Greets Hoover

When the former President, accompanied by a Pennsylvania State Police escort, arrived on the campus, he was greeted by Paul Swain Havens, president of Wilson College, Governor

Martin, 90-year-old Mrs. Flora Witherspoon, Shippensburg, Pa., eldest living Wilson alumna, who entered the college in 1876, Miss Charlotte Davidson, oldest faculty member, and Miss Peggy Wilson, Trenton, N. J., president of the institution's college movement association.

LET'S TALK FACTS...

Men's wear gifts are not as plentiful this Christmas as they have been in the past. Although we've maintained the traditional fine quality of our apparel, we have not been able to purchase quantities that would permit us to offer you unlimited selection. (As if we had to tell you!)

Our stock of men's shirts, pajamas and underwear, for example, is at the lowest point in our 76 year history. Our suit racks are not as tightly packed as they usually are. You might find just what you want, but your choice is definitely limited.

While you can still find more gifts for men at Schwarzenbach's than in any store in this area, we can't honestly say "We have everything he wants."

Schwarzenbach's Suggests a
To Men for Christmas 1945

An excellent way to solve your gift problem for a man this Christmas is to stop in and look around. You'll find many items to please your man, but you may not find just what he needs most, or the right color or style. If you have a particular gift in mind and it's not available now, we suggest that you purchase a GIFT CERTIFICATE. He can use it the day after you give it to him or any later time, in whole or in part.

Two to one he'll be more pleased with your practical thinking than a substitute gift.

So ... if you can't find what he wants

Next Score of Years Crucial To Soil Saving

Only Seven Per Cent of Maryland's Soil Conservation Job Is Done

Maryland farmers can complete most of their huge job of soil conservation in the next 15 to 20 years, if they can get enough technical help, labor and equipment to complete soil erosion control, land use, and soil building plans on all of the 4,197,827 acres of farm land in the state.

These were the words of Dr. H. H. Bennett, chief of the Soil Conservation Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, as he recently described to hundreds of Maryland people at the Cumberland Conservation Forum the urgent needs to get this job done.

During the last ten years, Maryland farmers have treated 300,000 acres of land to hold the soil and to produce better crops. They have organized 20 soil conservation districts to make possible the work of terracing, strip cropping, ditching and planning which requires heavy equipment and technical advice and the cooperation of neighboring farmers for success. But the work done in the past ten years, he pointed out, is hardly more than 7 per cent of the soil conservation job that remains to be done.

More and more people are learning that proper use and sound care of the land are essential to a prosperous agriculture, Dr. Bennett added, and also they begin to realize the work must be done quickly, before more land erodes to the point of being worthless for crops. Two centuries of erosion have worn much Maryland soil to near the point when they must be abandoned for agriculture, and the heavy cropping of fields during wartime years has added additional acres to the lands in the danger zone. About 1,700,000 acres of land in crops this year, he estimates, should be returned to grass and trees because they are so easily damaged by runoff of soil and water.

Surveys show that about 2 million acres of Maryland croplands need soil erosion and soil building practices such as contouring, strip cropping, terracing and pasture improvement, while other thousands of acres need better drainage or other work. According to Dr. Bennett, 402,000 of these acres are so worn as to need terracing, and 1,620,000 acres need improved crop rotations, including legumes and grasses.

More than 2,200,000 acres of Maryland land has already been heavily damaged by erosion, he declared, and immediate work is needed to prevent further damage and to restore part of these lands to former fertility and usefulness.

Tours and meetings such as the Harford tour of October 5 and the Cumberland Conservation Forum of November 3 are essential to soil conservation, Dr. Bennett said. For that reason many more people learn what a huge task is ahead, and also learn how well some people are already doing the soil-saving work. More and more neighbors of farmers who put in early soil conservation programs are now replanning the layout of their own farms to get the benefits of easier work, better yields and soil that does not wash.

The cooperative effect of everyone working in each soil conservation district is the means of saving Maryland's soil agriculture, the soil scientist pointed out. The 20 districts already established in Maryland cover 86 per cent of the total area of the State, some 5,479,049 acres. They include 36,749 out of the 42,110 farms in the Free State. Not only farmers and soil technicians are involved in this huge task, Bennett concluded, but also business men, bankers, professional people of all kinds for the land is the basis of their food and welfare, too.

A Big "D"

By RUTH TAYLOR

IT WAS raining last Sunday afternoon so I settled down to read a new book on Democracy. It was a really good book, appraising our way of life, explaining its advantages over other ideologies and emphasizing the duties of all citizens. But, quite unintentionally, it pointed out one of our great errors.

Nazism, Fascism and Communism all began with capital letters, but democracy was always written with a small "d". Isn't that one of our weaknesses? Democracy is taken so much for granted in our lives, that we just don't begin it with a capital "D".

Would those ideologies which are based upon the tyranny of individuals, party or state, have had such a mushroom growth, if we, as individuals or as a nation, had thought and expressed Democracy with a big "D"? What were they after all, but the strivings of hungry people for a way out from poverty and oppression?

We could have shown them the way—but we spelt democracy with a small "d". If we had sold our principles to the world, instead of our follies; if we had pointed out our accomplishments instead of making wise-cracks about our foibles, would we have been faced with a world holocaust? If we had spelt Democracy with a capital, could we have averted war?

The war of the armed forces is won. But the War of Peace is just beginning. If we believe in Democracy, we must spell it with a big D. We must bear witness to our faith before the world and we must give to it the same last wholehearted measure of devotion that the followers of other ideologies give to their beliefs. We must dignify our belief by our actions and our speech.

This is not the time to let up—or to let down. What other peoples and other nations think of Democracy will be based on how dynamic we make its appeal. We ourselves are the only advertisement for our way of life. Let us take care to be good ones.

Democracy is the way of life we have chosen. It knows no narrow boundaries of class or creed. It is universal in its application. Democracy to us is the form of government which recognizes the freedom of spirit, the dignity of man, the right and responsibilities of the individual.

Let's spell it with a big "D" and prove before all the world our pride in our way of life.

Suit Of G. Blaine Giessman Was Based Mainly On County Orders of 1918 and 1919

The claim of former County Commissioner, G. Blaine Giessman, against Garrett County, upon which he brought suit against the present County Commissioners in 1943, was finally laid to rest on Friday last when the Court of Appeals of Maryland sustained the judgment entered by Judge Mish in the Circuit Court for Washington County, finding in favor of the County Commissioners and against Mr. Giessman.

The suit of Mr. Giessman was based for the most part upon 109 county orders issued in 1918 and 1919 and paid from county funds while George Giessman, father of G. Blaine Giessman, was County Treasurer. It was alleged that the orders were issued by the then County Commissioners and paid out of the funds of the County Treasurer without his authority and that he was not given credit for the same. Mr. Giessman further alleged that his father later turned the orders over to him and that an Act of the Legislature, passed in 1938, authorizing payment of interest on outstanding county orders, revived these old orders and placed him in position to collect the original amount of $11,667.05 with interest from 1919 (continued on Page Three)

Retailers and Others Asked To Turn In Red Tokens to OPA

The Office of Price Administration, Washington, has issued an urgent call to all retailers, wholesalers, and primary distributors of rationed meats and fats to turn in to their ration banks all red tokens in their possession. The tokens need not be counted, OPA said, and may be placed either in the standard container or in a sealed envelope. Their prompt surrender is being required to close all matters pertaining to the terminated programs. At the same time the OPA warns consumers to guard their ration books. While sugar is the only food left on rationing, it is likely to be continued for many months and consumers should make every effort to safeguard their ration books, says OPA. According to the local office, when books are lost there is a delay in replacing and consumers may be inconvenienced by lack of sugar stamps. Replacements are carefully tailored to avoid issuance of duplicate ration currency.

SCHOOL HOLIDAYS

The elementary and high schools of the county will close for the Christmas holidays on Friday, December 21. It has been announced by F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent. Studies will be resumed on Wednesday morning, January 2, 1946.

Firemen Answer Two Alarms During Week

The Oakland firemen answered two alarms during the week, one at Bayard and one at Mt. Lake Park.

The call to Mt. Lake Park on Wednesday morning was the result of a fire in an official car attached to train No. 23. The fire was discovered coming up the 17-mile grade and the car was detached from the train at the Park and the local department called. Emory Bolden, local chief, said the fire did not cause extensive damage but was underneath the floor and difficult to reach. Firemen battled the blaze for 3½ hours.

John P. Dugan, general baggage agent, enroute to Cincinnati, and other R. and O. officials, occupied the car and were forced to abandon their trip and return to Baltimore. The car was taken to Keyser for repairs.

Oakland firemen were called to Bayard last Sunday. A fire broke out out of control in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Moore and four rooms of the building were damaged. Bayard citizens had the fire out when the local department arrived.

Red Cross Chapter Expends $2,593.34 For Disaster Help

Makes Report For Two Weeks' Period Required In Helping Families Back To Normal

A report of the Garrett County Chapter of the American Red Cross this week concerning the individuals helped following the disastrous fire the night of November 14 which destroyed the Nally building, shows that $2,593.34 has been expended thus far for relief and assistance. There were eight families and four individuals involved.

The report declared that in addition to the cash expenditures, food, used clothing and furniture were brought into two downtown stations and were distributed to those applying for assistance. Two pairs of glasses have been furnished from the Theatre tax fund. The Red Cross acknowledged substantial aid from Mr. and Mrs. William Gibson and others too numerous to mention.

All donations were voluntary, as it was pointed out that every year a nation-wide campaign is conducted for the purpose of carrying on the Red Cross work, including disaster relief. The combined efforts of generous citizens and organizations and the Red Cross bridged the gap between the need created by the fire and what the families could provide from their own limited resources. The task of helping the Oakland families back to normal living required two weeks.

Issuing the report were Mrs. E. Z. Tower, president of the Garrett County chapter; F. E. Rathbun, chairman of the disaster committee; Mrs. Paul B. Naylor, chairman of the annual roll call; J. M. Jarboe, treasurer; Dr. E. I. Baumgartner and L. M. Fraley, members of the disaster committee.

Oakland Passers Trim Barton High

Oakland High school added the scalp of the second Allegany county team to its list of victims last night by defeating Barton high school by the score of 39 to 26. It was the second victory in four starts for the fast-stepping Highlanders.

Bob Bosley, Herbert Leighton and Neil Walter figured prominently in the Oakland attack with ten, eight and seven points respectively, while others came in for their share of the total score with G. Johnson scoring 3, Norman Friend 5, Thomas Jones 4, and William Kildow 2. The high individual scorer of the game however, was War-nick, Barton guard, who registered 12 points on six field goals.

Oakland jumped off to a 7-0 edge at the quarter and held the lead thru-out. The halftime score was 17-8 and the third period ended 24-14. Oakland made 5 of 14 foul attempts while Barton scored 6 out of 12.

In the preliminary game the Barton junior varsity turned back Oakland's jayvees 21-13. Howard White refereed the main game while George Hanst called the preliminary.

Terra Alta High Noses Out Oakland

Terra Alta high school basketballers nosed out Oakland high's floorballers last Thursday night in a low scoring contest at Terra Alta by the score of 18 to 15.

The West Virginians scored most of their points in the first period when they jumped away to a 12-4 lead. Oakland trailed at the half 14-8 and at the close of the third quarter 15-10. The highlanders made up one point in the rear at 15-11 in the final quarter but were unable to overtake the home team.

Kelly and Berchdorf accounted for thirteen of the Terra Alta tallies while Job Bosley marked up eight points for Oakland. Walter, Jones, and H. Leighton each chalked up two points for Oakland and Kildow one. Friend and Johnson did not score. Killen was referee.

Feeling that Oakland should again be decorated for the holiday season, to signify the return of peace and to serve as a welcome for the returning servicemen, the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland, are asking merchants and business men and all citizens to decorate to the fullest extent possible. The power company is ready to cooperate, but bulbs and materials are somewhat scarce.

Army Recruiting Office Is Moved

The Army recruiting office, formerly located in the Court House building, has been moved to the basement of the postoffice building in Oakland, effective on Tuesday, it was announced by Sgt. Marsh, army representative here.

Sgt. Marsh declared he was of the firm belief that if the young men of the district 17 and 18 years of age would come in, he could show them the advantage of enlisting in the regular army rather than being drafted by the local board. Enlistments can be made up to the time an individual receives his induction call. He emphasized that the army had the best retirement plan available anywhere.

Lt. Hoopengardner Receives Bronze Star

First Lieut. Joseph L. Hoopengardner, husband of the former Loretta Ashby, of Crellin, has been awarded the bronze star medal, according to word recently received.

The citation reads in part: "For meritorious achievements in the performance of outstanding services December 1, 1944, to May 15, 1945. He assumed charge of the battalion medical section after both the battalion surgeon and the top-ranking non-com had been returned to the states, and working long hours with tireless energy, supervised the routine work of the section; handled all administrative matters; carried out a comprehensive program of hygiene and sanitation; gave regular lectures on venereal disease and first aid; directed malaria control; and inspected company areas to assure maintenance of a high standard of health and sanitation."

"Devoting himself unselfishly and ably to duty and giving freely of his time and talents, Lt. Hoopengardner also conducted special classes in physical culture, managed and played on athletic teams and served as officer-adviser to the enlisted men's club. By his initiative, industry, ability and example, he served as an inspiration to personnel of the entire command and made an inestimable, practical contribution of the progress and welfare of the entire command."

"His acts and services not only were exceptional in character and well beyond the ordinary call of duty, but were distinguished and of high merit."

Lt. Hoopengardner enlisted in June, 1942, and called to active service after his graduation from the University of Maryland in February, 1943. He is now stationed at Geiger Field, Spokane, Washington. He returned from Italy in September.

Lake Association Members Have Meet

Year-round resident landowners of Deep Creek Lake and business men of Oakland, members of the Deep Creek Lake association, met Monday night at Pickwick Inn to discuss next year's proposed program of activities for the group and to make suggestions. All appeared anxious to get started on some definite plan.

Thurl Tower, president of the association, announced a special dinner meeting to be held at Point View Inn on Thursday, January 3, at 7 p. m.

Warns of Dangers From Check Forgers

Chief of Police John J. Sweeney, cooperating in the U. S. Secret Service Crime Prevention program, this week warned merchants and their customers to be on guard against check thieves and forgers.

During the pre-holiday season the Chief said these criminals take advantage of crowded streets and over-worked clerks to "reap a harvest" by stealing and forging large numbers of checks.

Mr. Sweeney said "neither customers nor merchants can afford to suffer the loss of a forged check when simple precautions could have prevented it. Treat your check as though it were cash. If you receive a check, protect it from thieves. If you are a merchant, be sure you know your endorsers."

POSTOFFICE HOURS

In order to take care of the holiday rush, the business windows at the Oakland postoffice will remain open all day on Saturday, December 15 and Saturday, December 22. It has been announced. There will also be two deliveries in town on those two days.

Usually windows are open only until noon on Saturday and there is only one city delivery.

Local Fire Company Re-elects Its Officers

Annual Report Shows Members Responded To Forty-Six Calls During Year

All officers of the Oakland Volunteer Fire department were re-elected at a meeting of the organization in the City Hall last Wednesday evening. They include: Edward A. Shaffer, president; A. G. Gortner, vice-president; W. W. Dawson, treasurer; T. J. Stanton, secretary; Emory Bolden, chief; Grover C. Stemple, 1st assistant; James Lewis, 2nd assistant; A. G. Hesen, captain. The standing committee includes Mr. Shaffer, Mr. Bolden, Mr. Stemple, Mr. Dawson, H. P. Stuck and Lawrence M. Fraley. Mr. Shaffer's election was for the twelfth consecutive year.

An annual report given by the secretary showed that members had responded to forty-six calls during the year, four of them for drownings and forty-two of them for fires.

It was the most disastrous year for loss by fire ever tabulated by the local department. During the past year the Smouse apartment house, corner Second and Pennington, was badly damaged in a stubborn five-hour blaze in the midst of a snowstorm; the cannery at Mt. Lake Park was practically destroyed; Harry L. Paugh's barn was entirely destroyed; the Nally building, housing five places of business and seven apartments, was completely burned out, and the Leighton garage was gutted by flames. It was also during the past year that a home was consumed at Deer Park in which Ed Thrasher was burned to death.

Although the fire company made no estimate of destruction these fires alone caused damage conservatively estimated at more than $300,000, and although a good portion of the losses was covered by insurance there has been little rebuilding due to war-time and post-war restrictions. The heaviest loss was at the cannery where expensive machinery was housed.

The other calls were for grass and blue fires and minor alarms, which might have become serious without the aid of the local firemen.

Three of the calls due to drownings were at Deep Creek Lake where five persons lost their lives, and the other call was from Silver Lake where one person was drowned.

Victory Loan Goes Over Top Here

County Still Some Short on "E" Bond Purchases But Total Is $221,838.75

The Victory Loan drive has gone over the top in Garrett county, it was announced this morning by H. C. Riggs, county chairman, although the "E" bond quota was still to be met.

The total purchases amounted to $221,838.75, as against a quota of $175,000. "E" bond purchases amounted to $66,906.25 as against a quota of $85,000.

The over-all quota was reached thru purchases by corporations and other agencies, which were credited to this county. The B. and O. allocated $29,000 of its purchases to Garrett county. The Imperial Ice Cream company allocated $6,000, the State of Maryland, $51,000 and the County Commissioners and Board of Education jointly $48,000 from the fund already accumulated toward the construction of new school buildings in this county. The latter amount can be withdrawn at any time when construction gets under way.

In this instance he was required to register, as he was already in the service during the registrations for the draft.

Sgt. Sharps will go to Moultrie, Ga., soon for his wife and son, and they will return to Oakland where he will resume his work in the Sharps Motor company garage.

Special Mailing

The postoffice received word today that due to a storm in the Aleutian area the bulk of Christmas mail going to APO 729 was lost when a ship was sunk.

The department announced that persons could mail one package to soldiers getting their mail at APO 729, without a request, up to December 20.

AT LEAST 301 DEER KILLED IN GARRETT COUNTY

Ice, Sleet and Snow During Part Of Six-Day Season Favored The Hunted Animals

A total of at least 301 bucks fell to the guns of hunters in Garrett county during the six-day deer season which ended last Saturday, according to unofficial figures, falling 95 short of the record set in 1942. Hunters were practically forced out of the woods by ice, sleet and fog for two and one-half days, which kept down the score in this section.

Throughout the state there were 447 bucks shot. A new record was set in Allegany county with 56 kills, while other reports showed 38 killed in Worcester county, 18 in Frederick county and 34 in Washington county.

Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, announced 25 arrests in this county for carrying loaded guns in cars; five for illegal kills, one for using steel jacket bullets, and three for improper licenses.

He also announced that thirty bucks from Wisconsin were scheduled to arrive for distribution in Garrett county for the purpose of improving the grade of antlers of deer. He said he understood the Game Commission paid $80 for each of the bucks.

Milton L. Crowe, aged 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Crowe, of Avilton, shot a 7-point buck on Saturday which weighed 118 pounds, on a Meadow Mountain ridge.

Evan B. Smith, Boonsboro, got the largest set of antlers, his deer being a fourteen pointer.

Norris Crites, former Oakland resident, now of Aberdeen, bagged the largest buck reported up to Saturday in Cecil county. The deer had 12 points and weighed 210 pounds dressed.

Maryland's State police at the substitution at LaVale checked a buck killed in Garrett county on Friday. It was reported by Ed Lewis, Cumberland, who got a five pointer of 138 pounds in the Potomac State forest.

Francis Ruge, district game warden, said the checking stations within the county had reported 270 bucks killed, 111 at Oakland, 65 at Rainbow Inn, 60 at Grantsville, 29 at Friendsville, and 5 at Kitzmiller, while fifteen or more had reported at the LaVale substitution in Allegany county, and it was felt that others may have checked in after returning to their homes in other counties.

Of the twenty-six deer liberated last spring and marked with a clipped ear, only two were caught during this open season. One of them, a 11-point buck, was killed by Onie Switzer, of Vinex.

A group of Sang Run hunters was claiming the biggest percentage of success among any other hunting party in the woods. Thirteen or more who have been in the habit of hunting together each year were never able to get more than five bucks until a week ago when eight were killed. That meant about 1100 pounds of fresh meat for Suzanne, Parker, Emory, George, Alvie, Milton, Dale and Mr. and Mrs. Milton DeWitt, Randall Friend, Charles Carr, J. Joe McRobie and Arnold Friend. The successful hunters of the group this year were Suzanne, Emory, George and Joe DeWitt, Randall and Arnold Friend, Charles Carr and Joe McRobie.

Mr. Ruge said he was unable to obtain the names of persons killing deer on the last three days of the season, as the State Warden had gathered the check lists early Sunday morning and took them to Baltimore with him.

The present County Commissioners, defending against the action on behalf of the county, contended that the claim was barred because of the suit of the county against George Glessman and his bondsmen in 1927, in which the audits showed that Mr. Glessman had been given credit for these orders and in which judgment was obtained by the County in the amount of $5,395.55, which was paid by the bonding company, and that the claim was not revived by the Act of 1938. Both the Circuit Court and the Court of Appeals sustained this contention.

The suit, powers, as also the minutes of the County Commissioners, show that in support of his claim and in order to attempt to give it validity, new orders were issued to Mr. Glessman in the above amount just before he relinquished his office as County Commissioner in the latter part of 1942; but not delivered to the County Treasurer; that in November of that year a special meeting was held at which only County Commissioners G. Blaine Glessman and Chaston H. Browning were present, the third member of the board, Paul M. Friend not being present; and that a resolution was passed which was intended as a recognition of the claim, and upon which the new orders were based.

It was contended by Mr. Glessman, in his suit, that this action was a proper exercise of the powers of the County Commissioners and that no appeal having been taken from it within 60 days it became final and no defense could afterward be made to the claim. This was based upon the belief of Mr. Glessman, as set out in the papers in the case, that Section 91 of Article 5 of the Code of Public General Laws of Maryland, applying principally to road cases as the court pointed out and providing the method of appeal from decisions of the Commissioners, was applicable. The Court of Appeals, after pointing out that since 1929 the County Commissioners of Garrett County have had no authority to issue and deliver orders to creditors and that an invalid claim cannot be validated by an invalid order and that the section in question did not apply disposed of the contention by saying:

"That an unauthorized, unlawful and even fraudulent act of municipal officials can be made final and withdrawn from the ordinary jurisdiction of the courts by calling it a 'decision' in a 'proceeding' before the faithless officials themselves, is a novel idea. Deriving this conclusion from a ninety-year-old road law is no less remarkable."

In addition to the large claim above mentioned, Mr. Glessman also sued for approximately $321.09 which he stated was due him for expenses incurred on trips, etc., as a County Commissioner between the time of the primary in 1942 and the date when he gave up his office, these bills including charges for show, shoes, drinks, etc. The present County Commissioners refused payment of this claim and their action was also sustained by the decision in the Court of Appeals.

Mr. Glessman was represented by the late Charles G. Watson, of Cumberland, who died after the case had been submitted to the Court of Appeals, George R. Hicks, Hagerstown, and William J. McWilliams, of Annapolis, while E. Ray Jones, Oakland, and Robert H. McCalley, of Hagerstown, represented the County Commissioners.

Individual Sugar Ration Unchanged

Commodity May Be Harder To Get In 1946, However

Individual sugar rations will continue to be five pounds in the four months from January through April but housewives may find it harder to get sugar in January and February, the OPA announced.

With validation of a new sugar stamp, Number 29, on January 1, the OPA expects a shortage which will be most noticeable on the East Coast.

Sugar allotments to industrial users generally will be at the same levels for the first quarter of 1946 as at present the OPA statement said.

The only exception will be for such products as jams, jellies, marmalades and fruit butters. OPA said an adjustment applicable to some products of these products now is being prepared and will be announced shortly.

Sugar allotments for institutions during the January-February period will be computed on the same per meal allowance as at present, OPA said, and there will be no change in the rate of refreshment allotments.

Shipments of new crops of Caribbean sugar are not expected in substantial volume until March 1, according to the Agriculture Department. OPA said that this meant that only about one half of the allocations made for the first quarter would be available during January or February, especially for the East Coast, which normally depends on Caribbean sources.

Date of Social Changed

The date of the social, sponsored by the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, of Loch Lynn Heights, has been changed from December 20, to Tuesday, December 18, it has been announced. This is being done so as not to interfere with a program scheduled by the Mt. Lake Park Parent-Teacher association, on December 20th.

The social will be held in the L.O.O.F. hall in Loch Lynn where refreshments will be on sale and there will be bingo and entertainment. The affair is open to the public.

Quiz For Marylanders

THINGS YOU MAY NOT HAVE KNOWN TILL NOW

By QUENTIN HOWE

Answer to Question 1:

Nineteen states in America have racing but nowhere are there more enthusiastic devotees than in Maryland. In a Benson & Benson survey seven out of every ten Marylanders said they attended racing. Maryland is one of the few states with breeding, fox-hunting, hunt racing, brush racing, post-and-rail steeplechasing, horse shows, pony clubs, and just plain horseback riding.

Answer to Question 2:

Marylanders, who have never attended, benefit from racing because the State's four racing associations contribute over one million dollars a year to their state taxes. This money pays taxes you would otherwise have to pay. Think how much one million dollars a year can do and does do for our Maryland public schools.

Answer to Question 3:

Governor Eden, ancestor of Anthony Eden and our last Colonial Governor, was a member of the Maryland Jockey Club. Since the Declaration of Independence (1776) only one Maryland Governor has been an officer. Politics and the honored tradition of the American Turf do not mix. Since the days of George Washington many of Maryland's most distinguished citizens have been officers of the Maryland Jockey Club whose prime aim is to bring to Maryland the finest racing in America. Founded in 1743, it is America's oldest racing institution. It has conducted racing at Pimlico since 1870. The quality of Pimlico racing is a reflection of the character of this famous old Maryland club.

2. HOW DO MARYLANDERS WHO RISE NEVER SEEN A HORSE RACE BENEFIT FROM RACING?

3. WHAT PEOPLE ARE THE MOST DEVOTED TO HORSE RACING?

DO YOU BELIEVE INSTITUTIONS REFLECT THE CHARACTER OF THE PEOPLE WHO RUN THEM?

Steps to Conquer Tuberculosis Cited

"This year, the fiftieth anniversary of Conrad Roentgen's discovery of the x-ray, is a fitting time to exceed all our previous attempts to conquer tuberculosis," Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health, believes. "One of the most important contributions of the x-ray" discovered by this German scientist in 1895 is in the field of tuberculosis control, for it enables us to detect the disease in the lungs in its earliest stages.

"Early diagnosis is emphasized in the tuberculosis program. The disease can be cured more promptly and with less permanent disability when detected in its first stage. The x-ray reveals early tuberculosis, often before any apparent symptoms occur and before there is enough infection for laboratory tests to show tubercle bacilli in the sputum.

"Every resident of Maryland can and should help in the conquest of tuberculosis by buying some of the Christmas seals now being sold by the Maryland Tuberculosis Association," Dr. Riley wishes to remind the public. "Each purchase of seals helps, whether it contributes only a few cents or several dollars. Proceeds of the Thirty-ninth Christmas Seal Sale, now in progress, will be used for early diagnosis by means of chest x-rays and tuberculin tests and for other activities connected with the prevention and cure of this disease.

"Progress already made indicates that an increased effort can practically eradicate this preventable and curable disease. Since 1908, the year of the first Christmas Seal Sale in Maryland, great strides have been made in our conquest of tuberculosis. Our achievements, however, fall short of the goal, for tuberculosis kills and disables large numbers of Marylanders every year. In 1944 there were more than 1,200 tuberculosis deaths and it is still the leading cause of death between the ages of fifteen and thirty-five.

"Surely the fight against this disease deserves the financial support of all who are interested in the health and welfare of this State and its residents. And those who give should remember that they are helping to protect their own homes from tuberculosis. Unrecognized and untreated cases spread infection to others and become a threat to the health of the entire community. The family and other close contacts of those who unknowingly allow their tuberculosis to advance untreated are naturally in the greatest danger, for the infection is usually transmitted through continued exposure rather than casual and passing contact."

What Helps Agriculture Helps All of Us

WHAT is it that helps agriculture? We know that to grow good crops it takes good seed, fertile soil, a favorable climate, and the skill and experience of the individual. Likewise in the production of livestock you need well-bred animals, proper care and feeding, plus intelligent management.

Through better seeds and new types of plants like hybrid corn, through soil conservation methods, better land management, and improved machinery, through more effective control of pests and parasites, America has reached a level of food production never before achieved by any nation in history. Therein lies much of America's strength for the future.

By many a tragic example, history teaches us that when food supplies fail, nations fall. We of America must see to it that our agriculture becomes always a stronger, surer base for the economy of our nation. This is a task not only for you as producers but also for us who, by providing nationwide facilities and services, bridge the gap which separates farmers and ranchers from the distant consumers who must have their products.

And because our business is so closely linked with the land, we at Swift & Company are vitally interested in all developments that help agriculture. And so in these Swift pages we publish helpful information, knowing that a prosperous agriculture is essential to the livestock and meat industry—and to the prosperity of the nation as a whole.

OUR LIVESTOCK JUDGING METHODS

By R. G. JOHNSON
Head, Department of Animal Husbandry, Oregon State College

Domestic animals are machines for converting plant material into meat, fibers, and other human needs. Competition forces the modern farmer to evaluate efficiency in terms of tons or bushels per acre, dairy production in pounds of butterfat per cow per year, and poultry results in number of eggs per year. Thus, since the basic resource is feed and not animals, shouldn't livestock producers evaluate breeding stock on the basis of meat or of wool their offspring produces per 100 pounds of feed consumed?

The show ring standards for judging animals by external appearance have given us advancement up to a certain point, but breeding for the show ring does not always lead to efficient feed utilization.

A step in the right direction is the increasing use of proved sires. Today, through use of artificial insemination, the purchased breeder is greatly assisted in the establishment and increase of efficient blood lines.

"Tomorrow's 'yardstick' will not only be bigger yields per acre but also more pounds of meat and fiber per ton of feed.

THE EDITOR'S COLUMN

A smart steer on range goes to where the forage is best. A smart livestock producer sells where the market is best. There are many sources of information to help him decide where that best market may be. Radio networks and nearby stations report daily on receipts and prices at central and local markets. Commission houses and their field men are ready to give personal advice on the best time and place to sell. Newspapers publish detailed descriptions of market conditions. Various timely reports are available from the U. S. D. A. and other impartial sources on trends and developments in the livestock-and-meat industry.

In making their bids, livestock buyers also use current market information. Acceptance of any price offered is entirely up to the producer or his sales agent. Meat packing plants and their buyers are located at so many widespread points that if a producer is not satisfied with prices offered by any one buyer, he has a choice of several others to which he may sell his animals.

Moreover, with 3,500 meat packing plants and 26,000 other concerns and individuals who slaughter livestock commercially, there is bound to be keen competitive bidding for your livestock. Barring meat rationing and price ceilings, livestock prices are governed by what the packer can get for the meat and by-products.

"AMINOS" ARE IMPORTANT TO YOU! From the nutrition research laboratories comes the story of amino acids, mysterious substances found in the proteins we eat. Aminos are used by our bodies to build and rebuild our tissues, organs, and blood. They also help fight off infections.

Of the 23 known aminos, ten are absolutely essential to health and even to life itself. Meat is rich in all ten of them. That's why doctors, working to rebuild the shattered bodies of wounded servicemen, order diets with large amounts of meat. That is also why everybody should eat meat for health as well as for its fine flavor and its "stick-to-the-ribs" food value.

Swift and other meat packers, through The American Meat Institute, are telling this vital story of meat and its health-building aminos in many millions of advertising messages. As people read this story, there will be wider markets for meat—and the livestock you produce.

LIVESTOCK EXPANSION IN SOUTH

By J. B. FRANCHIONI, JR., Head, Department of Animal Industry, Louisiana State University and A.M. College

Livestock last year furnished 39 per cent of the cash farm income for the South, as compared to a previous ten-year average of 37 per cent. It can also safely be said that no other section has made livestock gains during the war period equal to those in the South.

The southern states have many natural advantages for livestock production—the mild climate, long growing season and rich vegetation providing good pasturage for a greater part of the year. And now that the crop control and soil conservation programs are making it possible, many planters are changing over to livestock, beef cattle in particular.

Improved pastures are being developed, producing more feed for cattle than can be obtained from natural pastures only. And as the feed situation improves, purebred breeds are being introduced. Louisiana alone has imported at least 24,000 bulls and many good females during the last ten years. The state now boasts over 200 purebred breeders, utilizing to the fullest extent better pastures and approved land management practices. The use of good bulls has raised the quality of the grade of offspring and has increased their value when marketed.

Shank and wife, dated November 11, 1945, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T. No. 66, folio 419, one of said Land Records of Garrett County; that while possessed of said real estate Ephraim F. Sowers departed this life, intestate, November 29, 1943, leaving as his next of kin and heirs at law, his widow, Alice Rachel Sowers, and Roy C. Sowers, a son, whose wife is Olive H. Sowers; Charles P. Sowers, a single son; Effie Huffman, a daughter, who married John Huffman, and the following grandchildren, children of Edith May Wilkins, a deceased daughter: Elwood M. Wilkins, whose wife is Cleo C. Wilkins; Kermit L. Wilkins, whose wife is Wilma V. Wilkins; James L. Wilkins, whose wife is Vanda M. Wilkins, and Naomi W. Herman, whose husband is George A. Herman; that while possessed of an undivided one-third interest in the above real estate, Alice Rachel Sowers departed this life, intestate, April 2, 1944, leaving as her next of kin and heirs at law, the above named children and grandchildren; that by deed dated August 24, 1945, and recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, all of the above parties, with the exception of Naomi W. Herman and George A. Herman, her husband, and John Huffman, conveyed their interests in said property to Roy C. Sowers; that neither Ephraim F. Sowers or Alice Rachel Sowers owned any personal property at the time of their death and there has not been any administration upon their estates, but said estates are indebted unto the said Roy C. Sowers for hospital, medical and funeral expenses, and other sums expended by him on their behalf; that said real estate is not susceptible of partition in kind and it would be to the benefit of the parties to this case to have it sold and the proceeds thereof, after payment of debts and funeral expenses of said decedents, divided among the parties to this case, according to their respective interests.

The bill then prays for a decree for the sale of said real estate, for distribution of the proceeds, first, in settlement of the claims against the estates of Ephraim F. Sowers and Alice Rachel Sowers, and the balance among the plaintiffs and defendants according to their rights and interests therein, and for general relief.

It is thereupon this 15th day of November 1945, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that the plaintiff, by having a copy of this order inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week, for four successive weeks before the 14th day of December, 1945, give notice to the said alleged defendants of the object and substance of this bill, warning them to be and appear in this Court by person or by solicitor, on or before the 20th day of December, 1945, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

A. G. ROSS, Clerk.

WILL THERE BE A STEEL STRIKE?

Not if the CIO abides by its pledged word, given only last spring.

Question: What would be the general effect on the country of a steel strike?

Answer: Over 40 percent of all the factory workers in the country earn their living by making steel into useful products for American life. A shut-down of the steel industry would be a disastrous blow to reconversion and would cause a serious loss in both wages and industrial production at a time when they were most needed.

Question: Is it true that the Steelworkers Union has pledged itself not to strike?

Answer: Yes. Every contract which the Union has signed this year with the various steel companies has a clause wherein the Union agrees not to strike during the life of the contract.

Question: Are those contracts still in effect?

Answer: Yes. They were signed in the spring of 1945 to run until October, 1946.

Question: Who signed for the Union?

Answer: Its international officials—Philip Murray, Van Biltner, Clinton Golden and others—and the local Union heads at the various plants.

Question: Is there no "escape clause" by which either side could end the agreements?

Answer: No. The Union demanded a fixed, long-term contract and got it.

Question: Why did they want a long-term contract?

Answer: In the Union's own words before the War Labor Board, "The Union's request for a termination of October, 1946, is not made capriciously or pressed here for bargaining purposes. It represents the considered view of the Union that only such a term will adequately serve the needs of stability."

Question: Did the recent strike vote violate the contracts?

Answer: No. Only an actual strike would violate them.

Question: Haven't there been strikes already during the life of the contracts?

Answer: Yes. There were 998 strikes in steel plants during the past year alone. They were mostly local strikes which the Union characterizes as "wildcat," but they meant a big loss in production.

Question: Does the end of the war justify changing the contracts?

Answer: No. The bond was sealed on both sides and should be kept whether times be good or bad. The steel companies are continuing to live up to these agreements. If a strike is called, it will be in clear violation of the existing contracts.

A strike in the face of existing contracts would shatter any confidence in the validity of union agreements in the steel industry.

IN MEMORIAM

Mrs. Emma Gnegy, of Eglon, West Va., dedicates this poem to the memory of her son, Pte. Russell Dale Cress, who lost his life in a British troopship off Djidjelli, Algeria, on November 27, 1943:

Now that the war is over
And victory has been won,
I am just another mother
Who gave her darling son.

He doesn't rest on an island,
As so many heroes brave,
Nor a white cross marks his resting place.

For he sleeps in a watery grave.
There's a gold star in my window,
And a tear upon my heart,
And though he isn't coming home,
I feel we're not far apart.

I know there is many a mother
Who is weeping with me today,
We are weeping for our soldier boys
Who are sleeping far away.

We now pray God for a lasting peace,
That war will not come again;
Though some of our boys will never come.

Don't let them have died in vain.

"Peace on Earth"

NINETEEN hundred and forty-five years ago, the birth of the Prince of Peace brought Christianity to a troubled world. On His natal day, all Christendom pays homage to the Saviour. This Christmas will be one of two-fold rejoicing. . . . With the rebirth of freedom to all mankind, let us pay tribute, in prayer, to those millions who have sacrificed on the far-flung fields of battle that peoples of all faiths and all races might live in lasting peace and harmony. . . . And pray God that their sacrifice has not been in vain.

Elementary P.T.A. Meeting Postponed

The Oakland Elementary Parent-Teacher association meeting, scheduled for this evening, has been postponed until sometime in January, it was announced this morning.

A Christmas play and program had been prepared for presentation by the elementary pupils and a business meeting was to have featured a report on progress of the playground and school lunch committees.

The postponement was due to the inclement weather.

ANSWERS TWO ALARMS

The Oakland firemen answered two alarms during the week. They were called Monday about 11:30 for a fire at the home of Claude Friend, Deer Park. There was only slight damage.

Early Tuesday morning they were called to Loch Lynn Heights to the home of Mr. Mayle where fire had spread from a fire fire. The flames were extinguished after slight damage.

Unusual Annulment Case Heard by Judge

Soldier Charges Girl Cleverly Engineered Him Into Matrimony

Associate Judge Walter C. Capper was in Oakland this week where he heard an annulment case involving an 18-year-old Uniontown, Pa., soldier who charged his wife, an attractive Italian girl, had cleverly engineered him into matrimony without letting him know before hand. The girl, 21, denied any such thing and charged her husband with planning the entire project.

According to testimony given by witnesses, Pvt. William Bainbridge, 18, had always been a model young man whose mother never permitted him out after 9:30 p. m. even after he was a senior in high school. In due course he met Stella Gallo and according to him he knew her in a casual way.

Detective Involved

Bainbridge testified that Stella hired a Uniontown detective, J. B. Wright, to assist her in getting herself married to him. Bainbridge said that Wright, whom he knew slightly, came to his house one day and asked him to go for a ride. After receiving his mother's permission, he and Bainbridge left and were later joined by three girls, including Stella.

According to Bainbridge, Wright then drove them to Oakland where they picked up a marriage license that Stella and the detective had already arranged for, unknown to him. From there they drove to Accident where a minister, already arranged for, married him to Stella.

From there, the bride party moved to Ohio Pike, Pa., where Bainbridge learned Stella and the detective had arranged for a wedding dinner and a room for the night. This was all done without his knowledge, he charged. After the dinner, the jovial detective waved the bride and groom up the stairs to their room.

Asked why he went upstairs if he objected to being married, Bainbridge said that he saw no alternative in view of all that had happened already.

Will Consider Testimony

After spending the night there, Wright drove the group back to Uniontown where the couple separated and went to their respective homes.

A short time later Bainbridge was drafted and testimony was presented that Stella visited him on at least two different occasions in his camp.

An annulment is being asked by the young man.

Mrs. Bainbridge denies her husband's allegations and says that at the contrary he engineered the whole affair and that they also had many dates prior to the ceremony.

NUMBER 43.

School Board Requests $497,947 for Next Year

Asks The County To Furnish $139,284 for Operation of Public Schools In 1946

The County Board of Education met last Friday afternoon with the principal order of business preparing the annual budget for the coming year for submission to the County Commissioners, who will pass upon it before the county levy is laid in January.

As explained by F. E. Rathbun, county superintendent, the salaries of teachers as provided by the General Assembly of 1945 exceeds by approximately $50,000 in the budget for 1946 what was set out in the budget of 1945. The total of the estimated requirements for current expenses for 1946 is given as $497,947 whereas the budget of a year ago set out $406,247. The budget further sets forth an estimated equalization fund of $240,840 for 1946 whereas last year's budget set forth $167,000. This increase is also due largely to the increases in the salaries of teachers.

For 1945, the sum of $104,944.62 was levied in the county levy whereas for 1946, the sum of $108,218 is requested from the same source. This increase is due to the fact that the new school law requires that the county not levy less than 50 cents per $100 assessed valuation for the support of the schools whereas in former years the county was able to levy only 51 cents in order to participate in the State Equalization Fund for operation of the schools.

Teacher's salaries have been revised to participate in not less than 80 percent of the total of the budget exclusive of transportation costs whereas in previous years teachers' salaries constituted 76 percent of the total of the budget.

The budget further requests $2750 for improvements to the Oakland elementary school and smaller items for Collins, Red House and Mt. Lake Park school plants. It likewise requests $18,219 to pay for one-half the cost of transporting high school children as also $5,000 for special salaries of teachers of agriculture. The total of the budget is $497,947 which is practically one-half million dollars more than the $350,000 to come from the State and $139,284 requested from the county.

In addition to these totals, the General Assembly of Maryland of 1945 makes it necessary for the County Commissioners to levy an additional amount of from $25,000 to $30,000 for each of the years of 1946 to 1953 inclusive, the money to be expended for six new school buildings or additions at Friendsville, Grantsville, Bloomington, Accident, Oakland and Kitzmiller.

At the same meeting, a protest was presented to the Board against raffling and various forms of gambling that are being exercised in connection with the public school program. The protest requested the public school authorities to exert their influence against this situation.

School communities submitted lists from which the County Commissioners, Board of Education and the county superintendent are to select building committees of five members to assist in carrying out provisions for new buildings. Friendsville submitted 7, Grantsville 13, Bloomington 15, Accident 13, Kitzmiller 5. Similar lists were presented to the County Commissioners.

Resignations were accepted from Mrs. Ethel S. Tunison, Accident elementary; Oliver R. Kyle, Oakland high; Mabel L. See, West Vindex; Mrs. Frances N. Davies, Friendsville elementary; Mildred L. Schmidt, Vindex home economics in the Kitzmiller high school, to be effective as soon as a qualified successor can be secured.

Upon nomination by Mr. Rathbun, the Board appointed the following: Viola R. Cornelius, Kitzmiller high; Charles F. Strauss, Accident high; Mrs. Daisy D. Beachy, Oakland high; Thomas V. Baucum, Accident high, succeeding Fred J. Sacco who has been teaching in that school but who is discontinuing at the Christmas holidays. Mr. Baucum will teach mathematics, science and physical education, beginning January 2.

The Board closed the Sand Spring school and provided for the transportation of pupils to Friendsville, and also ordered the closing of the Steyer school, the children to be transported to Loch Lynn. Mr. Rathbun said the attendance at these schools had been so small recently that this action became necessary.

Farmers May Wait 'Til End of Year to Make 1946 Income Estimate

The farmer who files his 1945 Federal income tax return by January 15, 1946, can skip the estimated return on 1946 income tax which formerly was required at that time, says John H. Carter, County Agricultural Agent for Garrett county.

Changes in the income tax law now allow a farmer to wait until the end of the year to make his estimate of income and tax, and to pay the full amount of tax at that time. Difficulty of estimating income in advance has brought this change, so that payment can be made any time between December 31 and January 15.

Regular Form 1040-F, the schedule of farm income and expenses, is used to determine the farm income and is filed along with the tax return, Form 1040.

Miscellaneous Publication No. 554, "Farm Bookkeeping and the Federal Income Tax," will be helpful to farmers filing income returns. The publication may be secured at the County Agent's office. Copies will be mailed to anyone upon request.

Dr. Joseph P. Franklin, deputy state health officer, announced. All of the shipment of sauerkraut from the firm has been withdrawn from sale in both counties. Dr. Franklin said.

He stated that samples of the sauerkraut, sent to Baltimore for analysis by the bureau of foods and drugs of the state department of health were found to contain insect larvae, lumps of mold, dirt, rust and splinters of wood.

The shipment included 550 cases of quart jars and sixty cases of gallon jars.

County In Midst Of Pre-Christmas Storm

Garrett county was in the midst of its usual pre-Christmas storm this week, with a snowfall ranging up to about 12 inches, but seemed to have escaped the dense snowfall that had hit other sections of the county.

Drifts were piling up on all roads as high winds whipped the snow about and State road crews were kept busy most of the night in maintaining traffic. Most of the state's heavy equipment was being used to plow through the drifts that reached eight and ten feet high in spots. County road crews were also at work and were keeping some of the secondary roads open for school buses.

Merle Frantz, elementary principal, said that the storm and influenza had cut his attendance to about 30 percent but that most of the buses had come in fairly well loaded. Attendance was better at the high school, according to F. D. Bittle, principal, with the flu cutting attendance to about 70 percent during the week, and the storm this morning cutting still deeper into the total.

Druggists and physicians said hundreds of people were ill of influenza and that it had reached the stage of a small epidemic.

This week's snow was preceded by lesser snow and low temperatures, the thermometer readings having hit 10 below zero and colder last Sunday morning. This morning's reading was 10 above, and snow continued to fall lightly. The wind had moderated.

3 Inducted Into Army

Three men who were sent to the Baltimore induction station on December 11, have been accepted into the Army. They were Joseph Albert Ashby, Crellin; Ernest Lee Bowser, Addison, Pa.; and Lawrence Leroy Mason, Avilton.

it will be the day after Christmas, I shall still wish you happiness, and on perhaps because I cannot afford to makes no difference—the thought and

The Double-Cross

By RA McGIVE

McGraw-Hill—WNU Features.

SHE put the empty milk glass in the sink, brushed a few crumbs from the baggy sweater and bent over to fix her bobby socks. "Mother, the high school prom is next Friday."

"Is it, Betty?"

"Yes, and I want to go."

"But, Betty, the country club is having a dance for the younger set over that night. Your father is president of it."

"And that's the trouble."

"What do you mean?"

"I want to go with Willie Brock. And you know father won't let me go with our paper boy. He's swell."

"Willie's a nice boy, but wouldn't he be out of place at the country club?"

"That's just it, Mother. He can't afford to go places like the country club. But he could take me to the prom. It's informal."

"Have you asked him?"

"No, but I know he wants to ask me. He's just a little shy but I can get him to ask me if I like."

She grinned.

Her mother looked astonished for a minute and then grinned too. "Yes, I suppose you can."

"And you can get Daddy to let me go if you want to."

"Yes, I can do that?"

Betty laughed. "The same way I can get Willie to ask me." She traced a circle with the toe of her shoe on the linoleum. "I was at Mary Thompson's the other day and her mother was talking about the time all of you were in college. She said Daddy was pretty popular and that you had to lick the field to get him."

Her mother's voice was sharp.

"Well, Mary Thompson ought to know."

"What do you mean by that, Mother?"

"Never mind."

"How about Willie?"

"We'll see. Run along now, I'm busy."

The air was blue the next morning and Mother was having little success in calming the man of the house. "Now, Joe, Betty will be down in a minute and you don't want her to hear that kind of language."

"Why not? She's probably heard worse. Eggs like rocks, toast burned to cinders, coffee like . . . say, what did you use this morning in the coffee pot?"

"I don't intend to sit here and listen to you grouse. You can sit downtown any time you care to. Anyone would think I'd poisoned you."

"You ought to know what a breakfast like this does to me. I won't feel right all morning."

"It's too bad about you!"

"Oh, is it? Sometimes you make me sick and . . ." he lowered his voice. "Oh, mornin', Betty."

She beamed as she slid on to a chair. "Good morning, Daddy."

"Aren't you going to say good morning to your mother?" he asked as he put aside the paper.

"The child doesn't have to if she doesn't feel like it and, besides, I want to talk to you later about Betty."

The newspaper fell to the floor as he let go of it. "What in heaven's name is the matter with you this morning? We'll talk now. When the day comes that I have to speak about my daughter behind closed doors . . . well, what is it?"

"Betty wants to go to the high school prom with Willie Brock next Friday."

"And who is Willie Brock, and why shouldn't she go with him?"

"Why, Joe, you know well enough! The very idea—our paper boy taking my daughter to a high school dance instead of to the country club! What will Mary Thompson think of us? His folks haven't a nickel and . . ."

He cut her short and turned to his daughter. "Betty, you may go to whatever dance you want with anyone you choose." He shook his head. "Your mother going high hat . . ." His chair scraped the floor as he brought the flat of his hand down hard. The dishes jumped. . . . Not if I have any say about it. Furthermore, I'm going to have breakfast downtown!" In a moment the front door closed with a bang.

Betty, looking very much worried, said, "Gee, Mommy, last night you said Willie was O. K."

Her mother kissed Betty's cheek. "Run along, dear." And she added with a wink, "I hope Willie is easier to handle."

Electronic Heating

Electronic heating, result of the frantic attempt of molecules of a non-conductor to adjust themselves in a high frequency field, warms all the way through, not from the outside in. So it works well in heating or curing good heat insulators, such as rubber and other plastics. Application of the method to vulcanizing rubber is reported in results that are better than might be expected solely from the heating effect. Another use recently reported is for quick thawing of quick frozen foods.

The Unhelpful Professor

Washington, Dec. 8.

For many years the representatives of Great Britain in this country have been consistently men of tact and courtesy as well as character, judgment and charm. With genuine personal friendliness toward the United States and a patriotic desire for closer understanding between the two countries, they have been both puzzled and pained at the occasional evidences of anti-British feeling here.

Most thoughtful Americans have deplored with them the irrational nature of this feeling and been equally baffled to put their finger upon concrete causes. It is not often that one such shows up, but one certainly did a few days ago when Prof. Harold J. Laski, chairman of the British Labor party, making his first public appearance in this country since 1939, spoke at a dinner where the problem of the atomic bomb was supposed to be the topic of discussion.

It is true that Prime Minister Attlee, who made a very favorable personal impression here on his recent visit, has said more than once that Mr. Laski does not speak either for him or for the Labor Government. Nevertheless, his position in the Labor party is such as to give his utterances more weight than if he had no such connection. To put it mildly, these utterances at this dinner were unfortunate. No one could consent that they contributed to the betterment of British-American relations.

What the professor did was to seize upon the atomic bomb as an excuse for making an attack upon the American free-enterprise system and unfavorably contrast it to the socialist system which he espouses. His idea seemed to be that the bomb makes it necessary for us to scrap our system and turn either to his or that of the Russians. Our form of economy, he indicated, was the direct road to serfdom and a nation with such a system as ours could not be trusted to develop atomic energy within the framework of peace.

These were typical of the professor's remarks. His whole notion seemed to be to prove that because we cling to such a silly old thing as the free-enterprise system we were unfit to handle the atomic energy problem and that if we attempted to do so, disaster would follow. Having unburdened himself of these profound and ingratiating thoughts, Professor Laski had his picture taken with the Russian-born Mr. Sidney Hillman, of the CIO, who doubtless was in complete accord, and then proceeded on his round of visits and speeches.

Now, no one disputes the right of the professor to say what he thinks. This, like his own, is a country of free speech and Mr. Laski has the right to go as far as he likes. However, it is permissible to question the taste of his utterances as well as their sense. Concerning their effect, it seems likely that they have increased rather than diminished that anti-British sentiment which is so deeply regretted by discerning Americans as well as by the British.

Certainly, too, Mr. Laski's voluble

Once again the lights of Christmas and peace glow over the world reflecting in heart and home the spirit of good will to all mankind. Twinkling little candles on Christmas trees flicker their story of love and friendship this Yuletide season. They shine a blessing on the young soldier folding his khaki for the last time—cast a lingering kiss of brilliance on the rosy-face youngsters romping beneath the evergreen—gleam warmly on mother and dad enjoying the sight of their family reunited. This Christmas, as in centuries past, the Tree gathers her loved ones about her in a world at peace again.

Farmers need two kinds of service, he pointed out; one, such as the Extension Service provides, to keep them abreast of developments in the vital issues of the day that affect rural life, and the other, such as the Farm Bureau offers, organization to make their voices effective.

Has ever been the ultimate goal of human beings. Some find happiness in one way; some in another; and many never find it at all. Whatever road you may have been taking in your pursuit of happiness, may your fondest hopes be realized during this Christmas season of 1945.

One other thought: we want every one of you to know that we deeply appreciate everything you have done for us during the past year.

summons many happy memories. To some it recalls a ride over the frozen

it recalls happy reunions in mirth-

it recalls days of charm and endear-

Amazons Lose Opener To Elk Garden Girls In Well-Played Game

In their first game of the season the OHS girls were defeated by score of 14-10 in a well-played game at Elk Garden on December 14. The game opened with Elk Garden taking the offensive and soon chalking up one point against Oakland. They held this margin throughout the game. Oakland was held scoreless in the first quarter while Kantor, the Elks' captain, went on to score four of her total of fourteen points.

With Fauber scoring a goal and Kildow a foul shot the second quarter saw Elk Garden in the lead by only one point. This closeness was short-lived, however, for Kantor went on to score six more points, while Oakland was limited to Willard's field goal, ending the half, 10-5.

Both teams shared equal honors in the third quarter with each scoring two points. The final portion of the game began with Elk Garden doubling the Amazons' score, 14-7. From then

THE MESSAGE OF CHRISTMAS TO THE WORLD

LESSON TEXT: Luke 2:1-14.
GOLDEN TEXT: Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.—Luke 2:14.

Christmas again? Yes, and it's going to be a joyful Christmas this year, isn't it? Let's not miss a single bit of the joy and gladness of the season. Let's observe all the precious customs and traditions. Let's share in the pleasantness and the laughter. Some may have to do it with a sense of sadness hidden in their hearts, but even they will join us in really keeping Christmas this year.

But don't forget to keep Christ in your Christmas this year as never before! We who know Him should realize how much the world needs Him. We should see in the months just ahead our greatest opportunity to make Him known.

Our lesson topic is "The Message of Christmas to the World." What is that message? Here it is:

I. Make Room for Jesus! (vv. 1-7).
"It came to pass"—yes, it always does when God has given His promise. For seven centuries God had said, "He is coming," and then He came. God rules the affairs of this world even though thoughtless and unbelieving men not only grieve Him, but often defy Him.

Jesus came—but He came to a manger, "because there was no room for him in the inn." Is it not the same today? There is no room for Him now in the hearts of most men. Is He wanted in our places of business, in our governmental offices, in our social gatherings?

Remember, it was not because they hated Him that there was no room. It was just that they were "preoccupied." That is the trouble in men's hearts today. They should have made room in the inn for Jesus even though everyone and everything else must be turned out, and we should make room for Him no matter what else or who else must go. They would have made room for Jesus had they known who He was. We do know, and yet we do not make room. Why not? (Jer. 17:9; John 15:24; Rom. 8:7.) (John W. Bradbury).

That is the message of Christmas! Make room in your heart, in your life and in your home for Jesus! Then go quickly and

II. Tell Others About Jesus! (vv. 8-12).

The religious leaders slept soundly the night Jesus was born. They knew the prophecies of His coming, but they were not looking for Him. Perchance some of them slept in the very inn where He could not be received.

But the shepherds were awake. They knew that something unbelievably great had happened, for the heavens were ablaze with celestial glory.

At first they were afraid, but they were soon comforted by the words "Fear not." How characteristic that message is of the whole gospel testimony. Fear not, there is salvation; Jesus has come to seek and to save the lost.

But be sure to note that such a message is not just for one's personal joy and encouragement; it is for "all people" (v. 10). The shepherds realized that and the verses following our lesson tell us that "they made known" what they had seen (vv. 17-20).

How great that need is today! After all these centuries since Jesus came there are still multitudes of people on this earth who have never heard about our Saviour. There are children who would ordinarily have been in church and Sunday school who, because of the war, have grown up in heathen darkness.

Others there are who have heard but have not responded, and we must go to them once more this Christmas and tell them that "a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord" was born in Bethlehem.

Make room for Jesus, and then make Him known to others. That will lead you to

III. Praise God for Jesus (vv. 13-14).

The angels could hardly wait with their praise. "Suddenly" a multitude of the heavenly host appeared, praising God for the blessed message of peace and good will.

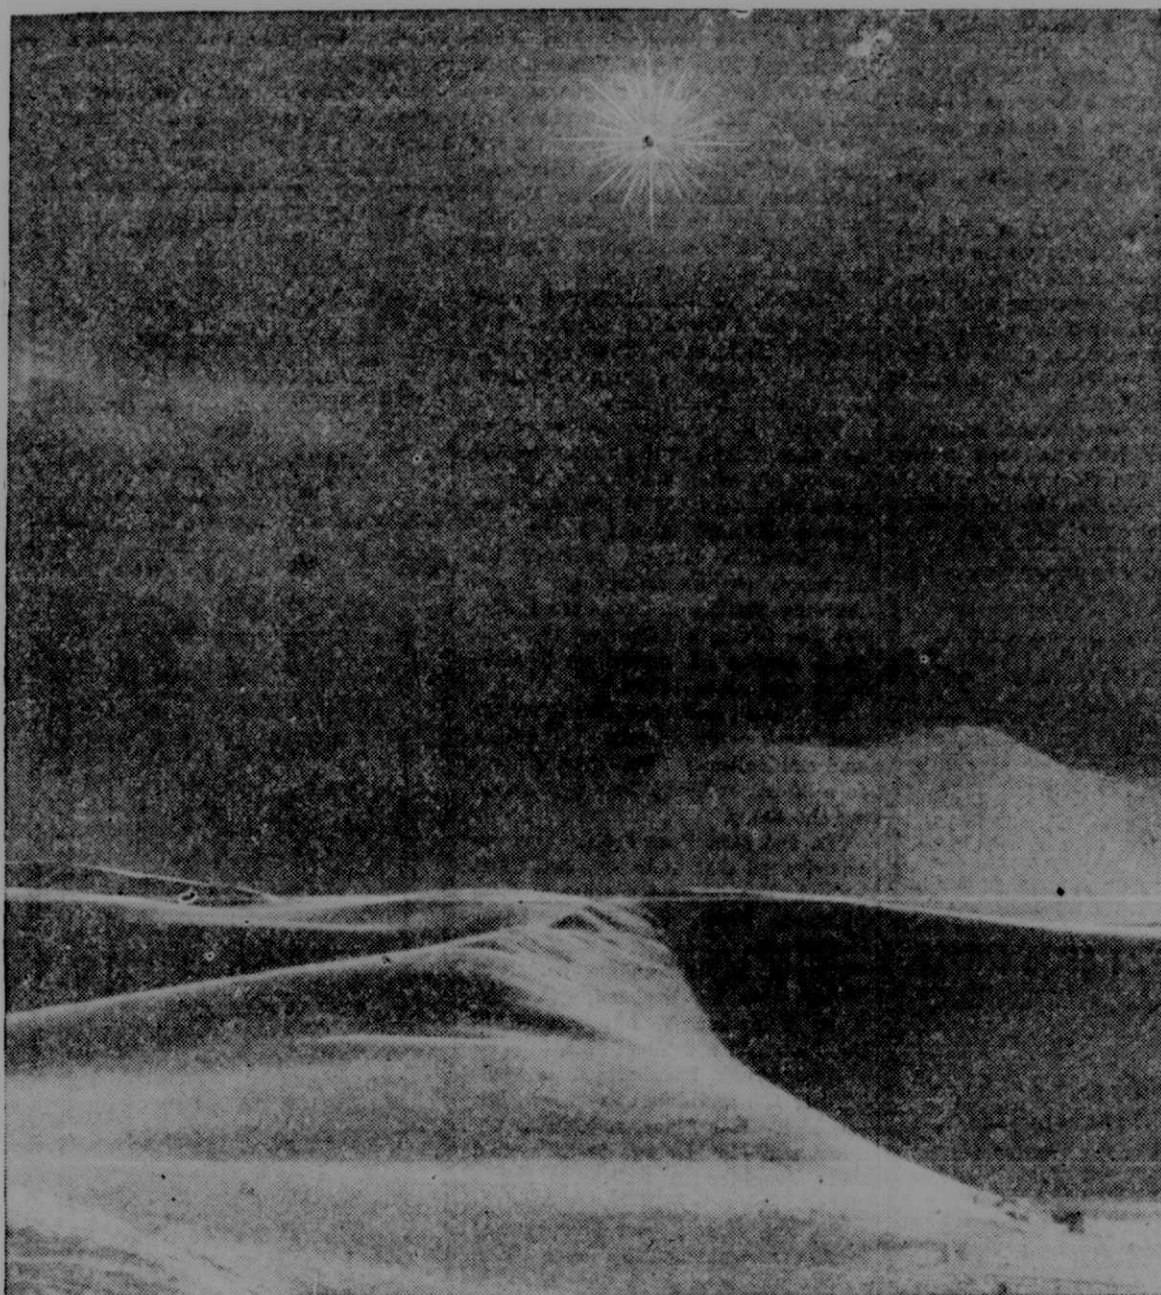

The Christian life is quite incomplete and unbalanced if it does not include much praise. The Lord is worthy of all the praise of every believing heart this Christmas Day!

The writer of these notes extends to you the heartiest of good wishes at this glad Christmas season. He pleads with you if you are not a Christian, make room for the Saviour in your heart! Then, let us all make Him known everywhere, to the praise and glory of His name.

It would please the one who prepares these notes to have a word from his friends everywhere, assuring him of their interest and prayers. Just a postcard will do. The address is at the head of the column. Don't expect a reply, but be assured that he will pray for you.

The Star of the Ages

The Wise Men of the East trod the sun-baked desert sands westward, following a Star. It led them to the crude birthplace of the infant Savior.

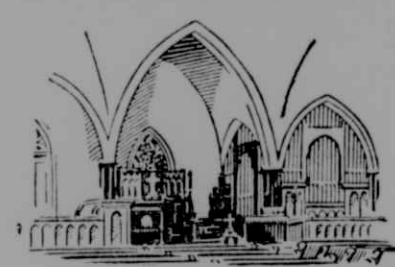

The Magi were teachers of a philosophy which stressed Light as the source of all power, all wisdom, all good. They were ardent students of the Sun, Moon and Stars as sources of Light. When a strange Star appeared in the sky, which seemed to beckon them westward, they followed it over burning miles and eventually came to Bethlehem.

Consciously or unconsciously, men are always following Stars. In every normal life there are radiant, distant goals toward which men strive. Sometimes these are false lights, which lead only to the jungles of despair, and the cold, dank pits of disappointment. Sometimes they are true lights, which lead to joyful attainment and happy realization.

The Wise Men of the East found the teachings of their philosophy and the hopes of their lives fulfilled at the cradle of the Christ.

Religion is the Star which the Wise Men of all ages have followed, and in its true, spiritual manifestation it has never led men astray. It is the Star which shines above the little church at the cross roads and the great cathedral in the heart of a busy city.

In the simple faith of childhood, man's hopes are reborn and his spiritual strength renewed. The Christmas Star shines in the darkest night, and those who follow its beams find Peace.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the Church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Church on Sunday.

Pageant In Bethlehem

There was nothing spectacular, nothing new about their entrance into Bethlehem—Mary on a donkey, Joseph on foot, the halter in his hand. No one noticed; no one cared. They were poor, ordinary, lowly Nazarenes, common peasants come to sign the census-rolls, foot-sore and weary, typical of others who had come for days in steady streams to the city they called their own. Bethlehem, tiny village, lay prostrate on a Judean hill, swollen with strangers, aching with activity, moaning aloud in drunken music and lustful laughter—this was the village through which Mary and Joseph picked their way, searching for a room. From inn to inn they went in desperation,—but always there was room, not a single bed, even for Mary, heavy with child. At last, alone in the quiet outskirts, they chanced upon a rude shed built for cows, and there beneath the breath of beasts Mary brought forth her son, wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

Somewhat nature went wild that night, the world turned topsy-turvy—all Creation shook for joy and bowed toward the stable. Angels appeared to shepherds on the hillside and sang the news that He had come. He of whom the prophets spoke, for whom the world had waited. A giant star fell from its orbit and traced a route across the midnight sky. Wise men saw the star and set out on camels to adore. Nature rejoiced and laughed for joy for He had come, this Child of Mary, on Christmas Day—He, the Christ, the Saviour of the world.

Aged prophets, centuries before, had told about His coming—holy men with bushy beards, on speaking terms with God. For God had told them Adam's crime would one day be reversed; that He would send His only Son to ransom Adam's children. God had promised, and now His Word was flesh; Christ had come to save the world from sin.

Strange birthplace for so great a birth—a stable filled with cows! Strange place to cuddle at Mary's breast, to feel the touch of gentle hands, to listen to her lullabies! Strange birthday for the Son of God! But that is what He chose—a strange beginning for a strange career. For thirty years He would live unknown, as Joseph's son in Nazareth, earning His bread with labor and sweat, a lowly Nazarene. And then one day He would leave His home and foot His way through Palestine, raising the dead, curing the sick, giving sight to the blind, his heart on fire to do the work for which He had come.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT.

THE ISSUE UNDECIDED

Washington, Dec. 15. The reappointment of Mr. Basil O'Connor as Red Cross chairman was a foregone conclusion. No one who understood the situation and knew the sort of fight being made had any doubt about that. The reasons were clear: First, Mr. O'Connor was a former law partner and personal selection of the late Mr. Roosevelt. His rejection would have been considered a personal affront by the Roosevelt admirers. Second, he was supported by influential Democratic political leaders. Third, he was strongly disapproved by the CIO and AFL union bosses, who have an arrangement with the Red Cross by which the unions are "reimbursed" for their expenses.

Considering the further fact that Mr. Truman was naturally reluctant to let the existing breach between himself and the union bosses it is easy to understand that, though perturbed by the widespread resentment over the labor agreement and by the opposition to Mr. O'Connor within the Red Cross, he was unable to stand up under the pressure—particularly that of the CIO, with which National Democratic Chairman Hangerman is playing political ball, and which seems especially anxious to continue the "reimbursing" arrangement.

This is the first time in Red Cross history since labor or party politicians have ever been interested in the appointment of a Red Cross chairman. Except for the first O'Connor appointment, it is the first time a President has named the Red Cross head without the approval of the leading Red Cross officials. It is, so far as known, the first time leading Red Cross officials have asked that an appointment not be made. So far as known, it is the first time there has ever been any opposition to the President's selection. In this case there was a lot. Opposed to Mr. O'Connor was not because of the labor arrangement, which, though he defended, he did not originate. The opposition was personal. This personal distaste combined, however, with the feeling over the union agreement to make a formidable though unorganized opposition. A lot of men would not have wanted the job under these conditions. It is not surprising that it should be reported that Mr. O'Connor intends to resign after a few months.

As for the future of the labor agreement, that is up in the air. At the session of the board of incorporators the agreement was denounced by Mr. John L. Lewis and others. It was pointed out that neither the United Mine Workers nor the Railroad Brotherhoods had ever received a cent for expenses, though they had regularly cooperated with the Red Cross and that until lately they knew nothing about the arrangement. A resolution offered by Mr. George L. Harrison, president of the New York Life Insurance Company, was adopted asking the central committee to "re-examine" the action taken earlier on the labor agreement at the earliest possible moment. At its meeting that afternoon there was a heated debate in the committee. In the end, a resolution was passed, the gist of which was contained in this paragraph: "The present understanding runs until May, 1946, and will, of course, govern through the forthcoming campaign for funds ($100,000,000) next March. In view of that fact the central committee will consider its future course together with representatives of these organizations in the light of conditions as they exist at that time."

There were a number of votes against this resolution, but the Administration members were all for it. Clearly, it leaves the real issue unsettled. It says, in effect, that as the contract between the Red Cross and the unions does not expire until next May, the Red Cross is compelled to operate under that contract until that time. It does not reaffirm the agreement. On the contrary, it declares, in effect, that at the next annual meeting it will decide whether to renew a contract that has deeply offended thousands of Red Cross workers and brought many protests to headquarters.

In his personal statement on the agreement, Mr. O'Connor made no new points. Like its other defenders, he ignored the flat statement in the Emerson report of 1943 that after the National War Fund had made its agreement the Red Cross had no alternative save to go along. He avoided, as they all do, the question of the effect upon Red Cross morale of "reimbursing" any group for co-operation. Nor did he mention the deluge of protesting letters that have poured in upon him in the last two months, including resolutions from some of the largest chapters in the country. Instead, like the others, he tried to justify the agreement on the ground of

TURKEY TIME

With a record-breaking crop of turkeys headed for market and holiday celebrations, it is a good time for turkey-hungry homemakers to brush up on roasting techniques.

For roast turkey choose a young, tender bird with a generous coating of fat under the skin. Other clues to roasting quality are a well-rounded body, a well-fleshed breast, few pinfeathers, and few pinfeathers.

Sprinkle the inside of the body cavity with salt, then put in the stuffing, being careful not to pack it too tightly—it will need room to expand as it absorbs juices that cook out of the bird. Finish off by slipping the heel of a loaf of bread, or some other large crust, into the opening to hold stuffing in place. Tuck the legs under the hand of skin at the tail, and secure them in place by taking a stitch at the end of the breastbone and wrapping the cord around the legs and under the tail. Stuff the loose skin at the base of the neck, fold it toward the back of the bird, and fasten with a skewer, poultry pins, or a few stitches. Rub the bird all over with fat and a little salt and pepper.

A shallow, uncovered pan is best for cooking a young turkey. Place a rack under the bird to keep it from sticking and allow hot air to circulate. The broiling tray and rack of some ranges can be used, though the size of the tray interferes with the circulation of air and is likely to slow down cooking time. When using a very shallow broiler tray, pan drippings must be poured off from time to time as they cook out of the bird. Start the turkey cooking breast down.

Don't put water in the bottom of the pan when cooking a young bird. Steaming breaks the skin and forces juice out of the meat, and is not necessary when the bird is young and tender.

Cook at a moderate temperature. Like other meats, poultry is toughened and hardened by intense heat. The lower the temperature, the lower the temperature, is a good rule. A 10- to 13-pound bird will take about 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 hours at 300 degrees F. A larger bird, expediency and asserted that it had "worked well." But it does not work well. Even if it has been financially successful (and there is plenty of room to doubt that) it has not worked well. Nothing works well that disrupts an organization as deeply as this agreement has disrupted this organization.

The more it is studied, the more it seems a device to enable the unions to regiment and direct the charitable gifts of their own members, isolating them from the appeals of outside agencies. Mr. O'Connor is to be congratulated that he did not repeat the dishonest statement so often made that, because the reimbursing payments are made to newly created war relief committees of the unions "not one cent goes to the union." One might as well contend that a gift to Mr. Sidney Hillman's Political Action Committee was not a gift to Mr. Murphy's CIO.

There were a number of votes against this resolution, but the Administration members were all for it. Clearly, it leaves the real issue unsettled. It says, in effect, that as the contract between the Red Cross and the unions does not expire until next May, the Red Cross is compelled to operate under that contract until that time. It does not reaffirm the agreement. On the contrary, it declares, in effect, that at the next annual meeting it will decide whether to renew a contract that has deeply offended thousands of Red Cross workers and brought many protests to headquarters.

In his personal statement on the agreement, Mr. O'Connor made no new points. Like its other defenders, he ignored the flat statement in the Emerson report of 1943 that after the National War Fund had made its agreement the Red Cross had no alternative save to go along. He avoided, as they all do, the question of the effect upon Red Cross morale of "reimbursing" any group for co-operation. Nor did he mention the deluge of protesting letters that have poured in upon him in the last two months, including resolutions from some of the largest chapters in the country. Instead, like the others, he tried to justify the agreement on the ground of 14 to 17 pounds, requires about 5 to 6 hours at 275 degrees F.; however, no hard and fast rules about cooking time can be given—some birds cook faster than others. Baste frequently with pan drippings or some other well-flavored fat. Baste a small or medium-sized bird every 20 to 45 minutes, a larger bird every hour. Turn the bird every time it is basted, lifting it at head and foot, with a clean, white cloth to protect the hands. This will keep parts standing high in the oven from cooking faster than the rest.

Light after Darkness

This is our brightest Christmas in a long, dark time. Every light on every tree—every window that greets night with cheerful challenge—is a shining symbol of the passing of war's shadow.

There is radiant happiness in family gatherings this year. Men are coming home from war. And those who hear their Christmas carols under strange skies are closer, nearer to home than they have been in a great while.

For many, this will be a wistful Christmas—but a Christmas brave and strong in the knowledge that those who bought victory so dearly will make tomorrow's world a brighter place for us all.

MERRIEST Christmas OF ALL 1945

And now comes another Christmas to be added to your store of memories. We hope this Christmas of 1945 will be a very enjoyable one—a truly happy one—fulfilling all the fine traditions of Christmas.

Accept our hearty thanks for the pleasant business associations of the past year. Once again we say

Merry Christmas!

KITCHEN HINTS

Ripening Bananas

Bananas are at the ideal stage for eating fresh out of hand when the peel is golden flecked with brown which indicates that the flesh inside is mellow and fully sweet. Though bananas are usually sold in stores before they reach this stage of ripeness, those in good condition may easily be ripened in the home kitchen.

Bananas may be left in an open bowl to ripen, but probably a better way is to leave them in the bag in which they are purchased and put a moistened wad of paper in with them to keep the atmosphere just humid enough to keep the fruit from drying. Banana experts say that the fruit usually ripens best in a closed but not airtight container. The gases given off in ripening, if confined around the fruit hasten ripening.

The bag of bananas should be kept at room temperature—about 70 degrees F.—never in the refrigerator or other cold place.

Vitamins in Cabbage

The following experiments with cabbage in another locality may be of interest: Tests at the Southeastern oratory at Charleston, South Carolina, showed that the average yield of vitamins—vitamin C, thiamine, and riboflavin—was greater in cabbage harvested in November than in cabbage harvested in May. Also, the vitamins were more evenly distributed through the head in fall than in spring cabbage.

The tests also showed that as the season becomes colder, more vitamins accumulate around the center of the cabbage; but as the season becomes warmer, the vitamins are most abundant in the outer portions of the head. The outer leaves of May cabbage were much richer in vitamins than the inner leaves next to the core; but in November cabbage, the reverse was true.

Nut Yields

When buying nuts in their shells, homemakers sometimes are uncertain as to how much "meat" they will yield. The following may be of help: One pound of unshelled almonds yields about 1 cup of shelled kernels; one pound of filberts about 1-1/3 cups; 1 pound of peanuts about 2 cups; 1 pound of pecans almost 1 1/2 cups; 1 pound of English walnuts a little more than 1 1/2 cups halved kernels; and one pound of black walnuts about 1/2 cup broken kernels.

Marks the beginning of a New Year, but more important than that it is the corner stone of a new structure—a new life in a war-free world. The blue prints have been drawn; the building begun. Under the pressure of war scientists gave us the greatest discoveries of all time . . . discoveries that you must now convert into useful tools for better peacetime living. Yes, you, Mr. and Mrs. America, you are the work man. Reconversion is a big job, one that can only be accomplished by cooperation; by every one working together whether it is at a welding machine in a factory or behind a desk in an office. There can be no let down . . . no shirking on the part of any one individual if the products for a better life and the money for which to buy them are to be produced and enjoyed by all.

MAY THIS COMING NEW YEARS DAY BRING YOU THE BEST OF ALL GOOD THINGS FOR ALL TIME—PEACE and CONTENTMENT, HAPPINESS and HEALTH.

The white purity of newly fallen snow changes the ordinary into the unusual, drab scenes into ones of beauty. Unfortunately such natural cleanliness lasts for only a short time. Man does it better in some ways, through the use of electricity. No cleaner method of cooling, air-conditioning, refrigeration, or lighting is known than electricity. It offers the housewife the utopian goal of cleanliness without drudgery. You'll want to modernize your living with some of the electric appliances that are now coming on the market.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS . . .

By FRANK R. KENT.

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

MR. WALLACE TO RUN?

Washington, Dec. 22. There recently have been disseminated in the press and over the air various forecasts concerning resignations from Mr. Truman's Cabinet. Some of these predictions are well founded. The resignations of Secretary of War Patterson and Secretary of the Navy Forrestal, of course, have been pending for some time. With the war over, both want to get back to private life.

Nor is there any reason for surprise that after 13 years of service Mr. Ickes, at his age, should want to retire. However, concerning Secretary of Labor Schwelmbach, Secretary of the Treasury Vinson and Secretary of Commerce Wallace, reports of their anxiety to retire seem somewhat premature. As to Mr. Schwelmbach, it is alleged that he is "not happy" in his job. But that seems an inadequate reason for quitting it when the department problems are of greater importance than ever before. Mr. Schwelmbach certainly wants the job to start with and those who know him best believe he intends to keep it.

About Mr. Vinson, it is asserted that he wants to retire in order to run for the Senate next year from Kentucky. This seems an almost incredible idea. For one thing, Mr. Vinson already has established such a record for instability in the matter of holding important posts, that to relinquish another so soon—and of his own initiative—would certainly do him no good. For another, to go from the Treasury Secretaryship to the Senate would seem a step back, not forward. For a third, while Mr. Vinson might be assured of the Democratic senatorial nomination, he could not be assured of election.

Thus, the report concerning Mr. Vinson is not easy to credit, though it has been put out by some quite knowledgeable people. Those who know Mr. Vinson best, however, dismiss it as absurd. That, they say, is not the way he plays the great game of politics. The most interesting report of all, however, is that of the Henry Wallace resignation. The thing that gives it substance is that it emanates from sources undoubtedly close to Mr. Truman and is believed by them. It is also held significant that these Truman intimates believe in the reasons alleged for the Wallace retirement—twice, that the CIO and its PAC (Mr. Murray and Mr. Hillman) have broken with the President, want to run Mr. Wallace against him for the 1948 nomination or to use him to head a third-party ticket.

This, of course, makes no more sense politically than many of Mr. Wallace's pet ideas do economically. Unless all political history is to be discarded, given his health, the only thing that can prevent Mr. Truman's nomination by the Democrats in 1948 to succeed himself, would be his own refusal to run—a most unlikely contingency, indeed. The effort of anyone to defeat him in the convention would seem silly. But for the CIO to try to beat Mr. Truman in a Democratic convention with Mr. Wallace would seem the limit of foolishness.

As to the other suggestion, the futility of third parties has been so often and consistently demonstrated in the country that it is difficult to take this one seriously. The utmost the CIO and Mr. Wallace could hope from such an adventure would be to throw the election to the Republicans—and the chances are, unless the election were strangely close, they could not poll enough votes to do that. Considering these things, it is strange, indeed, that any of Mr. Truman's friends should take stock in the notion that Mr. Wallace contemplates running against him as the CIO candidate or that the CIO politicians really have such a plan.

The more level-headed of the Truman "inner circle" laugh at the idea. That Mr. Wallace is a willing CIO stooge and capable of almost any degree of political childishness they do not deny. But that a serious anti-Truman candidate can be made of him strains credulity. They regard the report as based on irresponsible talk from disgruntled left wingers, at the moment, mad with Mr. Truman but with no place really to go. OF CHRISTIANS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 19:24-28.

GOLDEN TEXT—The same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon Him.—Romans
8:32

Fellowship is impossible where there is prejudice and intolerance. The world is full of it even now, after we have fought a global war to stop such inhumanity of man to man.

It would be a surprise even to some Christian people to learn that "God is no respecter of persons," that with Him a man is not received because he is of a particular race, color, education or social position.

God created all men. He loves all men. Christ died for all men, and every Christian ought to be desperately concerned that all men should hear about their Saviour and come to know the love of God.

The church of Christ has its greatest opportunity now to show that the things it professes to believe actually work in the relationship of man to man. They will work if we will only let them! Our lesson presents:

I. Principle—God Is No Respector of Persons (vv. 24, 35).

Peter had learned about God's love for the Gentiles by the vision given him concerning Cornelius. (Read Acts 10:1-33.)

Peter was a Jew, and God now used this vision to teach him a much needed lesson about the carrying of the gospel to the Gentiles. The Jews were fond still are—let us remember it! God's chosen people. However, they were not chosen for their own comfort, convenience or glory, but that they might be channels for the outflowing of God's blessing to all nations.

Cornelius was typical of those in every nation who are ready for the preaching of the gospel. He was a God-fearing, righteous man, but nonetheless in need of redemption. God brought this man, who was ready to receive the message, together with the man Peter, who was prepared to preach it, and the result was salvation.

Whatever it may be that keeps us from carrying the gospel to all nations, we ought to recognize it, and put it aside. It may be race prejudice, or it may be an equally deadly indifference to the needs of others. Let us, like Peter, go to them and open our mouths (v. 34) to proclaim Christ.

II. Practice—Jesus Did Good to All (vv. 36-41).

The attributes of God are always active. He not only is good, He does good. So the principle, "no respecter of persons," is perfectly exemplified in our Lord Jesus who "went about doing good and healing all that were oppressed of the devil," and we may well place the emphasis on the word "all."

The death of Christ for their sins (v. 38), His resurrection from the dead for their justification (v. 40), the coming judgment for sin (v. 42), and the remission of sins in His name—these are the essentials of Peter's message.

Note how plain is the truth. Jesus has come and has wrought redemption for all who will believe. Now we must choose whether we want Him to be our Judge or our Redeemer. Either He is your Saviour, or He will be your Judge. (John 3:17, 18.)

The proclamation of this message of redemption was never completed, even "while Peter yet spake these words, the Holy Spirit fell upon them all" (v. 44). Blessed interruption! Would that we might have more like it in our churches and Bible schools!

This leads us to our last point, namely, that we have a

III. Privilege—We Are to Preach to All People (vv. 42, 43).

Yes, it is a command (Matt. 28:19, 20), but it is also an unestimated privilege to be called of God to tell all nations about the One in whom they have "remission of sins."

Let us preach that message. Book reviews, political addresses, discussion of civic or social problems will not bring the result. Forums, clubs, discussion groups, unless they have for their subject the Word of God, need not expect anything like this to happen.

Preaching of the Word of God concerning the person and work of Christ, whether it be in a home (like that of Cornelius) or in a great cathedral (and thank God, some of them do have such preaching), will result in some soul finding Christ and receiving the Holy Spirit.

It is worthy of note that these believers gave evidence of their new-found spiritual life by magnifying God, obeying His word, and testifying to others. It is to the credit of Peter and his companions that they recognized the workings of God's grace in the lives of these Gentiles.

May we also be quick to see, appreciate and encourage every true gospel work, whether it be among our own people or with some other race, whether in our church or in some humble cottage. "God is no respecter of persons."

Production administrator J. D. Small, said the government would see to it that "a fair share" of homes built last year would sell for less than $10,000.
